GIVEN CHAIR

Former City Messenger Joseph D. Wellington was surprised last Saturday morning at City Hall, when Mayor Charles E. Hatfield presented him with a large arm chair, a table, two packs of cards and two boxes of cigars. The gifts were from Mr. Wellington's former associates in City Hall who wished to show in this manner their regard and affection for "Uncle Joe." Mr. Wellington who has learned to smoke and to play solitaire since he was 80 years of age, will be able to enjoy these gifts for the rest of his life. City Physician Fred M. Lowe was chairman of the committee in charge of the presentation.

NEW ELECTRIC SIGNAL TOWER.

The Boston & Albany Railroad has just put into service at Riverside a new signal tower of the all-electric interlocking type which governs four miles of track—two miles in each direction from Riverside. This tower contains 100 levers and operates all switches and signals for the four main line tracks, the two Highland Circuit main tracks, the Newton Lower Falls main track as well as all switches and signals for all yard and engine house tracks leading to the main tracks. It is manned by three shifts of two men each and there is also one day and one night repairman constantly on duty. It is one of five similar towers erected and now in operation on the Boston & Albany Railroad, the other four being at Boylston St., Boston; Allston; West Springfield and State Line.

In the new tower at Riverside owing to the fact that electric traction is used on the Newton Lower Falls Branch it was necessary to install alternating current track circuits for the Lower Falls Branch.

A unique feature of the plant is a "track model" the operation of which shows the signalmen in the tower the exact portion of track occupied by trains in passing through the signal tower limits. All signals in the new tower are of the latest improved up-and-down, normal danger, type and are electrically lighted. The construction of this tower has been under way for four months and was made without any delays to traffic. The new tower and interlocking installation and signals cost altogether about $75,000.

MARY LISCOMB NEALEY.

After an illness of seven weeks, Mary Liscomb Nealey, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Allison Nealey, passed into the life eternal, on Saturday, April 1st, aged 7 years. She was born in New York City on the 5th of May, 1903. The family have been residing in Newton for about three years, having their home at 16 Garden road.

"Polly" as she was known to her family and friends and playmates, was a singularly bright and lovable spirit. Her nature seemed to be all sunshine, and she had a winning smile for every one. Seldom does any child wind the tendrils of love and affectionate regard around so many hearts.

Not only here in Newton, but also at MacMahan Island, where the family have their summer home, her presence brought universal sunshine and smiles, and her death will bring sorrow to all who knew her, here and there. The heart felt sympathy of all their friends goes out to her bereaved parents.

The Rev. Dr. Laurens MacLure, rector of Grace Church, officiated at the burial service, and the interment was in the Liscomb family lot, at the Rural Cemetery, in Worcester, Mass., on Monday, April 3rd.

COMMISSIONER RESIGNS

Changes in City Hall are coming thick and fast. Public Buildings Commissioner George H. Elder, who has held office since 1895 having tendered his resignation to Mayor Hatfield to take effect April 1st. This is the fifth official change in City Hall since last July, the list including former City Auditor Otis, and Overseer of the Poor Fowle who died last summer, and former City Clerk Kingsbury and former City Messenger Wellington who resigned or declined re-election this year.

Mr. Elder was appointed inspector of buildings by Mayor Bothfield in 1895 when the office was first created and under the present city charter, which took effect in 1898, he was appointed Public Buildings Commissioner. Mr. Elder has been in poor health for the past two years and for the past two months has been seriously ill at his home on Davis street, West Newton, and that is his reason for resigning.

Mayor Hatfield has recommended that the duties of this department be consolidated with other departments and will await action in this direction by the board of aldermen.

MRS. E. CORRINNA WHEELER.

Mrs. E. Corrinna Wheeler was first known to me on entering Amherst in 1876. In order to assist in putting her son Edgar through college she took roomers. Among those whom she thus took into her home during the first two years of the college course were Mr. Lawrence Abbott, son of Dr. Lyman Abbott, and now chief owner and editor of The Outlook. Mr. Murphy who has charge of John D. Rockefeller's benefactions, and Rev. Raymond Robbins now head of the Episcopal Seminary of New York City. During the last two years of the college course she took a smaller house, where Rev. William Cullen Taylor of Keeseville, N. Y., and myself were the only roomers aside from her son.

In those days Mrs. Wheeler reminded me, in personal appearance, of Queen Victoria. She was exceedingly vivacious, witty, and of profound moral convictions. She made a deeper impression on my life than any other person at Amherst. Later it was my privilege to visit her and Edgar occasionally at their home in Auburndale, and afterward to keep up my acquaintance with her from the time of Edgar's death in October, 1885, until the present time.

Her interest and knowledge of American history and early New England institutions, and her information about current topics, always made her an interesting correspondent and friend. She especially asked that we should not mourn her departure. Those who really knew her, especially in her prime, will rejoice that she has passed on to a freer, happier life, but will never cease to remember with pleasure that they have passed under her influence. Her habits and peculiarities, due in large part to the loneliness and sorrow of her more recent years, prevented many from realizing what she had been at her best, or appreciating her real worth.

PI ETA THEATRICALS.

The Pi Eta Society of Harvard will give one of its annual performances this year in Players Hall, West Newton, on Wednesday April 12. Mr. J. C. B. Perkins of West Newton has one of the character parts in a musical comedy in 3 acts entitled "The Cantelopers." Many society ladies of the city are included in the list of patronesses for the West Newton performance.

THE NEWTON CLUB

Saturday, April fifth.

Stag Night, Dutch Supper at 10 p. m. Qualifying Round—Boston Pin Individual Championship, 8 p. m. Wednesday, April twelfth. Ladies and Gentlemen's Bowling.

The new committees are keeping up the interest in all Departments of Club work. The Gilt Edge Team bowling of Saturday last brought all alleys into play till a late hour when it was found first prize was won by F. Harrington with a fine exhibition of consistent high string rolling. G. B. H. Macomber and Jarvis Lamson took second and third prizes.

The House Tournament closes with a win for the Stokers, Capt. Blair, one of the best 5 men teams the club has had judging by its high scores.

Newton Team keeps its lead in the Interborough Club Matches. In the Ladies' Tournament Mrs. Eddy's team leads with Mrs. Blair's team a close second. The storm of Wednesday evening did not dampen the enthusiasm of the Mixed Bowlers. The alleys were all occupied. Mrs. O. W. Walker took prize for high string and Mrs. H. J. Nichols for best 3 strings.

Next Wednesday night there will be contests between teams of women against the men.

In classes A, B, C, D for men best averages are held by C. F. Schipper 96; G. B. H. Macomber 92; J. M. Allen 86; J. F. Dever, Jr., 95.

The Ladies' Whist on Wednesday 5th was very successful in spite of the weather. Prizes in order given were taken by Mrs. Righter, Mrs. Nichols, Mrs. Lyon, Mrs. Malcolm and Mrs. Motter, a guest. The Club's liberality in number and value of its trophies was a subject of remark.

Mr. J. K. Park and Dr. C. H. Veo presented a number of volumes for the new library, the cases for which are being rapidly filled.

The new Club Bulletin is well received and promises to be an interesting feature.

Stag night April 8th is expected to tax the club's space as a full house is looked for.

The Entertainment and Dutch Supper at 10 p. m. will keep things moving for the rest of the week at least. Curfew at midnight, which must be observed.

The Tennis Tournament planned for June is already rousing interest among men and women players.

EASTER.

Photographs of the beautiful marble bust of Dr. Hornbrooke would make a fitting Easter gift for absent friends. They can be purchased at Hahn's Drug Store and can be sent by mail.

W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. S. L. Eaton, 340 Lake Avenue, Newton Highlands on Thursday, April 13. Mrs. Abby Rolfe of Concord, former president of the W. C. T. U. will hold a mother's meeting.

Let me live in my house by the side of the road.
Where the race of men go by.
They are good, they are bad, they are weak, they are strong.
Wise, foolish—so am I.
Then why should I sit in the corner's seat.
Or hurt the cynic's ban?
Let me live in my house by the side of the road.
And be a friend of man.
Sam Walter Foss.

SCHOOL GARDENS

We are looking to the public spirited people of Newton to furnish the means to carry on the good work of the School Gardens this summer. The children benefit not only by being occupied in a healthy way during the vacation days, but they are being educated along agricultural lines and in a small way are interested in one of the great questions of the day.

One of the Committee.

April 5, 1911.

Contributions may be sent to Mrs. L. S. Drake, chairman, 24 Bennington street, Newton, or to any member of the committee: Miss Fannie Adams, Mrs. George Angier, Mrs. J. F. Bothfield, Mrs. Joseph L. Colby, Mrs. Frank A. Day, Mrs. Henry O. Marcy, Jr., Mrs. Charles O. Tucker, Mrs. Fred H. Tucker.

IN MEMORIAM.

For twenty years the Every Saturday Club has enjoyed the uplift of Mr. Albert Perry Walker's broad scholarship, rare artistic insight, and high ideals of life. During all this time he has been a prominent and valued member of the Club; one to whom we looked with confidence for sound literary judgment in our study of poet, essayist and dramatist.

Mr. Walker's contributions to the work of the club have been not only clear, forceful, and instructive, but couched in such language as to make them a delight to his hearers. His poetic and musical talent, as well as his kindly but keen wit, have added much to the social enjoyment of the Club.

Great, indeed, is our loss in his death; but sweet, also, and rich will be our memory of him. We shall always feel of him as Tennyson wrote of his friend:

"I hold it true, whatever befall,
I feel it when I sorrow most,
'Tis better to have loved and lost
Than never to have loved at all"

We as a club wish to put on record at this time our high regard for him as a man, scholar, friend and fellow-member; our deep sense of personal loss in his death; our profound gratitude for the enrichment which has come to our lives through his life among us; and our sincere sympathy for his wife and relatives in their bereavement.

ALTARS CONSECRATED

At the church of Our Lady Saturday morning, the three new altars, which have been under construction for some time, were consecrated by Rt. Rev. Joseph G. Anderson, auxiliary bishop of Boston, assisted by Rev. Michael Dolan, the pastor, Rev. James F. Kelly, Rev. Aloysius S. Malone and Rt. Rev. Mgr. Michael J. Splaine, pastor of the cathedral of the Holy Cross, Boston.

The altars were made in Cararra Italy, from the plans of Mr. Houghton of Brooklyn, N. Y. The carving of the altars is very beautiful and the light from overhead gives a fine effect to the work. The church has been remodelled during the year. New pews have been added, and there is a new altar rail, a new staircase, a new brass rail outside the church and new candlesticks for the altar.

FOR NEWTON HOSPITAL.

The members of The Highland Glee Club are making unusual preparations for an interesting concert on Tuesday evening, April 18th at Bray Hall, for this splendid charity.

It is hoped by all the friends of the hospital that the good people of our city will set aside the evening for this purpose.

The price of tickets is seventy-five cents, and same can be obtained from members of the club or from Miss Riddle at the Newton Hospital or from Dr. R. W. Guiler of Newton Highlands.

The proceeds above the actual expenses will go to the Newton Hospital and thus the object merits the support of all.

Castle Square Theatre—There is no reason to be astonished at the success of "The End of the Bridge" at the Castle Square. Among plays of recent years it has no rival for its straightforward plot and vigorous characters, and it will therefore begin its sixth week on Monday with every sign of continued popularity. It is evident that those who go to see it, remain to appreciate it, for it receives the undivided attention of every audience, and enthusiasm and applause are continuously frequent. With the close of the coming week it will have received no less than seventy-two performances on the Castle Square stage. Every player helps to make for the success of "The End of the Bridge." Mr. Craig is an excellent Dr. Garret, Miss Young a delightful Joan Mannerling, while Miss McDannell's Peter is one of the most charming little boys ever seen on the stage. The other roles are well acted by Mr. Hassell, Mr. Walker, Miss Colcord and Mr. Hickey.

The housewife is known by the bread she bakes.

MR. JAMES L. RICHARDS.

The following article was published last Saturday in the Boston Republican: James Lorin Richards—man of large affairs—broad vision and clear reason—progressive student of industrial efficiency, with a genius for formulating far-reaching policies—a pioneer in discerning the proper relation existing between the public service agencies and the people—an executive head of two important public utilities, and demonstrating an equal grasp and knowledge in these two differing fields of service.

No business man in New England has grown in influence and power more rapidly and consistently than Mr. Richards. He has travelled no royal road to fortune and fame. He is where he is by sheer force of his character and industry. The public know him as the efficient head of the Boston Gas Company, and as an important factor in the development of the street railway system in Massachusetts. In these two fields of service he has shown masterful ability. Had his ability been tested in other and different lines of industry, his success would have been equally great. We say this because he possesses that high order of talent which is destined to win wherever and whenever it may be put to the test. Mingled with these strong positive qualities are the fine qualities of his nature which make him one of the most attractive men in the business world. These attractive personal qualities have won for him an army of friends, none of whom are envious of the success he has achieved, and all of whom are gratified to witness a success which has been won on absolute merit.

NINETY CENT GAS

The Newton and Watertown Gas Light Company announce a reduction in the price of gas of 5 cents a thousand cubic feet making the rate 90 cents per 1000 cubic feet. The change will take effect on May first. The Company also abolishes its present custom of making a gross rate with the net rate subject to payment within 15 days of date of bill. Both of these changes will be appreciated by the patrons of the Company in this city.

SHORT SESSION.

Another short and uneventful meeting of the aldermen was held Monday evening with Aldermen Barker, Higgins, Leonard and Woods absent.

Hearings were held on petitions of the Telephone company for attachments on Kenrick st., Pulsifer st., and Derby st., which were unopposed. The petition of the Edison Co. for pole on Newell road and Auburndale avenue was opposed by Mr. C. H. Tainter who said that this would make 3 poles within 25 feet of each other at this point and that Mr. Fernald, who wanted electricity could be reached by a wire across his own premises further up the street. Mr. Fernald said he had expended considerable money in that neighborhood and thought he ought to be allowed to use electric light. Mr. Howard for the Company stated that Mr. Fernald's house was wired for entrance at the front. No one appeared on the order to change the sewer easement off Watertown Street and this was subsequently adopted.

Mayor Hatfield sent in the resignation of Public Buildings Commissioner George H. Elder to take effect April 1st. He also favored the abolition of the Public Buildings department, recommending that the care of the public grounds be given the Forestry department, the care of school buildings given to the school department, and the other duties of the department given to the city engineer.

The board of health favored a sewer in Cemetery avenue and North street, and the Eliot Trustees, thru Mr. H. B. Day reported that they had no jurisdiction over the care and maintenance of the Eliot memorial.

The invitation of the Charles Ward Post G. A. R. to attend a memorial service at Temple hall, Sunday, April 9 was accepted, after Mr. Henry Hayne had been given the opportunity to add a personal touch to the formal invitation.

Petitions were received from E. E. Church for permit to move building Commonwealth ave., from Dr. G. L. West in favor and from Murphy et al against sewer in Homer street and Cemetery ave., from Michael Hand for personal injuries, from Thomas Garrity for personal injuries, from M. T. Pratt to extend time for payment of sewer assessment in ward 4. R. F. Sanderson for sewer in Brae Burn road. I. R. Learned for concrete sidewalk under betterment on Pearl st., and the usual batch of petitions for licenses as Common Victuallers, Junk collectors, sixth class liquor licenses, billiard pool tables and bowling alleys, intelligence offices, express wagons, liquor transportation permits, wagons, innholders, power boats, amusement park, and dealer in second hand articles.

On recommendation of committees leave to withdraw was given on petitions for sewers in Brae Burn road and Tranelo road, inexpedient was voted on recommendation of the mayor for a new bridge over the Charles river at Commonwealth avenue, a hearing ordered for April 17 on concrete sidewalk on Watertown road. The Telephone company was allowed to remove a pole from Walnut street, and to place a pole on Elmwood st., and license as a private detective granted G. S. Carr and as an auctioneer to James W. Penno.

An order to authorize street sprinkling for 1911 was referred.

The board adjourned at 8:10.

In the saving of time, trouble and labor and in superior cooking ability, no other range can compare with them.

The Single Damper (patented) is the only perfect fire and oven control; one motion—slide the knob to "kindle," "bake" or "check," and the range does the rest.

The Two Hods in the base (patented) is a wonderful trouble-saving feature. One Hod for ashes, instead of the old, clumsy ash pan; the other Hod for coal.

The Oven with its cup-joint flues is heated all over alike; no "cold corners," no "scorching spots."

The Patented Grates save trouble and money.

FATHER O'TOOLE DEAD.
Rev. Laurence J. O'Toole, pastor of St. Bernard's Catholic church at West Newton, and one of the most popular priests in the city died early Tuesday evening at the parochial residence on Washington street, after a long illness. Father O'Toole has been in poor health for a number of years and suffered a shock of paralysis about a year ago, although he recovered sufficiently to make his annual trip to Ireland last summer.

Rev. Fr. Laurence J. O'Toole was born in Dublin, Ire., in April 1842. He received his elementary education in the national schools of his native city. When a young man he came to America and entered Georgetown college, from which he graduated in 1872.

He then entered St. Joseph's seminary in Troy, N. Y., where he was ordained a priest May 22, 1875. His first appointment was as assistant in the cathedral of the Holy Cross, Boston. After serving there as curate eight years he was made rector, which position he filled four years.

Fr. O'Toole was appointed pastor of St. Bernard's church in West Newton in June, 1886. Here his energy and zeal won him many friends, both Catholic and Protestant. Under his direction the parish steadily increased in size and importance.

During recent years Rev. Charles J. Gallagher and Rev. Francis Cronin have been Fr. O'Toole's assistants in St. Bernard's parish, one of the most flourishing in the city.

Until ill health prevented him, Fr. O'Toole traveled considerably in recent years, both in this country and abroad. The body was viewed by hundreds of people as it lay in the parochial residence, until it was removed to the church yesterday afternoon where the office of the dead was chanted by resident and visiting priests. The church was completely filled with mourners, among whom were Archbishop O'Connell, the body was carried to the church by these pall bearers, Messrs. W. H. Magne, T. F. Gannon, J. F. Gallagher, J. F. Hargelton, Dr. P. F. Coody, James Cavanaugh, Dennis O'Donnell and Alderman G. M. Cox.

At eight o'clock this morning there was a high mass for the children of the parish.

The church was crowded to witness the solemn requiem high mass at ten o'clock in which Right Rev. Mgr. W. P. McQuaid of St. James church, Boston, was celebrant, Rev. A. M. Roche of Watertown, deacon and Rev. D. C. Riordan of Newton Centre, was sub-deacon.

Following the mass the body was taken to Calvary cemetery, Waltham, escorted by members of the Knights of Columbus, Catholic Order of Foresters, A. O. Hibernians, Newton Catholic Club, and St. Bernard's Aid society in charge of Mr. James R. Conlin, assisted by the officers of these organizations as aids.

Making Insurance Maps.

In making insurance maps certain features are considered essential, and the growth of the system has proved their wisdom and changed them only as regards the amount of detail that has been incorporated. Of first importance were the colors to show the different materials used in the construction of a building. Naturally red seemed a proper color to signify brick and yellow to signify wood. These colors have always been employed for these materials. Other colors have been added from time to time, thus blue for stone, gray for iron, etc.

In fixing signs and characters for such details as stairways, fire escapes, dumb waiter shafts, etc., a principal object was to make them plain and distinct. They must be easily understood by an underwriter without reference to any key or marginal footnotes.

This object has been carried out, with the result that when these insurance maps are examined by an insurance man today each sign or character has such an individuality of its own that it can be easily distinguished and is not confused with another.—Cassier's Magazine.

The Word "Fudge."

"Fudge" is a word with a history. There are prosaic etymologists, and there always are, who derive it from a Gaelic word meaning deception, but Isaac Disraeli's view is much more interesting. He derives it from a certain Captain Fudge, who seems to have been a marine Munchausen. "You fudge it" is said to have been his crew's equivalent to the modern "Rats!" In a collection of some papers of William Crouch, the Quaker, published in 1712 it is recorded that one Degory Marshall informed Crouch that "in the year 1404 we were sentenced for banishment to Jamaica by Judges Hyde and Twisden, and our number was fifty-five. We were put on board the ship Black Eagle. The master's name was Fudge, by some called Lying Fudge."—London Standard.

The Leipzig Book Fair.

Leipzig is the largest publication center in the world. More books and periodicals are printed there than anywhere else, and more people are engaged in making and using printers' supplies than in London, New York, Berlin or Paris. Many of the orders for these publications come from England, France, Austria and other countries because the mechanical work can be done in Leipzig much cheaper than elsewhere. More than half of the transactions in books take place at the Leipzig book fair, which occurs every year at the jubilee, the first week in Easter, when booksellers and publishers from all parts of Germany assemble to compare and balance accounts and to make contracts for the next year.

A Baboon From Carlyle.

I used to see Carlyle when I lived as a child in Chelsea. I regarded him with extraordinary awe and fear. One day I was sent to post a letter. I suppose I was older, though unconscious, as always, of anything ahead. I came into Carlyle. The impact laid me flat on the pavement, where I lay for some minutes, though soothed eventually by England's great thinker. And then—this is the point of the story—Carlyle dived into his pockets, produced a halfpenny and said loudly, "Here is a baboon for Bobby." I have the halfpenny to this day. When Mr. Carlyle died I was put into deep mourning. He was the first and perhaps the most interesting of all my street acquaintances.—Robert Ross in London Bystander.

Self Reliance.

The spirit of self help is the root of all genuine growth in the individual, and, exhibited in the lives of many, it constitutes the true source of national vigor and strength. Help from without is often enfeebling in its effects, but help from within invariably invigorates. Whatever is done for men or classes to a certain extent takes away the stimulus and necessity of doing for themselves, and where men are subjected to overdependence and overgovernment the inevitable tendency is to render them comparatively helpless.—Samuel Smiles.

A Field at Home.

A Boston gentleman was showing a West African who is interested in missionary work a number of photographs.

"What is this?" asked the visitor, gazing in wonder at one of them. "Oh, that's a snapshot taken during a football scrimmage at the stadium." "But has your church no missionaries to send among these people?" was the quick rejoinder.—Boston Transcript.

CLOTHING of DISTINCTION

To be distinctive, Men's Clothing must be DIFFERENT from the usual lines that are worn. Not different to the point of being loud or extravagant in cut or materials, but with the style, quality of fabric and fit so clearly defined that they spell character and worth in every line.

Such clothing is produced by MACULAR PARKER COMPANY, and the unvarying excellence of their apparel for Men, Young Men, and Boys has been accomplished by strict adherence to those principles of Clothes Making that have made their product distinctive in the fullest sense, and the most economical, everything considered, that it is possible to obtain.

In the Boys' and Youths' Department the little fellows may be supplied at moderate cost.

FIREMEN BUSY.

The usual spring carelessness has begun to show itself and the fire department was called out ten times on Monday mostly for brush fires. The first alarm was sounded at 11.02 from box 85 for a grass fire in the vicinity of the New Boston college, the next alarm came in shortly for a fire in the stable of C. F. Davis on Pleasant street, caused by sparks from a brush fire, the damage being slight. At 12 an alarm was sounded from box 45 for a slight blaze on the roof of a house owned by Thomas Jones, corner of Greenough and Auburn streets, the cause also being from sparks from a brush fire. A call alarm brought the department to the Dugan estate, 48 Chandler place for a grass fire, followed a little later an alarm from box 6 for another grass fire on the Hyde estate. At 2.30 the department received a call from box 321, which was rung in twice for the same fire near the gravel pit near River street. Two false alarms were sounded, one at 3.05 and the other at 9.25, each making a long run for the horses.

On Tuesday there were three alarms. Box 23 was sounded for a fire in the carpenter shop of S. K. Billings in the rear of 198 Walnut street. The cause of the fire was from sparks of a rubbish fire nearby. The damage was slight. In the afternoon the department extinguished a grass fire on land of Frank Proctor, Eliot street, and later responded to box 711 on a false alarm.

There is always a way. The thing is to find the right way. By constant attention and experiment, we have found the way to make a house Heating Boil or. The "WINCHESTER" Heater, made for Steam or Hot Water, fulfills our expectations. SMITH & THAYER CO., 236 Congress St., Boston, Mass.

An Epic of the Backwoods.

One of the epics of the backwoods, told by John G. Neillhardt in "The River and I," is the adventure of old Hugh Glass, who was terribly mauled by a grizzly on the Missouri, so terribly that the rest of the expedition pushed on, leaving a young friend with several others to see the end. "It seemed plain that he would have to go soon. So the young friend and the others left the old man in the wilderness to finish the job by himself. They took his weapons and hastened after the main party, for the country was hostile."

"But one day old Glass woke up and got one of his eyes open. And when he saw how things stood he swore he would live merely for the sake of killing his false friend. He crawled to a spring close by, where he found a bush of ripe bullberries. He waited day after day for strength and finally started out to crawl a small matter of a hundred miles to the nearest fort. And he did it too! Also he found his friend after much wandering—and forgave him."

Always Feminine.

A young chap was walking along a business street with a very pretty girl when he happened to glance into a couple of windows where the latest styles of men's overcoats and suits were displayed. The girl noticed it. She stopped and exclaimed: "What a dandy overcoat! Why don't you get one of those, Bob? You'll look fine in side of that."

She looked at everything in that window, and the young chap was delighted at her interest in men's clothes.

"You're all right, Grace," said he. "That's what I like about you. Most girls would rather look at lingerie waists than at a man's overcoat and suits."

The girl laughed. "Well, Bob," said she, "to be perfectly honest, the mirrors in that window are something to cry for. I was trying to see if my hat was on straight!"

The Merits of "Angelick Snuff."

Angelick snuff, the most noble composition in the world, removing all manner of disorders of the head and brain, easing the most excruciating pain in a moment, taking away all swimming and giddiness proceeding from vapors, etc.; also drowsiness, sleeplessness and other idiosyncratic effects, perfectly curing deafness to admiration and all humors and soreness in the eyes, etc. Corroborates the brain, comforts the nerves and revives the spirits. Its admirable efficacy, all the above mentioned diseases has been experienced above a thousand times and very justly causes it to be esteemed the most beneficial snuff in the world. Price 1s. a paper, with directions. Sold only at Mr. Payne's, St. Paul's churchyard, near Chancery. Advertisement in London Paper, Aug. 6, 1711.

Brignoli in a Tamper.

On one occasion Brignoli, the noted teacher, went on the stage to see Brignoli, the famous singer, whom he found pacing up and down like a madman, humming over his part.

"Why, Brig, what is the matter with you? Are you nervous?" he asked.

"Yes, I am nervous," was the reply as he walked harder and faster than ever.

"But, Brig, you ought not to be nervous. I've heard you sing the part 200 times. I heard you sing it thirty years ago."

"Thirty years ago! Who are you that should know so much?"

"Who am I? You know who I am, and I know who you are."

"Very well; you know what I am, but I am sure you do not know what you are, and if you wish I will tell you. You are a fool!"

Mr. Baggie—Confound that tailor. These trousers are a little too long. Mrs. Baggie—How much shall I turn them up? Mr. Baggie—About half an inch.

LASELL.

In connection with the cooking classes at Lasell Seminary a novel plan has been introduced to enable each student to get a practical insight into the various details of household economics. The students are divided into classes and each class conducts a kitchen and dining room. There are five positions—a breakfast cook, a dinner cook, a pastry cook, a hostess and a waitress. If there is a large class a dishwasher is added. The hostess is responsible for the planning of the menus and must purchase all the food. She must arrange the meals so that the cost per person each day shall not exceed a fixed sum. This varies from twenty cents to eighty cents a day. At the end of a week the hostess must file a report with the teacher in charge of the class. The girls change their position by rotation, so that at the end of five or six weeks each girl has had a thorough training in the work of running a kitchen.

The senior cooking class at Lasell finished its work this week, and after the spring vacation the girls will commence their applied housekeeping course, which includes household sanitation, household management and household location. At present there are eighty-six girls in the cooking and housekeeping classes.

The annual pupils musical rehearsal was held last evening at Lasell Seminary in Auburndale and was attended by a large number of the friends of the young ladies. A program consisting of both vocal and instrumental music was given by the students and their efforts won much applause. The program consisted of chorus by the Orphean club; piano solo by Miss Eunice Cox; piano solo by Miss Cora Nicholson; vocal solo by Miss Edith Waller; piano solo by Miss Elsie Holtzman; vocal solo by Miss Genevieve Evans; piano solo by Miss Clara Parker; vocal solo by Miss Marion Flynn; piano solo by Miss Elizabeth Brandon; violin solo by Miss Lillian Westerlund; assisted by Miss Marion Ordway as pianist; piano solo by Miss Ida Hammond; vocal solo by Miss Agnes Adelsdorf; piano quartet by the Misses Nina Dietz, Gladys Dudley, Margaret Haley and Miss Edna MacDonald.

The annual Washington and Philadelphia trip of the Lasell students will start on Friday when about 15 young ladies accompanied by one of the teachers as a chaperon will visit the capitol and will also attend the special session of Congress.

—Miss Henrietta Fredericks of Park avenue is back from school in Farmington, Conn., for the spring vacation.

—The meeting of the Shakespeare Class, under the leadership of Rev. Harry Lutz, will be changed from Good Friday to another date when the study of Hamlet will be continued.

—The annual meeting of the Channing Alliance will be held Tuesday in the parlors of Channing church. There will be reports from the various departments, election of officers and luncheon.

—The wedding of Miss Jeanette Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Allen of Watertown, to Mr. Thomas Jefferson Ross, also of Watertown, will take place at Grace church Easter Monday evening, at 8 o'clock.

—The annual sale and entertainment of the Junior League was held Wednesday afternoon and evening in the vestry of the Methodist Church. There were prettily decorated tables where candy, cake, fancy articles and aprons were on sale. The entertainment consisted of the presentation of the cradle song of all nations by the younger girls, and a play entitled "Sunbonnets," by the older girls. A good sum was realized by the league which will be used for missionary work.

99 GALEN STREET, NEWTON

A Buttered Book.

How the Rev. Mr. Johnston, a Scottish minister and the author of numerous books, succeeded in getting one of his works reviewed by Alexander Russell, the distinguished editor of the Scotsman, is told by the writer of "Famous Editors."

A member of Mr. Johnston's congregation was an old and valued servant in Mr. Russell's family. When the preacher published his new book he asked this member to bring it under the notice of her master, with the request to review it in the columns of the Scotsman. Glad to be of service to her master, the good woman lost no time in making her wish known to the celebrated editor and next morning placed "The Gospel Roll" beside his breakfast cup.

When at breakfast Mr. Russell took up the book and remarked, with a merry twinkle in his eye, "Helen, this is an awful dry roll which you have given me this morning."

"Perhaps it is, sir," the servant quickly replied, "but you can butter it well on both sides."

Next morning an excellent review appeared.

Conkling and Thurman.

Senator Roscoe Conkling was once addressing the senate in an impassioned manner and seemed to direct his remarks to Senator Thurman. At length the latter got irritated.

"Does the senator from New York," he roared, "expect me to answer him every time he turns to me?"

For a moment Mr. Conkling hesitated, and everybody expected a terrific explosion. Then, with an air of exquisite courtesy, he replied:

"When I speak of the law I turn to the senator from Ohio as the Mussulman turns toward Mecca. I turn to him as I do to the English common law as the world's most copious fountain of human jurisprudence."

The usually decorous senate broke into a storm of applause, and the Thurman eye moistened a little. The two statesmen were the best of friends and greatly enjoyed each other's society when "off duty."

A Wetter if Not a Better Man.

A little man in the west of England rushed to the river last summer, swearing loudly that he would drown himself. When he had waded in to the depth of his waist his wife, who had followed him, seized him by the hair, and then, as a local editor described it, she led him back till he reached a place where the water was about two feet deep, where she pulled him over backward and soused him under and pulled his head up again. "Drown yourself (down) he went, leaving me to father the brats! (Another plunge.) Get drunk (another souse) and start for the river! (Another dip.) Better use the water instead of rum! (Another dip and shake of the head.) I'll earn ye to leave me a widow!" After sozzling him to her heart's content she led him out a wetter if not a better man and escorted him into the house and closed the door.

The Gordian Knot.

The famous Gordian knot was made of leather taken from some part of the harness belonging to the chariot of Gordius, king of Phrygia. It seems that this knot was so tied that the ends of the leather thong were not visible, hence the difficulty in loosening it. Many must have tried to untie it, for its fame as a "sticker" at last reached the great oracle, which declared that the lucky experimenter should be rewarded by the kingship of Persia. Alexander, trying his hand and meeting with no better success than the others, drew his sword and cut into the knot until he found the ends of it.

Right to the Point.

When the lord chief justice visited Ireland he was often entertained by a hospitable gentleman who had an old butler, who took the privilege of speaking his mind freely. On one occasion the claret did not quite meet the host's approval, so he called the ancient butler and said:

"I told you you were to put the best claret on the table. Is this the best?"

"No, sorr, it is not the best claret," replied the old fellow, "but it's the best ye've got."—London Tit-Bits.

Knew He Was Worshipped.

"In Paris Mr. Whistler and an English painter got into a very turbulent argument about Velasquez at a studio tea," said an artist. "Mr. Whistler at one point in the argument praised himself extravagantly. The Englishman, listening, sneered and said at the end: 'It's a good thing we can't see ourselves as others see us.' 'Isn't it, though?' said Mr. Whistler. 'I know in my case I should grow intolerably conceited.'"

Theology and the Thermometer.

A point of theology is raised by Sir Francis Younghusband in "India and Tibet." "An interesting detail," he says, speaking of the religion of the natives, "is that their hell is not hot, but cold. If it were hot the inhabitants of frozen Tibet would all flock there."

Clever Auntie.

Traveler—It seems wonderful that Japanese dentists can take out teeth with their fingers. Little Jack—Auntie can take out hers with her fingers—every one of 'em!

Perfection.

Perfection does not exist. To understand it is the triumph of human intelligence; to desire to possess it is the most dangerous kind of madness.—Alfred de Musset.

Sin every day takes out a patent for some new invention.—Whipple.

Newton & Watertown
Gas Light Company

Newton, Mass.

REDUCTION IN PRICE OF GAS

On and after May 1, 1911, the price of gas in the territory supplied by the Newton & Watertown Gas Light Company, will be reduced to 90 cents net per thousand cubic feet. This reduction of 5 cents per thousand cubic feet, together with the previous reduction of 5 cents on January 1, 1910, were both made voluntarily by the Company, and make a total reduction of 10 per cent., which will represent a saving to the consumers of at least $38,000.00 per year, based upon the present output.

On and after May 1, 1911, bills will be rendered at a net rate, instead of as formerly at a gross price with discount for prompt payment.

Substantial improvements have been made in all kinds of gas appliances, and we have experts ready to advise you, free of charge, how to use gas to the best advantage.

The present management is pleased to acknowledge, with thanks, the many favorable comments received from the public generally, and we desire to state that it is our earnest endeavor to merit these expressions of confidence, and will consider it a favor in the future, as we have in the past, if you will notify us promptly if you are in any way dissatisfied with the service you are receiving from us.

Respectfully yours,

NEWTON & WATERTOWN GAS LIGHT COMPANYBy J. L. RICHARDS

POLYMNIA CONCERT.

On Monday evening, April 3, 1911, a representative audience gathered at the Newton Club to enjoy a thoroughly delightful concert, when the Polymnia presented the Grieg String Trio and Mr. Robert Hall, tenor. Mr. Hall has a voice of marked sweetness which he uses with taste and good feeling, and with expressive phrasing. In the serenade (Schubert), which Mr. Hall sang with the Polymnia, these qualities showed in the answering chorus passages.

The Trio were warm friends when they played at the last Polymnia Guest Night of last season. Most unfortunately on Monday night the position of the piano marred the ensemble effect which is usually perfectly balanced in the playing of this admirable trio, making the piano a trifle heavy. This unfortunate placing of the piano was unavoidable because of the necessity that the accompanist of the Polymnia should easily see Madame Martinez as she conducted the chorus numbers. But the work of the Grieg Trio is always distinguished by thoughtful and musicianly reading and artistic understanding, each member showing herself thoroughly an artist in her chosen instrument. The singing of the Polymnia showed ever-increasing ability to follow Madame Martinez's careful study of the works presented, and a closer attention to her skillful and inspiring baton. In promptness of attack, delicacy of shading, and breadth of tone the work of Monday night was excellent. The opening folk songs in canon form were well balanced and pleasing, while the exceedingly modern Wind Swept Wheat demanded emotional effects which Madame Martinez interpreted with true musicianly feeling, and which required unremitting watchfulness on the part of both accompanist and chorus. Miss Coxeter, at the piano, did admirable work, and showed the gain the winter's work with the Polymnia has been to her. The solo of the Wind Swept Wheat was sung by Mrs. Alice Barton Willard of Waltham. It is no small task to sing so difficult a solo as this, with its dissonances and strange intervals, and Mrs. Willard's effective singing of it was a real triumph. She is studying earnestly and conscientiously with Madame Martinez whose artistic teaching is evident in Mrs. Willard's added breadth and purity of tone, and beauty of expression.

The Bible

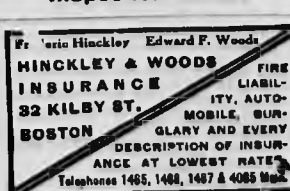

The true character of the Bible is a subject of much controversy. Hear a new point of view - a constructive one - in the lecture on "The Bible," by the Rev. William F. Wunsch, of Bath, Maine, at the Church of the New Jerusalem, Highland Avenue, Newtonville (opposite the Newton Club) next Sunday evening, at 8 o'clock. This is the final lecture of the course, "New Light on Old Problems." The public is most cordially invited. All seats will be free, and there will be no collection.

There is general complaint from our people on account of the dirty condition of our streets, and it is about time that the city authorities realized that in this respect the city is far behind its standard of ten years ago. This is probably due to the fact that the street appropriations for the past few years have been persistently and consistently reduced by the aldermen who have been face to face with the necessity of keeping the tax rate and city expenditures at the lowest possible point. With our large appropriations for schools and the impossibility of making a saving on other important departments, the street items have been the ones to suffer. Complaining citizens in this respect should take the matter up with the aldermen and endeavor to obtain the desired relief thru larger street appropriations.

The reduction of 5 cents in the price of gas together with the abolition of the gross rate, which has been in force in this city since the mind of man runneth not, will be most welcome. The Company is also to be congratulated on the fact that it makes these changes voluntarily and not under compulsion.
An improvement in the quality of the gas is now the only matter of great interest hereabouts. Any action taken by the Company to remedy this matter will also be appreciated.

It is a matter of regret that the Legislature has not seen fit to place some reasonable law on the statute books in regard to the regulation of sports on Sunday. The present laws are being broken with impunity all over the state and the more liberal observance of the Sabbath should be recognized, just for the general principle of respect for the law if for no other. Where the people will not obey an obsolete law, it should be repealed or amended.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME.

Interesting events are coming thick and fast, altho the personal bickerings of the potential candidates for the governorship next fall, Messrs Walker and N. H. White, are over emphasized in the public press. If too much of this sort of thing takes place, neither of these gentlemen will have a look in next fall.

That hardy annual, the woman's suffrage amendment to the constitution had its innings this week and failed to pass as usual. All three of the Newton representatives voted against the measure, notwithstanding the strong sentiment for woman's suffrage all over this city. Members of the Equal Franchise League ought to build fences at once
if they ever expect to win real votes from Newton representatives in the future.

Mr. E. K. Hall, who has ably represented the Telephone company at the committee hearings on several bills on the telephone situation, must be gratified this week, as the committee has given leave to withdraw on all these bills.

The failure of the city of Newton to favor the bill of Mayor Hatfield for authority to build a new bridge over the Charles river near Norumbega Park, has caused the Metropolitan Affairs Committee to report "next general court" on the bill.

The Senate after considerable debate killed the bill to erect a statue to General B. F. Butler. We are altogether too near the Butler regime in state politics to allow an impartial estimate of his worth to the state and country.

All the Newton men voted against the proposition to raise the age from 14 to 16 of minors employed in factories, and sustained the report of the Labor committee of which Mr. Ellis is a member. All three gentlemen were also opposed to the bill relative to carrying freight and express matter by street railway companies, but were in the minority.

Two new bills with considerable merit have just been introduced, altho the session is well advanced. One provides that all holidays shall be observed on the Monday of the week in which the real holiday occurs, while the other bill limits the length of the sessions of the General Court. Success to both.

CITY HALL.

The civil service examination for police and fire departments, which has been scheduled for Friday, April 14, has been changed to Monday, April 17. Unless more applications are received for the positions of foremen and engineers,
the examination assigned for April 17
will be omitted.

Men who owe all they have and all they are to an industrious, economical wife, too often leave her out when they boast of their success, as most successful men are prone to do.

Edited by Miss Grace M. Burt.

Is there room in Newton for another club? The Club Editor has heard it intimated that there is. If there are those who think so, why don't they make a move towards forming one? There certainly are many women in this section of the city who are in no club and who would be glad of the opportunities which a woman's club affords. A new one has just been formed in West Roxbury. One or two women beginning with a very small list of names found themselves nearly overwhelmed with applications as soon as it became known that something of the sort was being done. Word has just come to the Club Editor that the women from the different churches in Rosindale are also organizing one. The first club has already voted to join the State Federation and the other expects to in the fall. Very likely there would be no greater difficulty in doing the same thing in Newton, if only the right person should set the ball rolling.

The Newton Ladies' Home Circle
was most successful with the Spring Luncheon, which they served on Friday of last week in Temple Hall, Newton-ville. Over one hundred sat down to tables daintily arranged and decorated with potted plants. The members have an enviable reputation for the excellence both of their luncheons and of their entertainments and their guests were not disappointed on this occasion. Following the luncheon the program included a sketch of the work of the Home Circle read by the recording secretary, fine music by the Atherton Quartette of Waltham and readings by Mrs. Ellen H. Mason. The members of the quartette are musicians of ability and their singing was much enjoyed by all, while Mrs. Mason, a member of the Home Circle, as "Auntie Doleful" was most entertaining. The ladies wish to extend thanks for the liberal patronage which has helped materially to replenish the Relief Fund.

CIVICS CONFERENCE.

The Monday Club of Newton Highlands spent a delightful afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. Charles T. Bartlett of Newton Centre, on April third. As an introduction to the study of Mark Twain the members gave quotations from his writings. Mrs. Durn gave a part of his autobiography. Mr.
Henry E. Williams read selections from "Tom Sawyer" and from "Innocence Abroad." Piano selections were rendered by Mrs. Sleeper of Wellesley.
A social hour with chafing dish refresh-in the bakeries. The usual tea during the social hour followed Miss Wiggins talk.

On Monday, April 3, the Newton
Highlands C. I. S. C. met with Mrs. S.
D. Whittemore. Mrs. Sanford Thompson was in charge of the work, having for her subject "Capital and Labor."
Mrs. Thompson traced the history of the laboring class from the time of the Greek slaves down to the present day, through serfdom, to paid labor and at present organized labor. She also spoke of the social conditions from the capitalist's point of view. Without offering any solution of the problems as they present themselves she quoted an eminent authority who feels that it lies in the scope of the Golden Rule.

Miss Marian Morse told of what is done for the laboring class in Western Pennsylvania among the employees of the United States Steel Company.

The Auburndale Review Club completed its course on Modern Drama at its meeting on Tuesday morning when Stephen Phillips' "Paola and Francesca" was presented. Mrs. Van Wageningen, Mrs. Pickard and Miss Peloubet were assisted by Miss Ordway and Miss Eva Van Wageningen. Music was furnished by Miss Julia Pickard and Mrs. W. J.
Snauld. The annual meeting for the election of officers will be held on April

The program for the meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Guild on Tuesday afternoon opened with a piano solo by Miss Puffer, after which Miss Helen Legate gave several monologues which were much enjoyed by those present.

On Wednesday morning the Social Science Club held its regular monthly business meeting. The topics for next year were considered but no final action was taken upon them. The money for philanthropic work will be divided among the following objects, the Newton Hospital, the Stearns Neighborhood House, the school gardens, the tuberculosis work of the Newton Federation and the usual scholarship at Hampton Institute. In the course of the reports it was stated that a shop has been opened in New York city which will carry only goods bearing the Consumer's League label and that the same firm stands ready to open a similar one in Boston, if the department stores fail to meet the demands of thinking women.
On Wednesday the Pierian Club met with Mrs. S. A. Thompson of Erie ave.
Mrs. Child had the afternoon in charge and gave the life of Audubon most entertainingly.

An account of the Public Health Conference at Revere last week will be

Dr. Laurens MacLure, rector of Grace Church, officiating and the remains were taken to Worcester for burial in Rural Cemetery.

Has Obeyed Orders.

General DABNEY H. MAURY in his "Incidents of General T. J. Jackson" says that when the war between the states broke out Jackson was the professor of mathematics at the Military College of the South. He wished strongly to take command of a cadet corps, but the heads of the institution were desirous to have him continue his teaching. Governor Wise called out the state troops and ordered that a corps of cadets be held ready for immediate service. Jackson, then major, reported at once at the guard-room as ready for duty. General Smith said:

"Major Jackson, you will remain as you are until further orders."

Jackson at that moment was sitting on a camp stool in the guardroom with his sabre across his knees. At reveille the next morning he was found in the same position.

"Why, major, why are you here?" exclaimed General Smith.

"Because last night you ordered me to remain where I was," was the reply.

Royal Jewels in Pawn.

The ex-Sultan Abdul Aziz pawned all his crown jewels for a million francs at the Mont de Piete at Paris, and they were only just redeemed by the Moorish government in time to prevent their being sold among other unredeemed goods.

The sword of state, which is regarded in Serbia as a sacred relic, was also pawned by a former king, while one well known European monarch found himself in such straitened circumstances that the famous house of Attenborough once temporarily had possession of all his old silver.

Queen Isabella was, however, the most famous royalty who made no secret of the fact that she raised money upon the security of the portraits of her ancestors, which hung on the walls at the palace Cattle, her Parisian home. The royal lady often declared how deeply she was indebted to her royal forbears for coming to her rescue and helping her out of her financial predicaments.—London M. A. P.

The Road to Success.

Just tack this up somewhere where you can see it:

Success consists in getting out of yourself everything that's in you. It does not consist in doing almost quite as much or a little more than the other fellow. What the other fellow does doesn't amount to a dent in a door-knob so far as you are concerned. The fact that he succeeds by laying an Atlantic cable, building an Eiffel tower, inventing wireless telegraphy or cornering the world's supply of oil doesn't make you a failure because you haven't got enough ready money to buy an automobile. You're successful when you put to some useful purpose every ounce of energy, every grain of gray matter, every mite of muscle that you've got. You're successful when you've developed all there is to you and have given that to the world.—Pittsburg Gazette-Times.

A Hard Hearted People.

Fatal policy finds no place in Tibetan character. It is no uncommon thing for a son to turn his father, when too old for work, out of doors and to leave him to perish in the cold. The superstition that the souls of the dead can, if they will, haunt the living drives their hardened natures to gain by the exercise of cruelty the promise of the dying that they will not return to earth. As death approaches the dying person is asked, "Will you come back or will you not?" If he replies that he will they pull a leather bag over his head and smother him. If he says he will not he is allowed to die in peace.

A Lightning Change Artist.

The rapidity with which chameleons change their color is marvelous. You gather one from an outdoor shrub and it immediately becomes dark, almost black, hissing and with its mouth wide open, threatening to bite. Meanwhile it is never still, but continues to crawl upward whenever possible—up you, up your sleeve, always upward. By degrees the angry black changes into whatever color is nearest. If one's dress is of a brownish color so is the chameleon's.

The Real Thing.

"This," said the young benedict who was just realizing that he had caught a tartar, "is what I call real married life."

"I'm glad you're satisfied with some thing," she snapped.

"Oh, I'm not! I merely meant to inform you that it is not ideal."—Philadelphia Ledger.

His Good Action.

A little Canadian boy went to bed and then suddenly recollected that he hadn't done one good action that day. His conscience was gnawing at him. He heard a little squeal in the corner of his room, and he got up and released a mouse that had been caught in the trap. Then he gave it to the cat.

Expensive Fiction.

"Is that picture really a work of art?"

"I don't know," replied Mr. Curox, "but the story the dealer told me about it surely was."—Washington Star.

Enough Said.

"Thrift! Is she?"

"Thrift! I won't go into a long discourse. I merely tell you that she banks money in December."—Washington Herald.

His Dilemma.

"For $200 I'll fix your teeth so you can chew without difficulty."

"If I was to give you $200 I couldn't get anything to chew on."—Lith.

This is Our Specialty

This is an age of specialists, and the most efficient service in any particular is given by men who have had a lot of experience in that line.

The specialty of this bank is handling the banking business of wholesalers and jobbers in shoe, leather, wool, textile and other lines.

While we do a general banking business and are fully equipped for it, we are prepared to give special attention to the banking needs of the lines of trade above mentioned.

The convenience of our location with reference to those branches of business is also a strong argument in favor of our ability to give especially good service in the direction indicated.

ELIOT GUILD.

The chapel of Eliot church was filled with a representative audience last evening when a Dramatic Medley was given under the auspices of the Eliot Guild. It was similar to a pop concert, some 56 tables being arranged on the floor and balcony where ices, cake and Demi-Tasse were served. During the evening an entertainment was provided consisting of selections by a mandolin orchestra composed of Mrs. A. W. Blake, Misses Florence Bacon, Caroline Childs, Edith Seccombe, Dorothy Seccombe, Grace Sheppardson, Emily Stearns, Messrs C. V. Moore, Arthur Pote and Herbert Kenway with Mr. Edward Smith as accompanist. The Medleys was presented by Misses Irene Brown, Lydia Brown, Collins, Dunne, Holmes and Keith. Mrs. C. L. Ellison gave a group of songs, a sketch "The Silent System" was given by Miss Tucker and Dr. Naylor. Miss Irene Brown rendered a violin solo and Mrs. Ellison, and the Misses Irene and Lydia Brown, Collins, Dunne, Ganse and Keith gave a selection from "Hansel and Gretchen." The program concluded with the play "Miss Oliver's Dollars."

THEATRES

Hollis Street Theatre—Ethel Barrymore is certain of receiving a warm welcome during the fortnight beginning April 10 when she is to be seen at the Hollis Street Theatre, in Boston. As an actress brilliant in early promise and in later fulfillment she has won for herself an immense following. She stands today as one of the really commanding figures on the stage and is liked for herself as well as for the art she so skillfully spreads over all that she does. Welcome as Miss Barrymore always is it would seem as if she would be more so than usual at this time for the reason that her offering, a double bill from the gifted Scotch playwright, James M. Barrie, is one that who appreciate all that is good and worth while in the theatre. This double bill is made up of Barrie's early work, "Alice-Sit-By-the-Fire" and the latest contribution from his pen, "The Twelve Pound Look." During the long season that she spent in New York this double bill was Miss Barrymore's chief offering and its success could not have been more emphatic. The company surrounding Miss Barrymore is strong and well balanced. The leading man in Charles Dalton. The matinee during Miss Barrymore's short stay at the Hollis will be on Wednesday and Saturdays.

B. F. Keith's Theatre—An exceptionally good list of features for B. F. Keith's Theatre the week of April 10th is now in preparation. It is sufficient to say that one of the features already engaged is Louis Simon, who last appeared here as the principal comedian in "Katy Did," and who will produce one of the funniest sketches ever put on in vaudeville, called "The New Coachman." A new feature of the week will be Lou Anger, a Western comedian in a German soldier character who has been making a tremendous hit and will make his first appearance here in the East. Barry & Wolford will be seen in a new comedy called "At the Song Booth." Oscar Lorraine, the wonderful impersonator of famous violinists, is also on the bill, and a big feature for the children will be Maude Stickle's Circus, with some of the most intelligent trained animals that have ever been seen on the stage. Annie and Effie Conley are also booked for that week.

Shoe Aristocracy Banished

The "Goodyear Welt" System of shoemaking machines—sixty of them—which reproduce the handicraft of the old-time shoemaker—has banished shoe aristocracy from the land—driven it out forever.

They have leveled to a common plane the footwear of an entire nation. These marvelous machines—intricate and sensitive—utilize the intelligence of skilled operators in the production of shoes that are durable and comfortable as if hand-sewed, but at only one-third the cost.

The foremost shoe manufacturers of the world employ this method in their plants.

The feet of the Army are clad in Goodyear Welts. Shoes made by this method can withstand the severest marches. And they afford the greatest comfort. For these wonderful machines stitch the welt into the sole and upper together in a seam that doesn't penetrate the inside of the shoe. Even the heavy oversole is lock-stitched to this welt with the seam entirely around the outer edge. The shoe is left smooth inside. Comfort is assured the soldier on his longest march.

Get this comfort for yourself. Just send us your name and address. Do it today. It brings you a list of all five hundred different names of Goodyear Welts, the shoes that are real leather and smooth inside. Some are sure to be sold right in your town. Get this list before you buy another pair of shoes. Two booklets will also be sent you free, one graphically describing the sixty machines, the other—"The Secret of The Shoe."

Tremont Theatre—After an absence of three years Richard (Himself) Carle has returned to Boston to achieve one of the most pronounced successes of his remarkably successful career at the Tremont Theatre, in his latest and brightest play, "Jumping Jupiter," which is aptly described as a farce with music intended for laughing purposes only. "Jumping Jupiter" is quite the funniest play that has visited Boston this season and was summarized exactly as "a laugh every thirty seconds." There are a number of charming songs that will be sung and whistled on all hands, and the splendid company headed by Edna Wallace Hopper (specially engaged) is quite the perfect musical comedy cast. Will H. Philbrick, a grotesque low comedian, Joseph C. Miron, the basso; Ina Claire, the wonderful new imitator, Burrell Barbaresco, Helen May, and other talented singers and dancers, together with a bevy of clever and pretty young women in minor roles who have been designated as "Some Girls," all won favor.

LECTURE ON CHILDHOOD.

The nature of the child, the relation of education and religious training, and the responsibility of adults towards children were among the subjects discussed by the Rev. E. M. L. Gould last Sunday evening in his lecture on "Childhood" at the Church of the New Jerusalem, Highland avenue, Newtonville.

The subject of childhood, said the speaker, is important because the children of today will be the men and women we shall have to live with tomorrow. We have recognized this by making education a function of the state, and we have made a great advance by so doing. But its effect will be nullified if state education is allowed to supplant home training. For the real purpose of education is to build up character, and this cannot be accomplished merely by implanting knowledge. For character reaches behind knowledge to motives, and motives are religion—"a man's motives are his religion, and his religion is his motives."

But religious training, in this sense, is not putting something into the child, but developing something that is in him already—his better nature. There is already in the child something fine and noble, as our Lord taught when He said, "Of such is the kingdom of heaven." But the better nature is not the child's own. It is built up in him during childhood and infancy by his Creator. God, taking advantage of the fact that every mental state through which we pass becomes in a measure a part of ourselves, surrounds all children with His angels, and so induces upon them feelings of love and innocence which become the basis of all further development of character. Were it not for the spiritual residuum of these childish mental states, the religious influences of later life would find nothing in us to respond to their call.

But these God-sent impulses are only feelings; parents and friends must add knowledge to them to make them complete. God has put a love for goodness into the child's heart; it is our part to show him what is good. Every good impulse should be fostered, and should be encouraged by the teaching of the truth. But we need also to protect such impulses from the other part of the child's nature—his inherited tendency to evil. For the child does inherit spiritual as well as mental and physical characteristics, and the parent may expect definite weaknesses of character (very often his own past failings) and should be on the watch for them.

But the child himself is never evil. We become evil only by deliberate choice, and he has not yet reached the power of rational decision. So the New Church teaches that all who die before maturity eventually become angels. The loss of a little one is hard for the parent, but for the child it means a more perfect development and a higher attainment than the best his friends could wish for him.

Childhood is the time for developing potentialities for good or evil whose effect will be eternal. We can throw in our influence in either direction, though we can never make it impossible for the child to be what he pleases. Our relations with children are a grave responsibility, but they also give us the privilege of doing a work which will be more lasting than the pyramids—laying a course in the foundation of a human soul.

The last lecture of the course if which the above was one will be given in the Church of the New Jerusalem, next Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. The subject will be "The Bible," and the lecturer will be the Rev. William F. Wunsch, of Bath, Maine. Mr. Wunsch, although a young man, has already won considerable note as a Bible student, and has written articles that have earned attention. He will discuss, among other matters, the relation of the discoveries of the "Higher Critics" to the claim of the Bible to be a Divine Revelation. The public is cordially invited to his lecture, which will be entirely free.

FINE MILLINERY AT COOK'S.

We notice some very taking creations in high grade millinery at the establishment of A. N. Cook & Co., the Tremont street furriers.

This department contains an assortment of modish effects which are in perfect harmony with those of leading Continental European fashion centers and many are exclusive and strictly original models. Any costume can be matched from this selection with perfect satisfaction by experienced attendants who make a study of desirable adaptations and harmony of colorings.

The above, together with elegant lines of fur goods and gentlemen's fine hats (constituting the three departments of this favorite house) are worthy the attention of the best buyers.

N. H. S.

The invitation to the parents and general public to visit the Technical High school Friday evening, March 24th and witness the plant in full operation was evidently popular for about 1200 persons were present during the evening and lingered as late as possible. The mechanical drawing and cooking classes evidently attracted the greatest interest as they were crowded all the time and many were unable to even enter the rooms. There was no speaking attempted and as an exhibition of the work of the school it was a great success.

MUSIC AT TRINITY CHURCH.

The following constitute the members of the new vested mixed choir at Trinity Church, Newton Centre.

Misses Brackett, Corken, Fitch, Greenwood, Haynie, Johnson, Johnston, Norton, Tucker, Wallace. Messrs. Barry, Blume, Harrington, Hemenway, Heyes, Oliver. The choir will be assisted by Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Farwell. Vestments will be first worn on Easter Day. A setting of "The Palm," by Faure will be used for the anthem on next Sunday morning, Palm Sunday.

It is now nearing Easter-time when spring and summer styles in clothing, furnishings, etc. are in vogue. We would call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Browning, King & Co. in this issue for their spring stock. They are the largest distributors of New York made cloth in New England and their guarantee is, when backed up by the firm name, something that no one need doubt. They have sixteen retail stores in the principal cities of the United States and for years the name of the firm has been synonymous with good clothing. All, or nearly all, the hotel laundry business in the country is done by this firm and no one wishing this class of goods will go away dissatisfied. They have just completed the remodeling of their store front and have the most attractive display windows in New England. A cordial invitation is issued by them to the public to call and investigate their stock.

THE NEWTON CLUB

Saturday, April 15—Afternoon or evening. Qualifying Rolling for Club Championship, Individual.
Tuesday, April 18—Dance, Cotillon and Whist.
Table d' Hôte Dinner 6 to 8 P. M.
Wednesday, April 19—All Day Prize Bowling.

The Qualification Rolling for Club Individual Championship will be held Saturday, April 15th. The Alleys were well patronized Wednesday evening when, in addition to the miscellaneous rolling, there was a team match between six women bowlers, captained by Mrs. J. H. Eddy against her husband's team of men. The women were allowed 78 pins based on usual club averages and kept the men busy from first to last. The men won the first and last games and the total pin fall. The second game the ladies won by a good margin. The interest of bowlers and spectators was kept up till the last ball. Pin fall was 1610 and 1585 for men and women respectively.

In the Ladies Tournament Mrs. Blair's team displaced Mrs. Eddy's team for first place on Monday last. Interest increases in this as the final games draw nearer.

The Dance, Cotillon and Whist of April 18th will be an enjoyable affair. The matrons will be Mrs. F. L. Nagle, Mrs. Lincoln Righter, Mrs. C. H. Veno and Mrs. H. A. Young. Dinner from 6 to 8 P. M. at $1.25 per plate, reservations to be made not later than evening of Monday, 17th inst.

The Interborough Cup presented by Pres. J. L. Richards was won by the Newton Team on Tuesday evening last. The Newton Center team won three points, but the win of one point gave the Cup and Tournament to the Newton Team. Newton Centre is second and Newtonville, third.

In the triangular Brotherhood Matches the two Folletts and two Schippers each have one win to their credit. The former beat the latter and the Ely Brothers went down to the Schippers.

The new Club Library has outgrown the first bookcases and additional shelf space has been added. Hon. John A. Fenno presented several volumes of fiction and history. Mr. H. W. Morrill presented works of fiction. The gift of full sets of Dickens, Thackeray and Stevenson by Mr. H. A. Young in thirty-five new volumes adds much to the value of the collection.

That it is possible for such an organization as the Newton Club to "come back" to a form even better than its palmy days of yore, was amply demonstrated last Saturday evening, when 150 representative men of the city participated in a Stag Night and enjoyed a Dutch supper. The beautiful clubhouse was thrown open to all and a large reception committee welcomed the coming guest. The bowling alleys, pool, billiard and card tables were in constant use throughout the evening and many a "has been" tried his luck again at his favorite amusement. At ten o'clock everyone was invited to the assembly hall, where a large round table occupied the centre of the floor. It was filled with all the essentials for a Dutch supper but one and the nearest attempt to the prime feature of a Tactonic feast was found in the singing of the "Stein Song" and a properly colored, but wholly innocuous punch. As Mayor Hatfield was seen to partake of two glasses of this punch it was safe to assume that it did not reach the 3 per cent class, prohibited by law. The large table was surrounded by many small tables, at which congenial groups gathered to discuss frankfurters, hockbeard cheese, cold ham olives, pretzels and other similar delicacies. Meanwhile three colored gentlemen

MEMORIAL SERVICE

HELD BY CHARLES WARD POST IN HONOR OF DECEASED COMRADES

Members of Charles Ward Post 62 G. A. R., and their friends filled Temple hall, Newtonville, last Sunday afternoon for a memorial service in honor of their deceased comrades. Thirty-eight chairs draped in mourning and the national flags were arranged in a semicircle at the front of the hall and were encircled by the members of the post. Among the audience were Mayor Hatfield, members of the city government, and the sons and daughters of the veterans.

The exercises included singing by the Lotus quartet, an invocation by Rev. Robert W. Vankirk of West Newton, a Memorial service in charge of Commander Albert Plummer and Chaplain S. P. Putnam, an address by Rev. H. Grant Person of Eliot church and the benediction by Bishop W. F. Mallalieu of Auburndale.

The members of the post who were thus honored are as follows:

John S. Willey.
James S. Barrows.
Arthur W. Carter.
George W. Morse.
Seth A. Ranlett.
Manning C. Davy.
Charles E. Hastings.

Grenville P. Macomber.
Joseph L. Seaton.
Charles F. Williams.
George W. Cook.
William Carver Bates.
Andrew Kimball.
William J. Bowen.
Rodney M. Lucas.

Mr. Person spoke as follows:
Veterans of the Civil War, Ladies and Gentlemen:

This is not a funeral. There are here no emblems of mourning; no dirges. We have no desire to open wounds of the heart that have healed or to rouse old sorrows from their sleep. On the contrary, this is a day of rejoicing. The dominant note in our service is victory as we think of lives come to their fruition.

It seems eminently fitting that, as a Post, you should pause a moment to lay a blossom of affection on the grave of those who have slipped away from your ranks in recent years. Their names have been read and their services recited. It is a long list and a glorious service. How fast the survivors of the Civil War are receding into the vast Beyond and their records becoming a part of their Country's imperishable fame!

A memorial service, like this, is worth while, first of all, because it magnifies human brotherhood. The Old Testament poet says "Love is strong as death" and a bond of fellowship that is strong enough to reach beyond the bounds of this life is a sacred and sublime passion of the soul. Strange as it may seem we have more need of fostering the spirit of brotherhood today than ever before. There is so much in these times that kills the finer sense of fellowship.

This seems like a contradiction. Men are living closer together today than ever before. This is an age of great cities and large factories where thousands of people jostle one another. Our farming areas are being deserted as people crowd into the centres of commerce. But, in spite of the fact that men are living closer together, they are dwelling farther apart. There are two kinds of loneliness. One is where you dwell apart from human habitation where you seldom see a human face or hear a human voice. The other is where men throng and press you on every side but you are outside their sympathies. You look into a thousand faces but not one has a response to your soul's craving; you hear the babel of unnumbered voices but there is no articulate message for your heart. How much of this kind of loneliness there is today! Men living under the same roof—in the same city block—yet dwelling apart; men touching elbows in crowded streets but out of heart touch.

In spite of the numerous institutions that proclaim human brotherhood—the hospitals and asylums and refuges where the strong bear the infirmities of the weak—beautiful as they are, this sad fact still remains that there is too little real heart touch. Professor Peabody, in one of his discriminating social studies shows how the parable of the Good Samaritan interprets real brotherhood. The Good Samaritan went to the injured man and ministered to him with his own hands, put him on his beast and took him to the inn and when he was leaving, as the least part of his service, left money for his further care. What men need is not so much our money as us. Not Charity extended in a gloved hand but the sympathetic love of a throbbing heart. Queen Eleanor put her mouth to the wound and sucked the poison out to save the life of her king-husband, and many a human heart has poisoned wounds that only the pressure of another heart can heal.

A brotherhood like yours here in the Post is what is needed to help heal these hurts of the heart. It can not be difficult for you men to sense the worth of real fellowship. You stood shoulder to shoulder in line of battle you shared each other's tents; you drank from the same canteen and you know what true comradeship means. This memorial service tells its story. In sickness you have watched by your comrades, in sorrow you have carried comfort and now that they are gone you are not willing to let their memory grow cold but still claim them as a part of your brotherhood because "love is strong as death."

Another real value of such a memorial service is to keep fresh within us the hope of immortality. We scarce realize how much this hope means to us! Touching things as we do so much of our time, we need an occasional glimpse of spiritual realities. It is so easy to become materialized in such a material age unless, now and then, a voice whispers to us "the things which are seen are temporal, but the things which are not seen are eternal." At best, we have only intuitions of immortality. All the boats that have sailed on that great ocean have gone one way and been lost to our sight as they have dropped over the tall waters toward some distant horizon. No one has ever come back to tell us of the azure skies, bringing us spices and perfumes from that land where "after life's fitful fever we sleep well."

We have only intimations but they are unmistakable. A thousand voices in Nature, that is vocal at this season with bursting life, proclaim immortality. The chapters in Divine Revelation, that find their climax in this Eastertide, answer that age-long question "If a man die shall he live again?" with a loud affirmative. But after all is said, the one intimation that can not be crushed, the one voice that will not be hushed is the long list of names that have passed on to immortality. Nowhere else have universal longings been falsified and we will not believe they can be here. Somewhere, sometime these imperishable friendships will be renewed because "love is strong as death." In this memorial service for your departed comrades you assert in the immortal life.

"I cannot say and I will not say That he is dead—He is just away! With a cheery smile, and a wave of the hand, He has wandered into an unknown land. And left us dreaming how very fair It needs must be, since he lingers there And you—O you, who the wildest yearn For the old-time step and the glad re-

Think of him faring on, as dear In the love of There as the love of Here; And loyal still as he gave the blows Of his warrior strength to his Country's foes.

Think of him still as the same, I say He is not dead—He is just away!" But perhaps the largest meaning of this service for us is the inspiration that comes from the lives of these departed comrades. To think of good lives makes us better. Jesus understood this when he said "This do in remembrance of me." To recall His life of selflessness, to think on his sacrifice, to live toward Him. We read the lives of Washington and Lincoln and we catch their passion for their country that makes us better citizens. Here is where a man's two-fold immortality lies. He lives in some other sphere but he also continues to live in this world in the institutions he has built and the lives he has blessed. "They rest from their labors and their works do follow them."

The soldiers of the Civil War have rendered valuable service in two spheres. They were good soldiers. That was the greatest war of history. Henry Clay in 1850 said that if the dissolution of the Union was attempted it would be followed by greater bloodshed and enormities than could be found on the pages of history. And so it was. We shrink from the thought of what the outcome would have been had the South been successful in the war. Not only would it have meant the ultimate breaking up of this nation into many rival governments, as Mr. Gladstone predicted, but it would have been a death blow to all attempts at self government. Mr. Webster spoke wisely when in his Bunker Hill oration he said "If in our case the representative system ultimately fail, popular governments must be pronounced impossible. No combination of circumstances more favorable to the experiment can ever be expected to occur. The last hopes of mankind, therefore, rest with us; and if it should be proclaimed that our example had become an argument against the experiment, the knell of popular liberty would be sounded throughout the earth." These men, therefore, fought in a world-wide cause of humanity. They did not love war. They deplored it and agonized over it but out of the conflict they knew must come death or rebirth of democracy.

Then when the war was over, these men were equally great in peace. It is said that the greatest achievement of Cromwell's Old Ironsides was the way they fitted back into the citizenship of their time after the war was over. Usually the disbanding of an army had meant the reinforcing of the unemployed class—the vagabonds and bandits. Of Cromwell's army Macaulay says in his History of England "Fifty thousand veterans, accustomed to the profession of arms, were at once thrown on the world, and experience seemed to warrant the belief that this change would produce much misery and crime. But no such result followed. In a few months there remained not a trace that the most formidable army in the world had just been absorbed into the mass of the community. The Royalists themselves confessed that in every department of honest industry the discarded warriors prospered beyond other men, that none was charged with any theft or robbery." If that was a new experience at the time of Cromwell, it was repeated in our Civil War. Just as water that has been drawn on into some elevated reservoir, when it is released flows silently down to irrigate the surrounding country and make it blossom like the rose, so the disbanded army of the Civil War flowed silently back into the pursuits of peace to enrich society. How many of them have been great in the nation's life since the war! What a long list have served in high positions in nation and state! There is hardly a hamlet in New England where some veteran has not done conspicuous service for the community in days of peace. Perhaps those who have risked life in defense of the country can best appreciate the worth of patriotism in peace.

How much we need the inspiration that comes from such examples, every one knows. Our nation is not beyond the experimental stage yet. Lincoln, nearly fifty years ago, on an occasion not unlike this, said that the test was being made whether this Democracy could endure. That question has not yet been settled. There are dangers to American Ideals today that are alarming. I do not need to specify if there were time. They are familiar to us all. Our social structure is sadly out of joint. Democracy is a delicate fabric and men are asking the question whether it can stand these new crises. The war that saved the Union closed forty-six years ago this very day, but is the Nation safe yet? Who dares say? It seems to me that I can see the great sad face of Abraham Lincoln looking down upon us as upon that battlefield of Gettysburg and can hear the pathos of his voice as he says "It is for us, the living, to be here dedicated to the great

NEWTONVILLE IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION.

The association, in furtherance of some plan for improving the appearance of the approaches to Newtonville Square invites suggestions, pertinent thereto. It is desired to eliminate the unsightly as far as possible, and make our Square and the grounds about it as attractive as any in Newton. Suggestions for the cooperation of the abutters and others, with the Association is invited.

The following committee has been appointed to interest citizens not in the betterment of conditions about the square, but in other localities in our village: J. R. Prescott, Commander F. E. Sawyer and Dr. P. B. Howard. A postal giving suggestions on the above, can be sent to either member of the committee. This request is to all our citizens whether members of the Association or not. If the responses are prompt it is hoped to announce something accomplished in this direction at the annual meeting of the Association in May.

D. R.

A meeting of the Sarah Hall Chapter, D. R. was held at the Newton Club, Newtonville on Wednesday, April 12th. After the usual business hour a fine program was given in charge of Mrs. F. O. Stanley consisting of two groups of songs acceptably rendered by Mr. Draper Swan.

A most interesting paper upon the "Literature of the American Revolution" by Mrs. Francis B. Hornbrook.

A Dutch dance, an excerpt from "Hansel and Gretel" given by Mrs. C. L. Ellison, Miss Irene Brown, Miss Lydia Brown, Miss Pauline Dunne, Miss Helen Gage, Miss Barbara Keith.

Violin solos by Miss Cunningham, Mrs. Eaton accompanist. An Irish jig danced by Miss Frances Warren and Miss Caroline Fisher from the Junior Society, Caleb Stark Chapter, Mrs. Codrington accompanist. We were honored in having as our guest Mrs. Mary L. Chapman.

The hostesses were Mrs. J. Henry Bacon, Miss Lucetta J. Fuller, Mrs. Stillman F. Kelley, Mrs. George B. Ransom, Mrs. Frank P. Scofield, Mrs. Freeman O. Stanley.

MR. KNAPP DEAD.

Mr. Walter H. Knapp, for 26 years a florist in Newton and Wellesley died Tuesday in Rutland after an illness of two weeks though he had been in poor health during the winter months. Mr. Knapp was born in Brookline 55 years ago and he obtained his early education in the public schools of that town. Later he attended the Amherst Agricultural College from which he was graduated in 1875. His death marks the second in a class of 18 in 35 years. Aside from his vocation as a florist he was well known as a singer in church choirs in the Newtons and Wellesley Hills. He was about 55 years of age and is survived by his mother. The remains were brought to his home on North street, Newtonville, where funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock conducted by Rev. Jay T. Stocking pastor of Central church where deceased was a member. Several selections were rendered by the Central church quartet. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends. The interment was in Newton Cemetery.

TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY.

The Eight O'Clock Club, celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary and its annual ladies' night on Thursday evening. Past and present members of the club, with ladies, making in all a company of about eighty, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Loren D. Towle at their beautiful new residence on Franklin street, between Park street and Waverley avenue. An hour was spent socially, while Mr. and Mrs. Towle received their guests informally and selections were played by Handley's orchestra, who occupied the balcony above the reception hall. The reception was followed by the formal exercises, at which Mr. William F. Bacon presided and gave a short address of welcome. The program included poems by Mr. George Agry and Mr. Mitchell Wing; the history of the club, by Mr. Charles S. Ensign; a letter from Mr. S. A. Conover of Chicago, an honorary member; greetings from the ladies, Miss Grace M. Burt; greetings from the Monday Club by Rev. H. Grant Person, and a selection by a string quartet, "Audante Cantabile," by Tschaiskowsky. The meeting closed with a resolution of thanks and congratulations to the host and hostess. After refreshments had been served the company were entertained by Mr. A. R. Bailey and Mr. Wing with some of the stories without which no meeting of the Eight O'Clock Club is complete.

The Eight O'Clock Club was organized in March, 1886, by a small group of young men who met on the invitation of the late Dr. Edward B. Hitchcock. Several of the original members are still active in its ranks. In the quarter-century now closed it has had over eighty members, including many men of prominence in professional, political and business circles. The membership is limited to 35, but several men who have been removed from the city have been elected honorary members. The same program from the start, including five-minute talks on topics of interest, followed by a half-hour essay and a social hour. The organization is of the simplest form, the only officers being a secretary and an executive committee of three, while the chairman for each meeting is appointed by the secretary.

The club adheres to the original custom of meeting at the homes of its members, which has contributed largely to the promotion of the spirit of good fellowship. The literary features of the meetings have covered a large field and have involved wide research on the part of the members.

The following have served as secretaries of the club, Dr. E. B. Hitchcock, Mr. George Agry, Mr. Herbert Stebbins, Mr. G. M. Wood, Rev. Robert Keating Smith, Mr. Frank H. Burt, and Mr. John G. Andrews has been elected for next year.

MYRICK-STONE.

The daughter of Miss Silvel Fay Stone the daughter of Mrs. Charles D. Stone of Waban and Mr. James Howe Myrick 2nd of West Newton was one of the features of Easter week. It took place at the First Unitarian church, West Newton, on Wednesday evening at eight o'clock and Rev. Julian C. Jaynes performed the ceremony. The bride wore her mother's bridal gown of white corded silk with an exquisite veil of Brussels point lace. The maid of honor was Miss Margaret D. Stone of Waban and the matron of honor was Mrs. Prescott S. Hill of West Newton and the bridesmaids were the Misses Marion Jewett, Elizabeth B. Alvey, Ethel Jaynes, Harriet Seaver and Rachel Myrick of West Newton. They wore pink marquisette over white satin and carried Killarney roses. The best man was Mr. John B. Myrick, brother of the groom, whose own wedding takes place in the same church next week. The guests were seated by these ushers, Edward C. Tolman, Asline Ward, Channing Newell, Gustav Neilson and Franklin L. Myrick of West Newton and Arnold Burton of Boston.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church parlors, Mr. and Mrs. Myrick being assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Myrick and Mrs. Stone. The young couple will make their home in Tignish, Prince Edward Island.

CHARACTER in CLOTHING

As applied to Men's Apparel means those finer points so much sought after by particular men.

The product of MACULAR PARKER COMPANY's workshops are put together with that careful attention to detail so necessary in obtaining individuality of cut, drape, and construction.

Their clothes are designed by artists in their line and cut and constructed by experts. Add to these features the fact that they are made in well-lighted and well-ventilated workshops on the premises and under absolutely clean and sanitary conditions, and the result is a product that stands supreme in clothes-making.

The Custom Department will be found of interest to men desiring to order clothes to measure.

"THE GONDOLIERS."

The Lend a Hand Dramatic Club will present Gilbert and Sullivan's opera "The Gondoliers" in Jordan Hall on Friday evening April 21st, and Saturday afternoon, April 22nd. Many Newton girls are in the cast and on the committee. Miss Caroline L. Freeman of West Newton, has charge of the opera again this year, and in addition to her other duties, will conduct the orchestra. Miss Ethel H. Freeman, Smith '02, the president of the club, has charge of the acting, and the speaking parts. Miss Helen Clarke, assisted by Miss Margaret Taylor, is the business manager for this production. The cast includes: Amy Beal, Helen Fellows, Marjorie Young, Claire Stephenson, Anna Ellis, Elizabeth Letherman, Frances Glover, Marjorie Hodgkins, Julia Colby, Mrs. Edward M. Hallet, Mrs. Swan, Marion Clapp, Marguerite Stephenson, Harriet Seaver, Sarah Smith and Alice Wyman. The chorus includes: The Misses Stinson, Miss Roquemore, Miss Clarke, Miss Pickhardt, Miss Chandler, Miss Priest, Miss Bacon, Miss Post, Miss Flecher, Miss Wyman, Miss Draper, Mrs. Sargent, Miss Summer, Miss Howland, Miss Miller, Miss Walls, Miss Tucker, Miss Dunne, Mrs. Fuller, Miss Sherwin, Miss Ingalls, Miss Woodbury, Miss Coolidge, and Miss Fairbrother.

The larger part of the proceeds of the opera this year will be used for the vacation camp for girls in connection with Hale House. It is earnestly desired to provide enough money to give a month's vacation to other working girls at the old farm which Miss Seaver and Miss Freeman own near Northampton, Massachusetts, and have generously offered for the purpose.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the First Unitarian Society in Newton was held Monday evening in the parish house of the church, West Newton. The business meeting was preceded by a parish supper at which about one hundred persons were present. The supper was in charge of the Hospitality committee with Mrs. J. J. Mitchell and Mrs. John A. Potter in charge. At the business meeting, Mr. George H. Ellis was chosen moderator and satisfactory reports were received from the various church committees and organizations. These officers were elected: Trustee for 5 years in place of Mr. Josiah E. Bacon who declined. Mr. George A. Frost, clerk, Mr. John D. Lamond, treasurer, Mr. Francis Newhall, standing committee, Hon. Charles E. Hatfield, Prof. H. P. Talbot, Mrs. F. W. Pray, Mrs. H. A. Robbins and Mr. Lawrence Bond.

Waban

—Master Alfred Turner of Windsor road has a mild case of whooping cough.

—Mr. James Mason of Windsor road returned the first of the week from a two months stay at Palm Beach.

—Master Duncan Hill, little son of Mr. D. M. Hill of Pine Ridge road is ill with a case of pneumonia but his condition is slightly more favorable.

—Miss Anna Webster and Mr. Frederick Webster of Windsor road entertained a large number of friends on Saturday evening at a very enjoyable dance in Waban hall. Music was furnished by an excellent orchestra and light refreshments were served.

—The Guild of the Good Shepherd met on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. H. Piser, Beacon street, for regular work. The meeting passed an important vote reserving its rapidly increasing fund for the eventual erection of a new parish house.

—A merry surprise party was given to Mrs. F. W. Webster on Tuesday evening in honor of her birthday. An unanticipated part of the "surprise" was the mysterious disappearance of the frozen refreshments which were missing when wanted.

—A meeting of the Union church society was held in Waban hall on Monday night for the purpose of hearing the preliminary report on plans for the new building. The report was enthusiastically accepted and the committee authorized to go forward and have specifications made. They were also authorized to purchase the balance of the land north of the aqueduct and bounded by Beacon street and Collins road half of which has been donated by Mr. Wm. C. Strong. The plans are most attractive and promise a handsome edifice.

Y. M. C. A.

The annual gymnastic demonstration was held last night with a good attendance of friends and relatives. The ladies gave some interesting exhibitions of the work of the year and there was some good tumbling and humorous clown work. The sisters' home-made dance was remarkably well done. Mr. F. V. Moore walked a half mile against Fred Macwille and J. S. Irving and won easily. The affair was under the direction of Mr. William Macpherson, the physical director.

Upper Falls

—Miss Emma Keyes is back from a trip to New York.
—Rev. Walter Healy has been assigned to the local M. E. church for another year.
—Mr. Charles Mills and family have returned from a brief vacation at Fitzwilliam, N. H.
—The Pierian Club held their annual dinner last week with Mrs. Chadwick of Oak street.
—Miss Dyson entertained the Young Ladies Aid at their recent annual meeting and banquet.
—Mr. Will Easterbrook has returned from Michigan where he has been spending the past two months.
—The Ladies Aid of the M. E. church held their annual meeting Thursday in the church vestry. A fine lunch was served at noon.

THEATRES

Boston Theatre—Chauncey Olcott, in Augustus Pitou's splendid production of "Barry of Ballymore", will be the attraction at Boston Theatre for a limited engagement of two weeks. April 17. The play is from the pen of Rida Johnson Young and from all accounts stands at the head of its class as an Irish play. The characteristic atmosphere of the story is one of its chief charms. It deals with the adventures of a young artist, Tom Barry, who has become rich and famous by his painting of the portraits of crowned heads and heads that were not crowned. The story is well wrought and there are many delightful comedy situations of the delicate sort that are seen in the Olcott productions. Irish songs abound in the piece and Frederick Knight Logan, a well known musician, has composed some charming incidental music for it. The scenic and costume enhancement of the production are unusually fine as may be expected of a Pitou presentation of any play.

B. F. Keith's Theatre—Unquestionably the biggest attraction that has been announced for vaudeville in the last ten years comes to B. F. Keith's Theatre next week. It is called "A Romance of the Underworld", and was written by Paul Armstrong. There are no less than twenty-four speaking parts, and as a New York critic has said, every character seems to have been molded into the part. More the action of the piece is carried along swiftly and is both humorous and pathetic. There has never been anything like it on the stage. It was put on in New York at the 5th Avenue for a week, and would have continued there indefinitely had not Mr. Keith arranged previously to the production to have it appear at his Boston house. An exceptionally strong vaudeville show will surround this big production, including Mr. & Mrs. Allison in "Minnie From Minnesota", Cooper & Robinson; Edwards, Van & Tierney; Hon & Price; and the Landry Brothers.

Tremont Theatre—The most pronounced musical success of the present season is now housed at the Tremont Theatre, where Richard (Himself) Carle and his great company headed by Edna Wallace Hopper are now in the third week of an engagement that promises to last until hot weather. The critical and popular verdict of Boston has acclaimed "Jumping Jupiter" as the funniest of modern farces with music, and quite the ideal entertainment for all who seek amusement and relaxation and that practically means all theatre-goers. Carle was never funnier than in his present play and no comedian can be funnier than Carle at his best. The superior company of comedians, singers and dancers with whom he is surrounded constitute a cast of unequalled excellence. Edna Wallace, dainty and demure in appearance, brilliant in comedy and modish in gowning, is much admired in the role of the artist's model. Nothing more novel than the stage business of her song "I Like To Have A Flock of Men Around Me" has ever been seen on the local stage, when four swart men toss her about the stage like a human shuttlecock. Notwithstanding the great expense attendant upon this production Mr. Carle will be seen at popular prices during his stay at the Tremont. There will be a matinee on Patriots Day, and the customary Wednesday and Saturday afternoon performances will be continued throughout the engagement of "Jumping Jupiter".

Castle Square Theatre—"The End of the Bridge" bids fair to be the remarkable sensation of the season at the Castle Square. Its seventh week begins on Monday, and crowded houses will be the rule at every performance. Miss Lincoln's play it should be remembered is given twice each day, afternoon and evening. The one hundredth performance is fast approaching, and when it arrives it will certainly be celebrated with a great deal of enthusiasm. Mr. Craig's acting as Dr. Garrett is specially notable, and Miss Young's Joan Mannerling is also a feature of the performance, while the boy Peter is acted with astonishing realism by Miss McDannel.

THE WORLD IN BOSTON.

Every department of "The World in Boston" is humming with the activity of the last two weeks of preparation for the opening of the missionary exposition to be held in the Mechanics Building, April 22 to May 20. The building will be turned over to the Exposition management on the morning of April 17 and installation of the scenery and exhibits will be rushed day and night so as to be ready for the opening hour on April 22.

Regretting that he could not accept the invitation to be present and open the Exposition in person, President Taft has agreed to send from the White House a message of greeting and to press a telegraph key, sending a signal to the Mechanics Building, and in that way declare the Exposition open. Bishop Lawrence of the Episcopal Diocese of Eastern Massachusetts, Mrs. Helen Montgomery and Dr. Booker T. Washington, will be speakers at the opening ceremonies.

The thousands of Stewards have finished the study of their text books and are prepared to people the Exposition, impersonating the natives of the various countries. Hundreds are putting the finishing touches on their costumes. The time tables have been made up for the service of the Stewards so that the Exposition will be manned at all hours by regiments of the great army of workers. One thousand children have been trained to take part in little plays and tableaux and to play the games which children of other countries play.

The rehearsals of the great choir for the Pageant of Darkness and Light are drawing near the end and the musical director, Mr. Ephraim Cutter, Jr., is greatly pleased with the efficiency which has been developed. Rehearsals of the participants, who are to be on the platform are being held every evening. Each episode of the Pageant is being rehearsed on successive nights.

ANTI SKID TIRES.

In a recent interview, J. Hanvett-Michelin, head of the big tire works at Milltown, New Jersey, stated that the greatest drawback to a more general use of anti-skids in this country has been the added cost, as the motorist already has a complete set of rubber-tired tires, which he does not want to discard. "As a matter of fact," continued Mr. Michelin, "four Anti-Skid tires are not necessary, only two being required to assure safe driving under all road conditions. One anti-skid should be fitted on one of the front wheels, and one on the opposite rear wheel. If the driver sits on the right side, then the best disposition of the anti-skid tires is one on the right front wheel and one on the left rear wheel, but if the car drives from the left side, like Reo cars and Fords, then the anti-skids should be fitted to the left front and right rear wheels. Of course the two rubber tread tires that are removed when the anti-skids are fitted may be kept for spares for the two wheels still carrying ordinary tires."

The advantages of the tire equipment suggested, are, first, safety, because the two anti-skids prevent accidents due to skidding when driving on wet or muddy or ice-covered roads, and second, the two rubber tread tires hold firmly on hard dry pavements. Then again the economy of the Michelin combination is apparent, only two anti-skids being required instead of four. Users of small or medium powered cars are now enabled to adopt anti-skid at a moderate investment. Of course drivers of heavy limousines and other high powered cars have always used them."

THE GARDEN OF ALLAH

Biskra, March 24, 1911.

Editor Newton Graphic:

You have read that fascinating book of Robert Hichens "The Garden of Allah" and know that this first oasis in the great desert of Sahara is the Beni Mora of the story, but very likely you believed as I did that no such garden as that of the Count Antoon could possibly exist outside the imagination of Hichens.

But the garden is here, and Hichens' description does it no more than even justice. In fact I suppose that the five or six years since he wrote of it have made it even more beautiful. And it was owned by a Count—a French nobleman—London, Marquis of Longueville. He has a fine place in Paris and other gardens; one up at Philippeville on the African coast, and the Mediterranean being larger and even more beautiful than this I am told. The count is now sixty-eight years old and unmarried; his sister owns the principal hotel of Biskra, the Royal. They come here occasionally, in fact are to be here next Monday to see about building a forty-room addition to the hotel—"each room with a bath"—the concierge tells me; for Biskra is drawing more people every year, and although the Royal now has one hundred rooms they have turned away five hundred people this winter and only a few days ago had twenty-five guests sleeping in tents in the hotel garden; and Biskra has many other hotels too. The winter climate is certainly delightful: the nights are cool, but I noticed that at three o'clock the mercury registered 75 one of the warm days; and they say there is an average of not more than two rainy days a month from November to April. It is a long hard trip from Algiers by rail. We left at about nine in the morning, taking thirteen hours to Constantine where we spent the night and the next forenoon; but the rail journey is an interesting one, through a rough country, and with splendid snow clad mountains in sight much of the time, and Constantine is wonderfully situated on the crest of a rocky promontory, from the far wall of which you look down into a smiling valley far below, while the other sides frame a precipitous gorge crossed by a single bridge. And on this rock crest this ancient and interesting city has sat in safety for many centuries; so impressive is her situation that she has successfully withstood as many as eighty sieges.

We left Constantine at noon and it was a nightfall when our train passed through the marvelous gorge of El Kantara the gateway of the Sahara and past nine o'clock when we reached Biskra, "Queen of the Sahara". The first night was not an altogether happy one. On the streets of the dancing girls and in the Moorish Cafes the beating of tom-toms and shrill shrieking of desert pipes, the curious chanting song of the black men; the strangeness of the Arabic tongue, the constant procession under my window; the protesting hallooing cry of the camels just arrived from a desert caravan and being housed in a "fondouk" not a hundred yards from my window; the fierce clamor of dogs that seemed to bark in Arabic, and later the vociferous crowing of cocks all over Biskra, were not conducive to sleep. But in the wonder and delight of the days that followed we forgot the discomfort of that first night.

For us the Arab section was the place of greatest interest. Sit at one of the tiny tables in the little square into which two of the streets of the dancing girls enter. Let the Arab boy bring you a cup of thick sweet Moorish coffee, and as you sip it watch the crowd about you. Arabs of every color and degree; some gorgeously arrayed in rich colors; and some with hardly ragged enough to cover their nakedness. Stern, serious, sinewy men, just in from the desert—Touregour and beyond—with inscrutable eyes and splendid carriage. All about you are Arabs sitting cross legged on the ground, playing checkers, dominoes and a curious game with dice something like parchesi; and wandering about among them the dancing girls of the Outed Nails, dressed in varying degrees of splendor, and some of them with a full fortune in gold and silver ornaments on their ankles and about their arms and necks; of course all the Arab women are closely veiled but these dancing girls wear no veils, and some of them are very pretty, but all have their hands stained with some reddish coloring and the finger nails henna dyed to a deep red. And in the evening we visited the Cafes Maures and saw the girls in their dances and heard the wild music and watched the subtle dances; but the cafes are hot and crowded and one easily tires of that sort of thing.

Do you remember the tower in which at sunset Domini met Boris? That is the tower on the Hotel Royal. Built like a minaret and while not so very high appears to be the highest thing in Biskra unless you except the spires at this same hotel. We climbed the circular steps of this tower one afternoon just before sunset. The mountains to the north and west were a glorious purple in the setting sun, changing when the sun had set to almost black and then crimsoning with a real Alpine glow. But the miracle was in the south; the great bare desert which in the sun had glowed a golden yellow swiftly changed to a wonderful blue as of the sea; the delusion was perfect and even with a powerful glass was not changed; you were actually gazing at a calm beautiful unrolled sea and until the darkness actually fell the illusion remained.

We have been down into that vast desert; down past the great dunes of shifting sand, but camel riding for "tender feet" was not enticing enough to let us get even to Sidi Okba, the first oasis to the south of Biskra; and yet from Biskra many travelers do start for long trips in the desert. One English gentleman and his wife were sitting out a caravan to take them for a three months trip in the desert.

But after all the most beautiful thing in Biskra is the garden of the count. "The Garden of Allah" is the best guide book of the garden. It is all here: all the windows opening only on the garden; the salon with the glorious purple Bougainvillea; the house of the blue dog—and the "furnoir" almost buried in the dense shade; the wonderful built up paths on which never a fallen leaf is allowed to remain.

Fifteen gardeners live in it and give to it all of their time. Every conceivable tropical tree is here; such a luxuriant wealth of growth as is hard to describe. There are of course thousands of date palms; last year there were sold forty-five hundred fronds worth of dates; and every other kind of palm is here, and all kinds of spice trees from the far East; avenues of Minus, wonderful blooming shrubs and a riot of green, except that riot is under perfect control; and all so cool and wonderfully still; only the twittering of birds and the gurgling of running water that is everywhere.

Yes, there is one thing more: Larbi is here still: the real Larbi of the thick fingers and fluttering flute. Black as a coal—straight as an arrow—vain as a peacock—simple as a child! We spent the whole of our last Sunday morning in the garden. We found a sunny opening near the long wall which holds back the desert from the garden; only a step from the great Jamelon tree under which Domini and the Count stood at hot midday and looked out over the desert to see the Arabs dropping for noonday prayer, and Larbi came and told us of himself and his life in the garden. He was born away down in the desert beyond Touregour, but for twelve years he has lived in this garden. He is consumed with one great ambition: he has been told that America is a land of gold, and he wants to go there. "I will go to the great cities," he says, "I will have on my turban 'I am Larbi, from the Garden of Allah'; they will be glad to have me serve them in the cafes; they will pay me well and I shall be much richer; and then he left us but soon came back bringing to us coffee of his own making thick and sweet, served in curious cups on an old brass tray covered with strange Arabic designs; and while we sipped it, from a distant thicket came the fluttering song of his flute, weird, unforgettable airs that have been the music of his desert ancestors for years untold. Ah, Larbi of the Garden—stay in your earthly paradise; do not leave to come across the seas to a new and unknown land of harsh noises and selfish, crushing greed; it would mean to you only bewilderment and pain; there you would never hear from minaret the muezzin call to prayer; and yet very soul in you would die of homesick longing for the vast, brooding, unspeakable peace of the desert.

Combination Coal and GasCrawford Ranges

The Crawford Gas Ovens are safe. They are lighted in a new way; there is no dangerous pilot light and explosions are impossible. This improvement is patented and very important.

The Damper is automatically opened by opening oven door to light the burners, which cannot be lighted until the door is opened.

In these Gas Ovens there is an extra set of burners at the top for broiling; a great advantage over the ordinary gas oven, insuring better broiling and great convenience.

The Oven Bottoms and Racks are cast iron, and the outer walls are triple—an interlining of asbestos between two sheets of iron, which assists to retain the heat.

The use of these Gas Ovens does not interfere in any way with the operation of the coal range—both can be used at the same time.

Double Oven above or Single Oven at end of range.

Bellevue street, on Thursday afternoon,
April 20, at 2.30.At the Newton Club at 12.45 on April 20 the Newton Centre Woman's Club will meet for luncheon. Following this at 2.30 the annual meeting for election of officers and reports of committees will be held.On April 26 at 8 P. M. in Players' hall the play "Miss Fearsome and Co."
will be repeated by the West Newton Women's Educational Club. There will be dancing afterwards until midnight.
Tickets may be secured from members.At the meeting of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. on Monday afternoon a comprehensive paper upon "Conservation" was given by Miss Adelaide Webster. She was assisted by Miss Hyde who took the topic "Conservation of Forests"; Miss Marian Morse, "Water Supply"; and Mrs. Boyd "The Conservation of Land."The Massachusetts State Federation will hold its annual meeting in New Bedford during the fourth week of May.
The hostess club is planning many pleasant things for the entertainment of their guests.On April 7th the West Newton Women's Educational Club held a most successful Easter luncheon and sale in Players' Hall. The table of fancy and useful articles was in charge of Mrs.
C. E. Conant, Mrs. J. K. Park and Mrs.
Robert Douglas; the candy Mrs. George St. Amant and Mrs. E. F. Robinson;
the cake, Mrs. Fred Young and Mrs.
Henry Young.Mrs. Luther Woodward had charge of the luncheon, assisted by Mrs. Samuel Waters, Mrs. Ernest L. Schubert and Miss Stella Kimball. Everything was most daintily carried out and a gratifying sum was realized.On Saturday, April 8, the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club was entertained by Mrs. F. C. Snow in her new home on Warren street, Needham. The work for the afternoon was the review of the play, "All Well that Ends Well." Mrs. A. L. Pratt, who was in charge, was so conversant with this and other Shakespearean plays that a delightful and instructive session was held.The Newton Highlands Monday Club met with Mrs. F. A. MacCallum on April 10. The Life of Mark Twain was told by Mrs. Durgin and some of his works were reviewed by Mrs. Keeler.
Next week the club will meet at Odd Fellows hall when the program will include music and a Travel Talk. The report of the work committee will be given at that time.

Boston
TranscriptThe annual meeting of the Newton Federation will be held in Newtonville on Tuesday, May second. There will be the usual business session in the morning followed by luncheon and a program in the afternoon to which the public will be invited. Further details will be given next week.Mrs. Frederick H. Putnam, a gifted member of the Waban Women's Club, held the attention of a large audience on Monday afternoon, April 10th, at the home of Mrs. Herbert P. Lane of Pine Ridge road, with a paper on Browning illustrated with readings. Delightful piano and violin selections by the Misses Miller opened the afternoon's entertainment.Mrs. Putnam spoke of the material which Browning used, the variety of the problem in human life and character which he presented and either solved or opened the way to solve. She spoke also of his singularly sympathetic nature and his alternate dreamy and dramatic temperament. The following poems were read by way of explanation, "My Star," called the greatest of love poems,
the introduction to "Pippa Passes,"
"All Love but a Day," "Youth and Art,"
and several other familiar selections.
Tea was served by Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Heald.On Tuesday morning the Current Events class of the Newtonville Woman's Guild was addressed by Prof.
William G. Ward instead of by Mrs.
Ward.In the afternoon a special meeting of the Guild was held when Prof. Okakura Kakuzo addressed the club upon "Japanese Art." The speaker divided the art into four periods known as the Classic, the Buddhist, the Neo-Confucian and the Modern, and spoke of examples of each that are in the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, which collection, he said, is the best anywhere outside of Japan. He paid particular attention to the large collection of Japanese prints.The annual meeting of the N. P. L.
Club was held on Tuesday the 11th at 23 Boyd street and these officers were elected: President, Mrs. James I. Wingate; 1st vice pres. Mrs. S. B. White-more; 2nd vice pres. Miss J. Riley; 3rd vice pres. Mrs. John Leavitt; secretary, Miss Maria R. Wheeler; treasurer, Mrs.
Walter A. Beedle; auditor, Mrs. Willard D. Tripp.A very large number of members and guests of the Social Science Club attended the meeting at the Hunnewell Club on Wednesday morning when Miss Frances Stern of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology addressed the club upon the subject of "Food." Miss Stern who was an associate and student under the late Mrs. Ellen H. Richards, opened her talk with a high tribute to Mrs. Richards and the work which she has accomplished in her special line, and said that the work which her students are doing will be a living memorial to her memory.Her talk bore directly upon the relation of food to human efficiency. She pointed out that it is the duty of women to inform themselves concerning everything pertaining to food and to pass that knowledge on. Men are doing a great work in sanitary science, but the woman is the health officer of the family. She should know the value of the various food stuffs and make a wise selection based upon that knowledge.
The dangers from impure and unclean food were touched upon. Women can get anything they demand in the way of cleanliness, but they must demand it.
Since it is the woman who spends 90 percent of the world's goods she must take the non-essential.Summer Hotel

A Bank of Personal Service

You will find it a wonderful advantage to have your account in a bank which is able to assure personal attention to your needs.

To get the best kind of service in banking matters, entrust your business to a bank that is large enough to be strong and fully equipped, but not too large to take an interest in you individually.

The Lincoln Trust Company answers that description perfectly, and in addition is very conveniently located to serve business men and houses in leather and textile districts.

Schaefer's beautiful cantata "The Risen King" will be rendered by a regular quartette assisted by the Senior Chorus. The pastor's Easter message will have as its theme, "The Life Beyond."

Unusual interest has been aroused in the Easter offering and it is hoped that a large amount will be realized from the enthusiastic efforts of young and old.

At 6.30 in the evening the annual Easter Festival service of the Sunday School will be observed with carols, recitations and special music by single voices and by the Junior Chorus. The auditorium will be decorated with beautiful Easter lilies. It is hoped that large congregations will be present at all the services.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

On April 22nd the ladies of the Auxiliary are to have an Easter sale the proceeds of which will go towards furnishings for the new building. Cakes, candies, pies, and many useful articles will be for sale. Please remember the date and secure some of your Easter dainties from the ladies and help them in their efforts to raise money for furnishings.

men discoursed popular music on banjos and guitars and the crowd joined most heartily in the chorus.

An interesting exhibit was made of the various prizes for the pool and bowling tournaments of the club, and the beautiful silver loving cup presented by President Richards for a trophy for the Interborough Bowling tournament was much admired. Individual silver cups were awarded for the best individual averages in the House bowling tournament to Dr. C. H. Veo, class A, Mr. G. B. H. Macomber, class B, Mr. N. C. Nagle, class C, Mr. J. F. Dever, Jr., class D and to Mr. W. I. Fearing for the individual average. Military brushes were awarded the winning team consisting of W. W. Blair, captain, C. F. Schipper, Rev. J. W. Campbell, H. W. Morrill and F. Schipper.

PRESENTS MONUMENT.

Professor Everett S. Jones of the Allen School of West Newton has presented the town of Spencer with a Soldiers' monument which will be dedicated on Patriots Day. The monument which was made in Paris by Andrew O'Connor consists of a bronze figure of the Republic in an attitude of Peace and is placed on a pedestal of granite. The pedestal has bronze plaques on the sides on which the names of the soldiers from Spencer will be inscribed. The monument is located in a public park adjoining the High School. Mr. Jones presents the monument in memory of his father, Erastus Jones, a former prominent manufacturer of Spencer and who served as its town treasurer for many years.

CITY HALL.

A civil service examination for the fire police and janitor service will be held next Monday.

The committee on Public Franchises and Licenses will dine this evening at the Brae Burn Country Club as the guests of the chairman, Alderman Burton Payne Gray.

PATRIOTIC DAUGHTERS

A movement that can scarcely fail to be appreciated by all patriotic people in the Old Bay State, and one that will afford an opportunity for all to join in a worthy tribute to the memory of that noble class of women—the Army Nurses of the Civil War—is that of the proposition of the Massachusetts Department of the Sons of the American Revolution to erect a memorial for the nurses, and place it in the State House, Boston, near the Hall of Flags (so dear to every veteran)—Yes—and near those flags under which the veterans they so faithfully and tenderly cared for, fought for four long years. The originator of this memorial idea was Miss Etta A. Joyce, an able and patriotic young woman who resides in Belmont and who was at the time president of Tent 30 of Cambridge, who realizing thoroughly that Massachusetts had never in any form memorialized the Army Nurses gave the matter thorough consideration and first consulting two or three Grand Army friends, brought the matter before her Tent. This active and patriotic organization at once endorsed their presidents idea and in time took it before the Department Convention. Here again it met favorable action and resulted in the formation of "The Army Nurses Memorial Association of the Massachusetts Department, Daughters of Veterans," Incorporated.

The objects of this association may be concisely stated by giving the text of a resolve which the association and its advisory board have just succeeded in having passed by the Massachusetts senate and house and duly signed by Gov. Foss:—

Resolved, That the memorial to the army nurses of the Civil War, by Bela L. Pratt, sculptor, proposed to be presented to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts by the Army Nurses Memorial Association of the Massachusetts Department, Daughters of Veterans, be and hereby is accepted, to be placed in the State House at the easterly side of the senate staircase, so called.

In the passing of this resolve the association received valuable aid, in preparation and conduct, from Senator H. C. Mulligan and Representative Thomas W. White of Newton.

The annual meeting of the association was held recently and Miss Katharine R. A. Flood of Newton was elected president. The memorial will cost $15,000 and Charles Ward Post of this city has contributed $50.

GOOD WORK.

Prompt and efficient work by members of the Fire department at the fire late Sunday night in the annex to the Hollis, undoubtedly prevented a most serious conflagration. The fire was caused by a defective furnace flue and one of the servants, who slept on the ground floor was awakened by the smoke about 11:30 o'clock. She hastily threw her valuables out of the window and then alarmed the rest of the house. A telephone call was sent for the fire department and in an incredibly short time the apparatus and men responded. The blaze which had then reached the first floor was practically confined to one room and was extinguished with chemicals, after causing damage of a few hundred dollars. The persons in the house were greatly alarmed as the smoke was quite dense and left the building at once, most of them in negligee. Mrs. Hosea Hyde who is an invalid was carried out on a mattress. All of them, however, are loud in their praise of the work of the fire department and of the courteous assistance rendered by the police.

AMHERST COLLEGE DRAMATICS

Through the efforts of Newton men, the Amherst College Dramatics Association has been invited to give one of their famous performances at the Newton High School on Saturday evening April 22nd. The Amherst Association is one of the strongest college dramatic associations in the country. During recent years the association have given exclusively Shakespearean productions and they have attained a high degree of success in their interpretations. The production of "Romeo and Juliet" this year is the most successful of them all.

During the Spring Vacation a two weeks trip was taken through the West. Ten performances were given in twelve days and large audiences greeted the association everywhere.

The association comes here to Newton after this very successful trip, and we are very fortunate in being able to see them as the number of performances they are allowed is limited. It is a rare treat that the Newton Amherst Alumni have arranged for us.

task remaining before us; that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom and that government of the people, by the people and for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

Do you remember the story of Pickens' charge at Gettysburg? General Armistead, in the midst of the assault, fell mortally wounded. The color-bearer stooped to raise the fallen general but the dying hero waved him on with the whispered command "carry the colors forward." This, we believe, would be the message that these men whom we honor today would give to us, "Don't stop to weep over us; carry the colors forward!"

Catching the inspiration of their lives, God help us to fight the battles that remain for us and then to cross over the river and join their ranks on the Plains of Peace.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of Channing Alliance was held in the church parlors on Tuesday, April 11. The business session included the annual reports of officers and committees and the election of officers. The Alliance has done good work as shown by the reports and the members have every reason to congratulate themselves upon the year's success. Following the morning session a delicious luncheon was served by a committee of ladies with Mrs. C. B. Beason as chairman. The daintily decorated tables with their spring flowers presented a most attractive appearance and the atmosphere of good fellowship combined to make it a festive occasion.

Following the luncheon the retiring president, Miss Jessie M. Fisher, presented the new president, Mrs. Isabella W. Haddon, who pledged herself to the new work with enthusiasm. Miss Helen L. Wells then presented the retiring president with a bouquet of marguerites as a mark of appreciation of her faithful services for the Alliance in her term of three years' service. The retiring secretary received a bouquet of sweet peas. After this Mrs. Arthur G. Robbins of Belmont, director of the National Alliance, spoke a few words of congratulation and commendation and Mrs. Emily A. Fifield, recording Secretary of the National Alliance, added her word of appreciation and told of some of the unique features of the fine organization which she represents, the National Alliance of Unitarian and other Liberal Christian Women.

Miss Helen L. Wells and Mrs. E. M. Moore contributed humorous selections pertinent to the work of the Alliance and Mrs. Frank Weber repeated her verses on "Zephaniah" and a most graceful and amusing toast to "The Alliance," also in rhyme.

The following officers were elected for next year: President, Mrs. Isabella W. Haddon, vice president, Mrs. E. W. Howe, Mrs. J. W. McIntyre, Mrs. Harry Lutz; recording secretary, Mrs. Henry T. Wade, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Howard M. North; treasurer, Miss Harriet W. Stevens; auditor, Mrs. George Warren; director for three years, Mrs. Joseph N. Palmer.

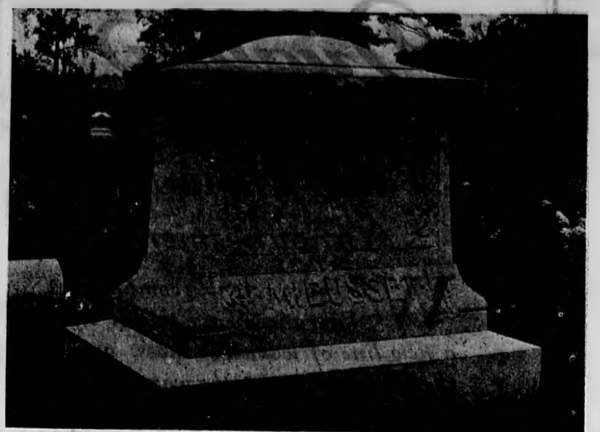

The Colonial Singing Orchestra of Waltham has been particularly busy this month with engagements at Miss Webster's dance at Waban last Saturday, at the Auburndale Pop concert of last week, at the Tennyson Rehearsal Lodge on April 18, Mr. Paul's dance at Waltham on April 19 and the Watch Company's dance April 25 at a benefit dance, Waltham April 27 and at the Newton Technical High school entertainment April 28th.

PUBLIC HEALTH CONFERENCE.

By courtesy of the Revere Woman's Club the Public Health department of the State Federation held a conference in the Town Hall at Revere on Thursday, March 30, with Mrs. Lilius Folger chairman of the department presiding. Mr. Seymour H. Stone of the Boston Association for the Relief and Control of Tuberculosis spoke on "School Tuberculosis Exhibits". Six thousand persons, he said, die in Massachusetts from tuberculosis, which is 10 or 11 per cent of the whole death rate. Twenty-four percent of this number are children under sixteen years of age, about three percent being children of school age. Among the causes of the disease he named bad living conditions, impure air, dirt, dust and alcoholism. An early discovery of the disease is necessary to insure a cure. While patients may be treated at home the sanatorium treatment is preferable. Plenty of fresh air, outdoor life, rest, wholesome food, and temperate habits are good preventive measures. The child should be instructed in these matters, especially in the value of good health.

In 1908 the Massachusetts legislature passed a bill providing that the subject of tuberculosis and its prevention should be taught in all grades of the public schools where hygiene and physiology are taught. The bill provided money for a small number of exhibits showing methods of treatment to be used for the purpose in the schools. The society, which Mr. Stone represents, owns several, one of which he showed at the conference. These exhibits may be secured from Dr. John B. Hawes, secretary of the Trustees of Massachusetts Consumptives' Hospitals, 4 Joy St., Boston.

Dr. Elliot Washburn of the State Board of Health spoke on the "Dangers of the Common Drinking Cup". He said of the presence of germs in the mouth of well people an dither being left in the cup after its being used. An epidemic of diphtheria was directly traceable in one city to the common drinking cup. In referring to the recent law he said that in the case of railroads it has been evaded by removing the cup while a car was within the limits of this state, and then replacing it when the car has crossed the line into other states. The law does not yet apply to department stores, factories and workshops where there is greater need than in any other place. As yet there has not been devised any perfectly satisfactory drinking fountain, but he showed a list of such that answer fairly well.

Mrs. Katherine H. McClench reported upon the Travelling Health Library which the State Federation owns. It consists of 39 books and pamphlets and 35 photographs of outdoor life at camps and sanatoria and can be had by any teacher or workshop where there is longer upon special request. It has recently been revised and brought up to date. It has been placed in forty libraries of the state through the instrumentality of the clubs and it should have a wider circulation.

After a brief intermission Dr. Evangeline W. Young spoke on the subject of "Social Hygiene." This question was treated from three aspects, the moral, sanitary and the economic. An organized effort of the part of the women is needed to bring reform and a better condition of things. Great hope lies in education of the public. It is a matter in which intelligent, consecrated women can accomplish something. A single standard of morality for men and women, legislation and education in these matters are needed.

The subject of sex must be raised to a higher point. Women must redeem it from the ignominy into which it has fallen and give it a good name. Dr. Young told also of classes which she is holding among factory girls both in Worcester and in Peabody, R. I.

Before closing the conference Mrs. Folger pointed out several matters in which the women may well interest themselves, among them the need of a local hospital for advanced cases of tuberculosis, for those hopelessly afflicted cannot bear to be far away from their relatives and friends, and the value of the school tuberculosis exhibits. He need of dental care for school children of the poor and the vital subject of sex hygiene.

The hostess club served light refreshments during the social hour.

At a recent meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Club Hon. Curtis Guild spoke on "States Rights and National Wrongs."

He told of the radical changes of the present time toward and the great need of more centralized and uniform laws for all the Union. He pointed out that we are just beginning to lose somewhat the original jealousy of the original thirteen States. Then all business was local; now it is nation-wide. Therefore there should be National laws, for example for the incorporation of incorpo-

"1892" Pure Spun Aluminum Ware

15 Days at Our Risk

Buy any piece of this ware from your dealer—try it fifteen days. If in that time you find that all the claims we make for it are not true, and if it is not just as represented, take it back and get your money.

Here at last is the ideal kitchen and cooking utensil—"The Ware That Wears"—made from Pure Spun Aluminum, and guaranteed by the makers to last 25 years with average usage. "Spun" Aluminum, mind you, not cast Aluminum, which will sometimes crack and scale. Spun Aluminum Ware will never crack, peel, scale or break.

Enamel ware is iron coated with colored glass. Iron expands with heat. Colored glass does not, but chips off into the food with dangerous results to those who eat it.

"1892" Pure Aluminum Ware Saves Doctors' Bills.

It enables you to bake bread, pies, pancakes, etc., without grease, which is the great cause of dyspepsia and indigestion. Aluminum gridles require no grease; hence are smokeless and odorless.

"1892" Pure Aluminum Ware Will Not Scorch or Burn

—is easily cleaned, will not rust or corrode. Handsome in appearance. Looks like silver, but weighs only about one-fourth as much, and is light and convenient to handle.

The original and only genuine Spun Aluminum Ware is made by the Illinois Pure Aluminum Co. at Lemont, Ill. Every piece bearing their trade-mark, the Maltese Cross, and marked "1892" Pure Aluminum Ware is absolutely pure, wholesome and hygienic—guaranteed for 25 yrs.

ENAMEL WARE CAUSES CANCER, SAYS DOCTOR

Tells Homeopaths Particles From Dishes Start Growth in Stomach.

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 11.

INTRODUCTION of modern enamel ware in the kitchens of the country is responsible for many cases of cancer, was the striking theory advanced by Dr. William H. Diefenbach, of New York, in a paper entitled, "Observations on the Etiology of Cancer," read before the Bureau of Sanitary Science and Public Health, at which the leading experts of the International Homoeopathic Congress met today to discuss questions of public health.

The argument advanced was that chipping of the hard-coated dishes used in preparation of meals allowed minute but dangerous particles of foreign matter to become mixed with the food. These are taken into the stomach, where the cancerous growth is caused by abrasions which they make in the walls of the organ.

rations. Uniform laws are also greatly needed in relation to such great national wrongs as divorce and child labor. Mr. Guild spoke with enthusiasm and hope for the future, but pictured faithfully the seriousness of certain present-day conditions.

A large and interested audience gathered on Thursday afternoon March 30, at the monthly meeting of the club to hear Miss Katherine Jewell Everts read "Joyce's Leigh" from Mary Johnston's novel "To Have and to Hold." This was a version of the romantic episode of the marriage of Ralph Percy, gentleman adventurer, and Jocelyn, the king's ward who escaped to Virginia in guise of a serving maid and was married on the courtier meadow of Jamestown. Close attention followed Miss Evert's dramatic presentation and continued applause brought out as an encore William V. Moody's poem, "The Battle Horse." Refreshments were served by the social committee.

Plans for the Historical Pageant of Newton are progressing satisfactorily, although as yet the suitable location has not been secured. It is hoped the matter will be settled within a few days. The date will be somewhere near June 10 and 12 and there will be at least two afternoon performances. The pageant in portraying the scenes will go back to the life of the colonists in England before they came to this country and on down through the events of Newton including some scenes with the Indians and later social happenings to the present. The various clubs will each be responsible for a scene and it is expected that many children will take part in them as well as others who belong to no club. There will be an orchestra and fine choral music.

A prize of $10 has been offered in the two high schools for the best poster and the successful competitor will make a small drawing of the same to be used on the program cover.

The question is already being asked: What is to be done with the money? The managers of the affair wish to announce that the proceeds will go into the general treasury of the Federation to be used for the good of the city.

THE "RAINBOW ACT"

"Are you going to Edith's reception next week, Mazie?"

"No, Martha, I haven't a single new thing to wear, and I'm tired of appearing in that same light silk of mine every time I attend a function."

"Why, Mazie, it is lovely material and fits you to perfection, why don't you do the Rainbow act and come out in one of those lovely and fashionable shades?"

"What do you mean by the 'Rainbow' act?"

"I mean to transform that dainty gown with Rainbow Dyes, and no one will ever know it didn't come fresh from Madame La Modes."

"Awfully kind of you Martha, to suggest it, but is there time enough to do it before the reception?"

"Certainly, get the shade you want, and I'll come over and show you and the housemaid how I dyed my 'gown' a beautiful sky blue, without ripping or fussing to make it over. You put it into the dye-bath whole, and it comes out like an opening flower."

"Oh, Martha, you are such a dear. I'll get a package of Rainbow Dye and we'll put that light silk through the 'Rainbow Act' tomorrow. So glad I can go and not look like a last year's chestnut. Thank you ever so much!"

D. A. R.

The Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R., of Newton, met at the Newton Club house, Monday, April tenth, at three o'clock, with Mrs. John A. Rice, Mrs. Dexter Puffer, Mrs. S. W. Manning and Mrs. A. P. Friend as hostesses.

After listening to Miss Crandall sing two songs delightfully, with violin obligato by Miss Eager, and a piano accompaniment by Miss Van Wagenen, the business meeting was opened by the regent, Mrs. Friend. The chapter voted its annual subscription to Continental Hall and then listened to a paper on "Con's Hill Burying Ground and its connection with the Revolution" given by Mrs. Fred A. Bryant of the Dorothy Brewer Chapter of Waltham.

After singing America the members and guests adjourned to the tea-room, where a social hour was enjoyed.

HOUSE OF EDISON LIGHT.

The House of Edison Light which has been located in Winchester during the winter will be removed about May 1 to an attractive location at the corner of Pleasant and Centre Streets in Newton Centre. This House has attracted unusual attention throughout the Greater Boston territory, and visitors to it have averaged more than one hundred a day since it was opened. Every feature of domestic life is performed by means of electricity in this home, and competent demonstrators show just how economical, convenient and healthful the appliances are. All of these things can be used in any home, and really make life worth while.

Time robs us of many things, but wounds our vanity first by introducing it. It is claimed that marriage is a lottery, but it can not be true, else the law would take hold of it.

FOR YOUNG MEN.

The Newton Athletic Association has been formed for the purpose of promoting athletic competition among the young men of Newton, over fifteen years of age.

It is planned to hold at least one athletic meet each month during the coming Spring. Entries will be open only to members of the association; therefore no A. A. U. registration will be necessary, but registered athletes may compete.

The meets will be held on the Newton Center Playground, which provides a quarter mile running track, one hundred yards straight-away.

An attempt will be made to have a shower bath installed in connection with the dressing room.

The dues will be fifty cents a year payable when application for membership is made.

Mr. Wm. Adams, Auburndale, is president and F. D. Eichbauer, Crescent Ave., Newton Centre, is secretary and treasurer.

NEWBURYPORT ALIVE.

In common with the general movement for the boosting of New England and its industries the Newburyport Business Men's Association are planning for an exposition of the manufactured products of Newburyport to be held at the Newburyport City hall, opening Tuesday, the 18th inst., and continuing for four days.

One entire room is to be taken up with the shoe exhibit, which will show a shoe in process of making from start to finish. Cotton manufacturing, comb manufacturing, silverware working and other interesting trades will also be exemplified by working exhibits.

Newburyport is the second largest producer of sterling silver spoons in the world and has two of the four horn comb factories in the country. It points to 46 industrial establishments, giving employment to 4919 people, and producing goods to the value of $9,624,300 annually, the wages paid in a year amounting to $2,381,350.

The exposition of next week is free to all and a cordial invitation is extended to the general public of all the state to witness it.

LECTURE ON THE BIBLE.

That the Higher Criticism, instead of destroying the possibility of belief in the Bible as the Word of God, has opened a way for a new and deeper realization of its divinity, was the view upheld by the Rev. William F. Wunsch, of Bath, Maine, in a able and instructive lecture on "The Bible," given last Sunday evening at the Church of the New Jerusalem, Newtonville. The lecture, which was the last of the Lenten Course, "New Light on Old Problems," was largely attended, and evoked much interest.

We must admit at once, said the Rev. Mr. Wunsch, that we have not the same Bible that we had even so few as fifty years ago. The old idea of it as literally inspired, and therefore perfect in history, science, morals, and even text, has given way under critical examination and investigation. It was an idea which was never in the Bible itself, and yet the staunchness of men's adherence to it led at first to dogmatism on one hand, and ultra-destructive criticism on the other. But now the dogmatism has largely been abandoned, and the criticism is seeking constructive results. So far three steps in this direction have been taken by the critics. The first, driven by historical study beneath the surface, maintains that the Bible, while not itself a revelation, contains a revelation, or is at least the historical record of one. The second, when the first is charged with vagueness, defines the revelation as consisting in the statements of spiritual truth which the Scriptures contain. The third, confronted by this definition with an immense amount of waste material, suggests a symbolic or allegorical meaning in the passages which are not directly ethical in bearing.

The teaching of the New Church is a fourth constructive view, beginning where the third leaves off. Not only is there a symbolic meaning in the Bible, but it was put there by inspiration from God. While we know that the Bible is the work of a number of human writers, and while it would not be reasonable to suppose that all had been guided by God's spirit if there were no more in the resultant writing than passages in the surface, nevertheless such a working of the spirit would have been intelligible if there were a spiritual and eternal message to convey. And study reveals such a message—not in all the books of our Bible, but in most of them—divine truth clothed in the language of story, parable and law just as all spiritual teaching, even between man and man, has to be clothed in materialistic metaphor.

Such an interpretation redeems all the waste places of the Bible, bringing its most seemingly remote passages into direct relation with our time and with all times. And men have not been left to grope alone for the key to the spiritual study. The Author of the Bible, who directed it in all its evolution so that it might contain its message to the souls of men; has now given the world the key to the message in the revelation made through Emanuel Swedenborg, and it only needs the application of this key to unlock a treasurehouse of spiritual ideals which shall be the endless inspiration of mankind.

It is the belief of the New Church that the revelation of this inner meaning of the Bible is the promised "Second Advent" of our Lord to earth, and the higher critics have done their share in preparing a way for Him by showing men that the real meaning of the Bible must be looked for in and behind the letter.

Shoe Aristocracy Banished

The "Goodyear Welt" System of shoemaking machines—sixty of them—which reproduce the handicraft of the old-time shoemaker—has banished shoe aristocracy from the land—driven it out forever.

They have leveled to a common plane the footwear of an entire nation. These marvelous machines—fricate and sensitive—utilize the intelligence of skilled operators in the production of shoes that are durable and comfortable as if hand-sewed, but at only one-third the cost.

The foremost shoe manufacturers of the world employ this method in their plants.

GOODYEAR WELT

shoes for men, women, boys, girls and children are made of solid leather—they must be—for only substantial leather can be worked on these fast operating machines. Five hundred lock-stitches a minute are inserted, close, rapid and strong. Obviously cheap leather or inferior leather cannot withstand the speed of such swift flying needles. Thus "Goodyear Welt" is always a guarantee of solid, real leather. It is your insurance of wearing quality. Even the War Department recognizes this feature when it specifies the rapid Goodyear stitching as its standard in shoe contracts for the soldiers.

The feet of the Army are clad in Goodyear Welts. Shoes made by this method can withstand the severest marches. And they afford the greatest comfort. For these wonderful machines stitch the welt inner-sole and upper together in a seam that doesn't penetrate the inside of the shoe. Even the heavy outsole is lock-stitched to this welt with the seam entirely around the outer edge. The shoe is left smooth inside. Comfort is assured the soldier on his longest march.

Get this comfort for yourself. Just send us your name and address. Do it today. It brings you a list of all five hundred different names of Goodyear Welts, the shoes that are real leather and smooth inside. Some are sure to be sold right in your town. Get this list before you buy another pair of shoes. Two booklets will also be sent you free, one graphically describing the sixty machines, the other—"The Secret of The Shoe."

NEWTON CENTRE WINS.

The Newton P. O. base ball nine crossed bats with the Centre P. O. "boys" at Cabot Park, Newtonville, on Patriots' Day, and in their defeat to the latter by a score of 14 to 7 proved beyond a scruple that they were "no match" for the South Side players.

Calm, cool and collected, the "Centre Boys" seemed unbothered with indefatigable wins, while their weaker brothers strove hard for vantage ground, substituting man after man until they had used fourteen players.

MacDonald's preliminary drive to the outfield for three bases it is said, put the stigma on their prowess; and when Kine, in the third inning, drove a beautiful homer, with apparent ease, it was evident and clear to Newton that "ball playing" with the "Centre Boys" was by no means a Welsh-rabbit idea.

The feature of the game was the stick work of King and MacDonald, the fielding of Dumphy and Killian and the pitching of Fay for the Centre. And when, crestfallen and dispirited, vanquished Newton strode from the field they would have accepted with pleasure any change from the subject of baseball on which theme they were no longer desirous of parleying with their brothers.

LODGES.

The increased attendance at the meetings of Mount Ida Council, Royal Arcanum, shows the appreciation by the members of the efforts of their entertainment committee.

The refreshments served after bowling have been enjoyed and those who have turned out speak in glowing terms of the success of this move.

On Monday evening, April 24th, the Council will hold a dance in its rooms, Dennison Hall, Newtonville. The committee have been fortunate in securing the services of Haines Orchestra and the hearty co-operation of the members has assured the success of this occasion.

12 INNING GAME

Newton High won its third ball game Wednesday morning, defeating Boston Latin, 3 to 2 in a game which went to three extra innings.

It was the best school game that has been witnessed in this city for several years and 2500 spectators were kept on edge. The contest abounded in spectacular catches, sharp fielding and timely hitting.

The game was more or less of a pitcher's battle between Bob Spalding of Newton and George Heyer of Boston Latin. The former was afforded the better support.

Both teams had several opportunities to score after the fourth inning, having runners on the bases almost every inning. Boston Latin's best chance came in the ninth, but a brilliant catch by Frank Frapp in deep center prevented it.

Nelson, first man up, connected with one of Spalding's shoots, driving it into deep right center. Frapp made a back-hand catch, shutting off a home run. Fish, the next batter, singled.

Newton fielded perfectly, not having an error. Frapp alone had eight chances while Hyatt in left field pulled off four nice catches. Tapley at shortstop and Henry Nash on first did some fine fielding.

The backstop work of John Fish of Boston Latin was of high order, not a Newton player stealing a base on him. Heyer's fielding and Bernard Nelson's hitting were also features.

In the last of the 12th Whitney went to second on Hyatt's out, Ormsby to McCarthy. Heyer tried to catch Whitney off second and threw wild allowing Whitney to take third. Then Henry Nash picked out one to his liking and singled over short, bringing Whitney home with the winning tally.

In the first home game of the season, Saturday afternoon, the ball team won from Stone school of Boston, 3 to 1. Coach Alfred Dickinson tried out Spalding, Whitney and Cady in the box, and all three performed well. The former had the Beacon-st schoolboys at his mercy while he was on the mound, allowing only two hits and striking out six.

Only six hits were made off Capt. Hernandez of the Stone school team, and the five errors made back of him had much to do with Newton's winning.

On Monday afternoon, Roxbury Latin was utterly routed, with a score of 30 to 5. Newton made 22 hits to 4 for Roxbury.

OLD ARMORY CLOSED.

The state police have ordered the old armory hall on Centre place closed until certain improvements have been made. The armory had been engaged for many concerts and dances after Easter, and the organizations are having trouble in selecting other halls. The order to close the hall did not reach the societies and clubs until after the printing and arrangements had been completed. The reason given for closing the hall is that the doors open in, instead of out. The dance that was to have been given in the hall next Monday evening by the Garden City mutual aid association will be in Bray hall instead, and the Beechwood club, which had engaged the hall for Tuesday night, will have its dance in the high school drill hall.

MR. HUTCHINSON'S WILL.

The will of the late Winfield S. Hutchinson leaves $5000 to the New England Kurn Hattin Homes Association of Westminister, Vt., as a memorial to his son, $2000 is left to Mrs. Cecilia Powell in recognition of her faithful services to his son and wife and Mrs. Margaret Smart is given $500 for the same.

THE NEWTON CLUB

Saturday, April twenty-second. Bowling Finals 8 p. m.

Members and guests enjoyed both bridge whist and dancing Tuesday evening, 18th inst. There was a progressive bridge party of 11 tables at which prizes were taken, in order named, by Mrs. W. E. Jackson, Mrs. H. K. Hallett and Mrs. W. H. Rogers. In the large hall about 50 couples enjoyed the German. The favors were particularly pleasing and added much to the enjoyment. The matrons were Mrs. F. L. Nagle, Mrs. Lincoln Righter, Mrs. C. H. Vee and Mrs. H. A. Young. A table d'hôte dinner was served between 6 and 8 o'clock with refreshments during the evening. It was considered one of the most successful entertainments of the season, which has been remarkable for its many enjoyable gatherings at the big clubhouse.

In the ladies' bowling tournament Mrs. Blair's team still leads. Patriots' Day bowling totaled over 200 strings. A busy time for the alleys. Best 3 strings and highest single were made by Mr. O. V. Walker, who took the 3 string prize giving single string prize to Mr. Homer Ely, next highest score.

The library committee acknowledge gift of 20 volumes of Bulwer's novels from Mr. Henry C. French. This is a handsome addition to the library which now numbers over 100 books and many members are still to be heard from.

MASONIC EXEMPLIFICATION.

An exemplification of the work and lectures pertaining to the symbolic degrees in Freemasonry took place Saturday afternoon and evening in the Masonic hall. The participants were the eight lodges in the fifth district. Right Worshipful George C. Flett is the deputy and George M. Rogers, PM of Belmont lodge, is his marshal. The ceremonies were under the supervision of Frederic L. Putnam, GL.

There was an adjournment at 5:30 for dinner, then the exercises were resumed, the attendance of the craft at night being larger than in the earlier part of the day.

The masters and wardens of the lodges that took part were: Bethesda—James H. Dalton WM, James Young Jr SW, Irving G. Findlay JW.

FRENCH—FREEMAN.

One of the notable Easter weddings took place at the home of the bride's parents, Capt. and Mrs. Anthony Collins Freeman, in Wellfleet, Mass., on April 18th, at high noon, when their only daughter, Grace Anthony, was united in marriage to Dr. Robert Veller French, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wales French of Newtonville.

Both of the young people are of Puritan ancestry and Mayflower descendants, Miss Freeman being a lineal descendant of Elder Brewster and Dr. French of John Turner and of later date, Lieut. Edward Turner, one of the Lexington minute men.

Dr. French is a graduate of Boston University School of Medicine, a member of the Phi Alpha Gamma Fraternity, the Masonic Fraternity, The Newton Club and the Malden Club. He has recently been elected a member of the medical staff of the Malden Hospital.

The bride, who is a tall brunette, wore a beautiful wedding gown of heavy white satin, which was draped toward the left side and fastened under a fall of duchess and rose point lace, extending down to the hem, the yoke was embroidered with pearls. The bridal veil was of tulle with a drapery of rare old family lace and a wreath of orange blossoms. Veil, lace and blossoms were worn by the groom's mother at her marriage and had been carefully preserved. The bride's only ornament was a necklace and pendant of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses.

The officiating clergyman was Rev. S. F. Johnson of the Methodist Episcopal church, the double ring service being used, the bride being given in marriage by her father, Master Walter Young acted as ring bearer. Dr. Hollis G. Batchelder of Dedham, Mass., attended Dr. French as best man, and Miss Louise Floyd of Tauntonville, Conn., was maid of honor, both being college classmates. The brides only bridesmaid was Miss Ruby Case of Canton Centre, Conn., also a classmate in blue messaline and Miss Elizabeth Gorton of Hartford, Conn., gown in apricot satin with duchess lace and silver roses.

Dr. and Mrs. French were assisted in receiving by Capt. and Mrs. Freeman and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. French. Mrs. Freeman wearing a handsome gown of silver grey satin, charméuse with lace and touches of coral, and carrying a bouquet of pink roses.

Mrs. French wore an empire gown of violet satin, interior, with white chintilly lace tunic, over which hung a long panel of the satin heavily embroidered in amethyst and gold beads, rose point lace bertha and a diamond necklace. She carried a bouquet of lavender sweet peas.

The rooms were beautifully decorated in wandering pine, Easter lilies and white tulips, while a touch of spring was noticeable in the dining room where there was a profusion of trailing arbutus which grows so abundantly on the Cape.

After a short absence Dr. and Mrs. French will go to their home in Malden, Mass., where Dr. French has a rapidly growing practice.

Mrs. Freeman entertained a large house party over the week end several of the guests motoring down from Boston and Hartford to attend the wedding. Among the guests present from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. George W. Sweet of Dorchester, Mr. Frank H. Sweet of Chicago, Mrs. Alex. Millan of Cambridge and Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Baker of Quincy.

ALDERMEN RAISE RATE FOR DUST LAYING

There is absolutely no doubt but what the meetings of the aldermen this year are the most interesting for many seasons and that held on Monday night made a new record with charter objections, points of order and other features of parliamentary practice. Vice-President Moore was in the chair in the absence of President Jones, and wielded the gavel like a veteran, altho it was his first appearance as the presiding officer. Besides President Jones, Aldermen Beale, Leonard and Woods were also absent. Uninteresting hearings on petitions of the Telephone company for poles on Forest st and for attachments on Omar terrace and of the Edison Company for attachments on Austin st, Beach st, and Hunnewell avenue and on laying concrete sidewalks in Waterston road, under the betterment act, were held with no one in opposition.

The reappointment of Andrew Prior as Sealer of Weights and Measures was confirmed with 15 ballots in favor.

The mayor also recommended the construction of a new city garage in rear of the present police headquarters at a cost of $5000. He also sent in the request of the temporary Buildings Commissioner that the building ordinances be revised.

Petitions were received from licensed junk dealers that the license fee of $25 be reduced, from Joseph Roiter for a junk license, H. F. McIntyre for street sprinkling on Franklin st., and of Mrs. C. F. Johnson for damages on account of personal injuries. Petitions of A. D. McDonald for a wagon license, of Clifford F. Green and Harry Hastie for minors licenses, of the Hunnewell Club for bowling alleys, billiard table and pool table licenses, of J. F. Schworer to move building across Greenwood st., of forest freezer for common victualer license and of E. A. Robinson for an auctioneer license were granted. Hearings on May 15 were ordered on petitions to keep gasoline by A. P. Friend, Prince st., and F. W. Brown, Berkeley st.

Communications were received from the temporary Buildings Commissioner relative to applications of the Edison Co to erect a temporary wooden building on Centre st Newton Centre for demonstration purposes and of the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway Co to erect an open wooden shed for car storage on Auburn st. Both applications were granted.

The real fun began when the lengthy report of the License committee was presented recommending granting the usual batch of yearly licenses.

Objections were made to consideration of the matter in open session. Alderman Blakemore asking the board to consider them in committee of the whole. Alderman Gray opposed this motion and it was defeated by a vote of 9 to 8. Alderman Gray then made a statement of which the following is a part.

The Committee desires to call to your attention two classes of privileges, viz., sixth class licenses granted to druggists and permits to transport liquors granted to expressmen.

The clear intent of the law regulating the granting of sixth class licenses is to provide one or more places in a city where alcoholic liquors can be purchased for medicinal, or mechanical purposes. Clearly the law was not intended to provide convenient places, in no-license cities, where intoxicating liquor could be purchased for use as a beverage. An overwhelming majority of the voters of Newton record themselves against the licensing of the sale of intoxicating liquors. Your Committee is repeatedly asked, "Is the law respected by those who hold sixth class licenses?" and "Is it not a fact that the bulk of the liquor sold by the holder of sixth class licenses is sold to persons whom the druggist knows purchase it solely for use as a beverage?"

Early last year the Committee requested the Chief of Police to report to it monthly all sales of liquors as shown by the books of the druggists holding sixth class licenses. For the ten months ending March 31, 1911, these reports show the sale of 18830 quarts of liquor classified as follows:

Alcohol 1060 qts, Ale 2493 qts, Beer 113 qts, Brandy 171 qts, Gin 823 qts, Malt 286 qts, Porter 592 qts, Rum 1510 qts, Stout 119 qts, Whiskey 11320 qts, Wine 343 qts.

From these figures it appears that the liquors commonly used as beverages viz., whiskey and rum, represent 3207 gallons or 68 per cent of the total sales.

Complaints are made by employers that their employees, when sent into certain sections of the city, return semi-intoxicated and unfitted for work and that they procure their liquor in certain licensed drugstores: that examination of the sales books, required to be kept by druggists, show large numbers of what may be termed "regular" customers, "regular" of not only one drug store but of more than one drug store and that there seems to be an epidemic of disease requiring liquor treatment on Saturday—e. g., the daily sales of one druggist from Monday to Friday average from 8 to 10 while on Saturday they jump from 20 to 40 sales. It is also charged that there is another class of customers termed "special" in that they are not required to sign the liquor register where they make a purchase.

The second class of licenses to which reference was made is that granted expressmen and which permits them to transport liquors duly consigned by the dealer to the consumer. Upon delivery the expressman is required to secure the signature of the consignee in a book provided for the purpose. Complaints are made that signatures are not always required and that certain expressmen traffic in liquors.

It is not the province of this Committee or of this Board to investigate these rumors and these complaints, or to see that the laws are enforced; that function of government belongs to the Executive and the Police. It is the duty of this Committee and of this Board when evidence is presented to it respecting the fitness of an applicant to carefully consider it in determining whether the applicant is a proper person to be granted a license.

Your Committee feel that they voice the conservative sentiment of the citizens of Newton in stating that they believe the policy heretofore existing in granting sixth class licenses and permits to bona-fide expressmen to transport liquors is in the interest of temperance and good morals; that the citizens of Newton desire and expect a strict impartial enforcement of the laws regulating these two classes of licenses. To this end your Committee believe the taxpayers will approve such expenditures of money as may be necessary to provide sufficient police officers to see that the law is enforced. If this is done an additional officer must be appointed for we are all aware that our present force is barely adequate to properly police the city.

It is the unanimous judgment of the Committee that an additional officer should be added to the police force and that under the direction of his Honor, the Mayor, and the Chief of Police an officer should be detailed whose duty would be to enforce strict compliance with the law, and through the Chief keep this Committee and this Board fully advised as to the business and conduct of the several licenses.

Alderman Blakemore said that he did not think the board fully understood the provisions of the law governing sales by druggists, without a license and on a physician's certificate. He asked that this method be given a trial in this city alleging that it had worked well in other places. The reports of the police show that the average druggist is doing an honest business, and such men do not need a license. The few who are actually doing a 4th class business ought not to have the license. The reports show that in January 470 gallons of liquors were sold by druggists. The Newton Hospital with an average of 100 patients uses 7 gallons of liquor a month and these figures indicate that there were 6700 sick persons in Newton in January. Mr. Blakemore did not believe this indicated a legitimate sale of liquor. He then entered a charter objection to granting the licenses at this time. City Solicitor Slocum was called upon and gave his opinion that a charter objection did not apply to this form of aldermanic business and a motion to lay on the table was defeated 7 to 9.

Alderman Heard said the committee had given the matter careful consideration. He did not believe there was ought to dislodge the statute which plainly stated that at least one license must be granted. The board, he said, is familiar with the situation in Newton, and its policy in the past, and know that the trouble is due to the lack of men in the executive department. An additional police officer will better the conditions.

Alderman Murphy opposed the physician's certificate as adding unduly to the cost of legitimate liquor purchases and as encouraging a cheap class of physicians for the purpose of issuing the certificates.

Alderman Avery took the chair, while Vice President Moore said that the committee felt keenly the responsibility and had tried to find a solution of the difficulty. They would like a trial of the method proposed believing that if it did not stop legitimate sales, it would aid to secure a more strict enforcement of the law.

The licenses were then granted as follows:

SEASON OPENS.

The golf season in Newton was formally opened on Wednesday and every club held the first tournament of the year. While the links are not in the best of condition so early in the season, the club officials made valiant attempts to give the players the best possible conditions and were mostly successful.

At the Albemarle club, there was an 18 hole handicap medal tournament with a large number of entries, many of whom, sad to say, failed to turn in their cards. Mr. W. S. Boyd with a gross of 89 and a net of 73 won the gross score, while Mr. William Hickox Jr. with 79 made the best net.

The Woodland club opened its renovated club house and held an 18 hole medal handicap in the morning, with B.
S. Turpin and F. Ouimet tied at 74 for best net in class A and J. C. Kenney won class B with the same score. C. P.
Whorff won class A in the afternoon and G. A. Bath in class B on a bogey handicap.

The holiday cup was the attraction at the Braz Burn with points being awarded A. J. Paul 3, P. Gilbert 2 and H. A.
Roark 1, while Mr. Paul won the best net and Mr. Gilbert the best gross scores.

At the Newton Golf club, Mr. R. L.
Chipman won the best ball match while
M. Stanton won the second place.

Fox as a Gamester.

Charles James Fox, the English statesman, was even more notorious in the gaming world than he was famous in the world of politics. He had squandered $250,000 before coming of age. He became one of the most prodigious gamblers of the vicious days in which he lived. Some of his finest displays in debate were sandwiched between excitement such as would nerve most men who had no serious business on hand. Walpole has given a glimpse of a typical passage in this extraordinary man's life. He had to take part in the discussion on the thirty-nine articles in parliament on a certain Thursday. He had sat up playing hazard from Tuesday evening until 5 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. An hour before he had recovered $10,000 that he had lost and by dinner time, which was 5 o'clock, ended losing $65,000. On Thursday he spoke in the debate, went to dinner at past 11 at night; thence to a club, where he drank till 7 the next morning; thence to a gambling house, where he won $30,000, and between 3 and 4 in the afternoon he set out on a journey to Newmarket.

Pirates and Strategy.

The virtuous island of Sark was not always so. When Edward III. was king, Sark was a haunt of pirates and wreckers. Sir A. Conan Doyle in "Sir Nigel" tells how they lived not upon the island, "but from what they can gather upon the sea around it. They are broken folk from all countries—justice fliers, prison breakers, reavers, escaped bondsmen, murderers and staff breakers who have made their way to this outland place and hold it against all comers." The merchants of Rye and Winchelsea fitted out an expedition against those scourges of the narrow seas. A landing was obtained by strategy. Leave was obtained to bury a supposititious dead sailor on the island, the burying party to come unarmed. But that apparent coffin was filled with weapons, and so was Sark cleansed of its evil inhabitants.—London Standard.

A Story of Mathews.

Charles Mathews one day previous to the period of his publicly proclaimed dire bankruptcy invited a friend to dine with him. The walnuts were washed down by some rare sherry. "That's a delicious wine," his friend exclaimed. "It must have cost you a lot of money." "It didn't cost me anything that I know of," the flighty comedian answered, with a shrug. "You had it given to you, then?" the friend suggested. "Oh, no," answered Mathews; "I bought it from Ellis, in Bond street." "But he will charge you something for it?" the friend exclaimed in astonishment. "I believe he does write something down in a book," Charles retorted gravely. "Let's have another glass, my boy."

When Tea Was Dear.

Those who grumble at the price of tea should turn for consolation to the records of its price in early times. At its first introduction into England, about the middle of the seventeenth century, tea fetched anything between £0 and £10 a pound, and though a fall in price quickly took place the East India company still had to pay over £4 for the two pounds of tea which it presented the king. However, even thus it is doubtful if the tea merchants got very fat, seeing that the importation of some 4,000 pounds in 1678 was enough to glut the market for some years.—London Chronicle.

English Injustice.

An Australian tourist travelling in the west of Ireland asked an old woman how far it was to the nearest town. She sadly looked at him, then sighed and said: "It was five nice miles two years ago, but some English brute came over with chains and made it seven, and our hearts are broke walking it ever since. Bad luck to them!" And she disappeared into the house, leaving him there.—Illustrated Bits.

Cramp in the Leg.

To those who suffer from cramp in the leg at night the following hint may be useful: When the cramp comes on take a good strong strychnine long garter will do—wind it round the leg over the place that is affected and take an end in each hand and give it a sharp pull, one that will hurt a little. Instantly the cramp will depart, and the sufferer can return to bed assured it will not come on again that night.

A Mean Question.

"Yes, it was George's idea to give me a silver spoon for every birthday." "How many has he given you?" "Why, twenty-two." "Why did he stop?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Cautious.

"I have a remarkable history," began the lady who looked like a possible client. "To tell or sell?" Inquired the lawyer cautiously.—Washington Herald.

A Dubious Saying.

He—They say that the face is an index of the mind. She—I don't know. It doesn't follow because a woman's face is made up that her mind is.—Boston Transcript.

It Takes Time.

"Has little Mrs. R. consoled herself over her husband's death yet?" "Oh, no; no yet! You know what a long time these insurance companies take to pay!"

We must not sit down and look for miracles.—Elliot.

THEATRES

Park Theatre—"The Commuters" now in its tenth week at the Park Theatre, Boston, is still playing to crowded houses, with every indication that it will finish out the season and complete the longest run ever recorded in the annals of Boston theatrical history. Mr. Nicholas Young in the "American," among other things, says: "There is more than an evening's pleasure in 'The Commuters' for any man or woman living outside of the city limits. Mr. Forbes caught all of the familiar suburban characters on the tip of his pen, and he dropped merrily into many of the problems that keep commutating from being commonplace and dull. 'The Commuters' is a rollicking farce, that has an abundance of real truth behind every laugh. And you will laugh." The Boston "Journal" says: "Brilliant comedy at the Park Theatre. 'The Commuters,' a scream from rise to fall of curtain. 'The Commuters' is a laugh from beginning to end. It is a scream. Coming after 'The Chorus Lady' and 'The Traveling Salesman,' and being better than both, one who says those may realize just how good 'The Commuters' is."

R. F. Keith's Theatre—The biggest thing in vaudeville has been the verdict in regard to Paul Armstrong's "A Romance of the Underworld," which has been doing a tremendous business at R. F. Keith's Theatre this week. This mammoth production with no less than 35 speaking parts or more to be found in the average four act play, has been the talk of Boston. Mr. Keith has arranged to give outside of this a show which would be considered remarkable under any circumstances. It will be headed by Neil O'Brien, the famous comedian of Lew Dockstader's Minstrels. Another strong feature will be Jack & Violet Kelly, the Australian stock whip experts. On the same bill will be Lyons & Yocco, the wonderful street singers, Marie & Billie Hart in something entirely new in the way of circus entertainment and Nelly Nichols, the Western comedienne who created such a sensation when she last appeared in Boston; the Marie-Alice Trio, of equilibrist, and other features will complete a remarkably strong bill.

Colonial Theatre—Monday April 24th will usher in at the Colonial Theatre, Boston, what may be termed the "Home coming of 'The Arcadians,'" for that delightful musical comedy, which enjoyed a record engagement here early in the season, returns to us, for two weeks only, before continuing on a tour that has been one long ovation. "The Arcadians" returns to Boston with the additional record of having held together for so long a time a cast including Frank Moulton, Julia Sanderson, Percival Knight, Alan Mudie, Ethel Cadman, Harold Clemence, Mary Mackid, Lawrence Grant and H. H. Meyer, and this cast has been further strengthened by Josephine Hall, one of the best-known of American musical comedy artists. While "The Arcadians" comes here with all the favorites of the early season and all the songs which so quickly became famous, it will celebrate its second Boston engagement by several new features of song and dance. Owing to the elaborate musical program the evening performances will begin promptly at 8 o'clock and the Wednesday and Saturday matinees at 2 o'clock.

Castle Square Theatre—Another week of "The End of the Bridge" at the Castle Square. That tells the whole story of its overwhelming success. More than one hundred thousand people have come from within a radius of fifty miles of Boston to see this play, and they are still coming without the slightest signs that they will not keep on coming for many weeks. The popularity of "The End of the Bridge" is unexampled. It fills the Castle Square Theatre at every performance, and with matinees each day, that means no less than twelve times a week. Mr. Craig as the doctor, Miss Young as the heroine, Miss McDannell as the boy, and Mr. Hassell as the lawyer all help to bring about the great success of Miss Lincoln's play. It will be continued at the Castle Square till further notice.

Hollis Street Theatre—"Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" which proved to be one of the most popular of last season's dramatic successes in Boston where it ran for nine weeks to crowded houses is announced for a return engagement of two weeks, commencing Monday April 24th, at the Hollis Street Theatre. The entire original company and production returns to Boston direct from a triumphant engagement of seven months at Belasco's Republic Theatre, New York. The story transpires in a little village, amid the sunshine of the open air and in the shade of majestic trees, with beautiful fields stretching away in the vista. Rebecca, the heroine, only 13 years old and a poor relation, arrives in the stage-coach to take up her abode with a crabbed old aunt. During the three acts her childish romping with four other children, and her occasional sorrows, due to the failure of her severe old guardian to understand child nature make up the light and shade of the picture.

Do you want to know about a wonderful new time, health and money-saving kitchen convenience?

Then you should see the complete line of "1892" Pure Spun Aluminum Cooking Utensils now on exhibition at your dealers.

This ware is guaranteed by the makers for 25 years. It is absolutely pure, wholesome and thoroughly hygienic, will not crack, scale, peel, break, rust, tarnish, scorch or burn.

It is light weight, easy to handle and easy to clean; makes kitchen work a delight instead of drudgery; saves your money, time, fuel; protects your health against metal poisoning and serious troubles resulting from chipping of small particles into the food, which is one of the dangers from the use of the old style enameled wares.

You buy patent carpet sweepers, egg-beaters, dish-washers, clothes-wringers and many other time and labor saving conveniences, but there is nothing that will prove a greater practical household blessing than the "1892" Pure Spun Aluminum Ware.

Lose no time in seeing for yourself what it will do. Your money back if this ware fails to do what is claimed for it.

There is considerable to praise and something to criticize in the suggestion of Mayor Hatfield that the duties of the Public Buildings department be divided among other city departments. Placing the care of the grounds around the public buildings in charge of the Forest Commissioner is a wise step and cannot fail to be beneficial. It is also common sense to give the school department full charge of repairs of school buildings and thereby prevent unnecessary friction. This change will also place the entire expenses of the school department in the hands of the school committee instead of covering up a portion, as now, in the appropriations of another department. There is something to criticize, however, in the proposition to place all the other duties of this department in the hands of the city engineer. While it is true that the present ordinance provides that a civil engineer may hold the office of public buildings commissioner, it was evidently the thought of the framers of the ordinance that such an official should be employed entirely on the duties of that department. The city engineer has most important duties in connection with streets, sidewalks, sewers and water mains and as there is a crying need for more thorough inspection of new building construction, it is evident that a consolidation of these two departments means that a portion of the work at least would be actually done by assistants and not by the responsible official, himself. It should be said, however, in justice to our efficient city engineer that if this work continues to be done by his office, he will see that it is done thoroughly and effectively. At the same time, it should be acknowledged, that on account of the physical condition of the former commissioner, our building inspection has been sadly neglected and there is imperative need for radical action in this department. Many of our best architects and builders believe that the department should be maintained as at present, with an efficient commissioner at its head, and that in addition there should be a revision of our building ordinances. With the transfer of the public ground work and the care of the school buildings to other departments, it would be a question whether it is necessary to appoint a commissioner whose principal duty would be the inspection of building construction, with a total number of new buildings, averaging about 350 yearly. It is an interesting problem for the aldermen to work out.

The inner workings of the present agitation towards closing the local post offices on Sundays are most interesting. We have gone on these many years, the clerks and carriers giving the public their time on Sunday mornings without extra compensation, and we have heard nothing whatever about the tremendous public sentiment against such pernicious practices. When a reluctant Congress however, passes a bill intended to relieve the post office employees to the extent of allowing them compensatory time off during the week for their labors on Sundays, the wheels began to move, though out of sight of the ordinary citizen, and churches and ministers awoke to the heinousness of the present custom. The really funny part of the campaign to arouse public sentiment to sustain the post office department is the request to poll the various church congregations. I presume that church congregations in Newton could still be found who would cast a good majority in favor of stopping the running of steam and electric cars, close up the telephone exchanges and discourage the sale of Sunday newspapers. It would be a rash prophet, however, who would predict from such action that the public opinion of the entire city runs in those directions. It is so with the Sunday mail. The manly way would be to continue the present convenient custom and pay the post office employees for the service rendered.

In connection with the temporary appointment of the city engineer as public buildings commissioner, it should be noted that the city now has three departments in charge of temporary officials, under the statute passed last year when former city auditor Otis was seriously ill. I do not believe that the Legislature intended when it passed the 1910 law that it should operate to keep departments under temporary heads as Mayor Hatfield is now doing. There should have been a time limit inserted in the law, as it is now possible for the mayor to run the city with men who might be objectionable to the board of aldermen, the confirming power under the statute. The Charity, City Messenger and Public Buildings Departments are now in this class and I do not believe it is conducive to good government to allow this condition of affairs to continue.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME.

Two important national matters were passed upon by the House this week, one providing for a constitutional convention for the purpose of direct election of United States senators, on which all our representatives were in the negative, altho, it is possible that on a motion for a direct amendment to the constitution for this purpose that some of them might have been in favor. A constitutional convention, however, opens the way to other amendments than that for election of senators and might be objectionable on that account. On the proposed amendment to the constitution for a federal income tax, two votes were taken, one last Friday, and again on yesterday when reconsideration was asked by Speaker Walker. All our representatives were in the negative on this matter also, altho both amendments were favored by the House by good majorities. Being in the minority is becoming chronic with the Newton men, as they were also against the bills to authorize peaceful persuasion in times of strikes, relative to punishment for violations of injunctions and to authorize additional work on state highways in times of distress, all of which were passed.

The death of Col. William M. Olin is generally regretted, as he was personally very popular. It is true that his conduct of the office of secretary had made many official enemies and Representative Wood of Cambridge had already announced his candidacy against him for next fall. His death throws the election of his successor into the General Court and Representative Langtry, editor of the Springfield Union will be a candidate for the Republican nomination with Mr. Wood. As Mr. Langtry is a warm personal friend of Representative White he will be sure of at least one vote from Newton, and ought to receive all three.

MYRICK-BERRY.

Miss Sybil S. Berry of Newtonville became the bride of Mr. John B. Myrick of West Newton, on Wednesday evening. The ceremony took place in the Unitarian church of West Newton in the presence of fully 500 guests and Rev. Julian C. Jaynes officiated.

The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. Wesley W. Blair and was caught up with a spray of orange blossoms. She was attended by Miss Rachel Myrick as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Elizabeth Judkins of Newtonville, Miss Doris Hough of New Bedford and Miss Eva Hamilton of Boston. The best man was Mr. James H. Myrick 2d, and the ushers were Messrs Max C. Sherman of Brooklyn, N. Y., Edward C. Tolman of West Newton, Franklin L. Myrick of West Newton and Asline Ward of West Newton and Gustaf A. Nielson of West Newton and Allen A. Gould of West Newton.

The maid of honor wore a beautiful gown of champagne crepe, while the bridesmaids were in pink crepe over pink satin and all carried daybreak pinks and white lilies.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's uncle at 34 Otis street, at which the couple assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Myrick, parents of the groom and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley W. Blair received the guests.

The house was attractively decorated with potted palms, Southern smilax and daybreak pinks.

OVER $100,000 RAISED.

None of the Easter services in this city equalled in enthusiasm and interest that held at the Second Congregational church of West Newton where the third annual Easter subscription for the Church Building Fund was announced to a large congregation. The floral decorations were most beautiful and the sermon and music, most inspiring. Mr. Benjamin S. Palmer presented the results of the work of the committee in his usual eloquent and happy manner and aroused great enthusiasm with the figures for the year of over $43,000, of which $6,000 were received in cash and pledges that day. This amount made a grand total of $98,700 in sight for the new building and to which the ladies have over $2,000 pledged for furnishings making about $101,000 available. It is expected that committees to take up the actual work will be appointed in the near future.

INDUSTRIAL CONDITIONS CONFERENCE.

The Department of Industrial Conditions of Women and Children of the State Federation will hold a conference at Worcester on May 5th at the Worcester Woman's Club House. The morning session will open at eleven o'clock.

The State Federation will hold its annual meeting at New Bedford on May 24, 25 and 26. Further details will be given in this column later.

At Odd Fellows Hall, Newton Highlands, on April 17th, Mrs. Sweetser entertained the members of the Monday Club. Miss Alberta Crombie gave a most charming talk upon her "Travels in Normandy and Italy". There were also songs by Miss Blaisdell of Malden. After the intermission the report of the work committee was given and the club voted to accept their suggestion and study Egypt and Greece next season. The next meeting will be the annual business one for election of officers and will be held with Mrs. Eagles of Clark street, Newton Centre.

The usual meeting of the C. L. S. C. was omitted this week.

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Edward Miller, president of the Auburndale Revue Club, entertained the members for their annual meeting. After the usual reports the election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Edward F. Miller; vice-president, Mrs. William A. Knowlton; secretary, Mrs. Joseph R. Draper; treasurer, Mrs. William Fuller; executive committee, Mrs. E. F. Miller, Mrs. W. A. Knowlton, Mrs. J. R. Draper, Mrs. W. H. Blood, Mrs. A. R. Wells, Mrs. R. L. Bridgman. The club has contributed toward the purchase of the Louisa Alcott Home and toward a reflectoscope for the Burr School.

At the close a social hour was spent with the president during which refreshments were served. Mrs. W. J. Spaulding sang. Next season the club will continue its course on Drama, which they have greatly enjoyed for two years, going back to the Elizabethan period and coming on down the centuries.

The members of the Newtonville Woman's Guild met for luncheon at one o'clock on Tuesday, which was served for about one hundred by the social committee. Mrs. W. P. Upham, chairman. A social half-hour followed the luncheon before the club was called to order for the business of the annual meeting. There were songs by Miss Elizabeth Upham. A memorial tribute was given to Mr. A. P. Walker. After the routine business the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Enoch C. Adams; vice-president, Mrs. J. H. Wiley; Mrs. J. A. Fennel; Mrs. W. T. Rich; Mrs. Samuel Thurler, Jr.; Mrs. E. P. Hatch; Mrs. E. E. Davidson; Mrs. A. H. Terrell; Mrs. W. H. Allen; Mrs. A. C. Sherman; Mrs. E. E. Hopkins; Mrs. F. E. Spaulding; Mrs. E. K. Hall; recording secretary, Mrs. J. J. Fessenden; corresponding secretary, Mrs. H. W.

Thayer; treasurer, Mrs. J. W. Byers; assistant treasurer, Mrs. H. P. Gibbs; auditor, Mrs. F. J. Hartshorn; chairman of finance, Mrs. H. H. Carter; directors for four years, Mrs. A. P. Walker, Mrs. G. R. Pulsifer.

The club does much philanthropic work—more than most of the clubs of the city. This year it has contributed to the Newton Hospital, to the Day Nursery and the Girls' Club at Nantum, to the Associated Charities and to the District Nursing Association.

Mrs. Mary R. Martin, who has served the Guild as its recording secretary for more than twenty-five years, retired from that office at this meeting. She was given flowers as a token of esteem for her services and words of appreciation of her work were spoken informally by Mrs. Boyden and Mrs. Fessenden.

UNITARIAN CLUB.

The last meeting of the Unitarian Club for the season taking the form of Ladies' Night was held Thursday evening in the parlors of Channing church. About 150 members and guests were present and the reception was from 7.45 to 8 o'clock. President and Mrs. Charles A. Clarke, Rev. and Mrs. Harry Lutz and Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Stanley were the receiving party and the ushering was in charge of the reception committee of the club. At the business session which followed reports of the secretary and the nominating committee were read and officers elected for the coming year. Secretary, Frank H. Burt made a motion regarding a revision of the by-laws which was carried and a committee was appointed by the president to consider the matter and report later. Mr. Francis E. Stanley was then introduced and gave a very interesting and instructive paper on "Aviation". He read and stated that he took for his text the famous poem entitled, "Darius Green and His Flying Machine" and commented on the fact that the predictions in the poem had become a reality. The dynamic flying machine was the most radical and unique invention of the age with a motor for propulsion and substitution. The hot air balloon was first perfected and exhibited in Paris in 1783. Dr. Benjamin Franklin who was minister at the court of France at the time, was greatly interested and made predictions which have been verified. The first dirigible balloon was made in France in 1883. Sir Hiram Maxim was the pioneer builder of the flying machine and demonstrated the success of a practical machine over the man of science. The glider was the parent of the aeroplane and the most prominent men in its early development were Maxim, Langley and the Wright brothers. At present about 400 can operate the machines of various makes. The speaker closed by stating that the flying machine will never be used as universally as the rail road train or automobile or other wheeled vehicles and its success to any degree would be regulated by its safety, reliability, comfort, convenience and economy. Mr. Stanley showed some models during his address. A social hour with refreshments followed. The officers elected for the coming year are as follows:

President, Charles A. Clarke; vice-presidents, George H. Ellis, James Kingman; secretary, Frank H. Burt; treasurer, Robert D. Holt; executive committee, Edward Moll, James P. Tolman, Frank P. Scofield, Eugene Carpenter, Robert Clark; membership committee, Abraham Byfield, Charles Matlack, Wiley S. Edmunds, F. W. Johnson, William C. Adams; music committee, George M. Nash, T. H. Murray, Charles A. Drew; entertainment committee, Howard M. North, Henry F. Cate, Fred A. Hubbard; reception committee, Dr. F. W. Webster, A. J. Blanchard, Bancroft L. Goodwin, Francis Newhall and George G. Bradford.

ANNUAL MEETING.

A largely attended meeting of the Newton Elms Franchise Association was held Thursday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Frederic A. Wetherbee, 211 Bellevue St., Newton. Reports from the various committees were read, after which the following officers were elected for the coming year.

President, Mrs. Mary Atherton Howe; first vice-pres, Mrs. Katherine Lente Stevenson; second vice-pres, Mrs. S. J. Eaton; recording secretary, Mrs. W. E. Birdsall; corresponding secy, Miss Jeanette Grant; treasurer, Mrs. F. B. Young; auditor, Miss Anna Whiting; board of directors, chairman, Mrs. Frederic Wetherbee; Mrs. Caroline Heizer, Mrs. Willard Tripp.

The report of the Ward and Precinct Committee was a particularly interesting one, showing substantial gains in membership. During the social hour that followed piano selections were given by Mrs. Sherwood. Selections were read by Mrs. Barker, Mrs. Heizer and Mrs. Birdsall.

Newtonville

—A children's dancing party under the auspices of the Newtonville Woman's Guild is to be given at the Newton Club on Friday afternoon, April 29, from two to five o'clock. A little entertainment will also be given and refreshments served. The affair is in charge of the Industrial committee of the Guild. Mrs. A. D. Salinger, Chairman.

OLD FASHIONED PARTY.

Tennyson Rebekah Lodge No. 119 of West Newton held a very successful Old Fashioned Patriotic Party at Odd Fellows hall, West Newton, Tuesday, April 18th, at 6.30 p. m. an old fashioned supper was served of beans and brown bread, Indian pudding, doughnuts and cheese, pies of all kinds, rolls and coffee.

The hall was very prettily decorated with flags, bells and streamers of red, white and blue.

The color scheme was further carried out in the table decorations, and napkins, on which the eagle screamed and flaunted the national colors. An entertainment was held, followed by dancing 'till twelve o'clock.

The program included recitations by Mr. Charles Potter, Miss Hazel Fogwill and Mrs. Ala Farmer and duets by Misses Woolway and Ulmer.

The grand march was led by Mr. Charles Potter as "The Man from Ireland" and Mrs. Addie M. Peck as "The Daughter of the Republic," followed by Mr. Charles T. Harrington as "Uncle Sam" and Mrs. L. F. Young as Columbia.

There were many ancient and pretty costumes, Mrs. Sophia Beal as "Martha Washington" and Miss Loretta M. Betts as Mrs. Leticia Tyler made a decided hit. Mrs. Mary Manter and Mrs. Esther Bacon were the "Old Maid Sisters." Among the many others who wore costumes either colonial or patriotic were Mrs. B. P. Barlow, Mrs. Florence Newell, Mrs. Harriet Woolway, Mrs. Alice L. Beane, Mrs. Sarah Johnson, and the Misses Metcalf, Woolway, Ulmer, MacDougall and Buck. Mrs. Minnie L. Thayer and Miss Abbie Chamberlain and Miss Hazel Fogwill. Many of the costumes were much over 100 years old. The Colonial Singing Orchestra furnished the music.

BASE BALL.

The Nonantum Athletic Association won two games Wednesday beating Melrose in the morning 10 to 2 and Westville A. A. of Dorchester in the afternoon 4 to 0.

The Newton Catholic Club opened the season Wednesday afternoon by defeating the Murray team of Boston 8 to 1. Mayor Hatfield honored the club by pitching the first inning and was cheered when the first ball pitched was a strike.

One Thing She Could Do For Him.

One Saturday afternoon recently a frail little man started to cross Broadway at Forty-second street just when all sorts of fast moving vehicles were whirling their maddest patrons up Broadway. At the same instant a very fleshy lady started from the curb directly opposite with the same purpose in mind.

By remarkable luck both succeeded in escaping the passing wheels; but, as fate would have it, the little man, whose eyes were busy ogling the traffic on either side of him, darted plump into the oncoming woman at the middle of the street. The result was a sickening collision, with the little man down and out.

"You should have looked where you were going," said the fleshy woman, bending over the victim on the curb, to which he had been carried by a traffic policeman. "But is there anything I can do for you?"

"Yes," he replied faintly, opening his eyes a moment. "Get the number of the automobile that struck me."—Lippincott's.

Holy Lands of All Religions.

Christians call Palestine the Holy Land because it was the birthplace of the Christian religion on earth as well as that of the Saviour, whose birth, ministry and death are inseparably associated with the history of Jerusalem and vicinity. To the Mohammedans Mecca, in Arabia, is the holy land, it being the birthplace of Mohammed, the saviour of the followers of that faith.

India is the holy land of the Chinese and other oriental Buddhists. It being the native land of Sakya Nuni, the supreme Buddha. Ellis, one of the several divisions of the ancient Peloponneseus, was the Mecca and the Jerusalem of the ancient Greeks. The temple of Olympus Zeus was situated at Ellis, and the sacred festivals were held there each year. With Achaia it is at present a part of Greece. The believers in the Shinto religion make annual pilgrimage to Sitsa Kara, the immense stone pillar where their supreme ruler last stood while talking to men.—New York World.

Sealing a Mine.

The brilliancy of the clear autumn night was dimming in the first faint light of the dawn when the work of sealing the shafts began. Up into the cloudless sky, through the tangled steel work of the tipples, a tall tower of black smoke 300 feet high poured up into the still air and faded into the dawn. In two hours the black pits were covered, first with a layer of rails, and then on this was laid a solid bed of concrete, and two hours later only a few thin wisps of smoke that poured up through cracks along the edges of the great seal, like steam beneath the lid of a teakettle, told of the inferno that was seething in the mine 400 feet below. With the air cut off and the shaft sealed the fire could live only so long as sufficient oxygen remained to feed the flames.—Atlantic Monthly.

When the Super Is Known.

A risky uncertainty in one night stands the super. In smaller places he works until 6 o'clock in the evening, peacefully partakes of his supper and presents himself at the stage door at 7. This leaves a very brief time for his drill. The mysteries of makeup have not been solved by him, and, worst of all, every inhabitant knows him.

"Once," as Lawrence Marston tells it, "we were doing 'Richard III.' It was a one night stand, with row supers. All went well until the moment when the beavers, with King Edward's body on a stretcher, emerged from the wings.

"Set down, set down your honorable lord," began Queen Anne.

"An' do it aisy, Molke O'Brien!" called a voice from the gallery.—New York Tribune.

Damascus Olive Groves.

There is an ancient custom under which the olive groves around Damascus are guarded by official watchmen to prevent the trees being stripped of their fruit. But on a certain date the governor or some magistrate issues a proclamation warning all owners of olive trees that they must pick their fruit, for after a certain date it becomes public property. If a farmer has his crop only half gathered when that date arrives the public will gather it for him.

An Extreme Case.

"What was the trouble between Swinton and his wife? Was it his fault or hers that they were unable to get along together?"

"It's rather hard to decide. It appears that whenever one of them had an irresistible impulse the other had an unalterable objection."—Chicago Record-Herald.

How He Got Her.

"The psychological moment counts for much in a love affair."

"That is true. Ferdinand, for instance, asked father for my hand the afternoon my dressmaker's bill came in."—Washington Herald.

Hereditary.

"Look at the way baby's working his mouth!" exclaimed Mrs. Newman.

"Now he proposes to put his foot in it."

"It'll!" replied her husband grumpily. "Hereditary. That's what I did when I proposed."

He Went.

Visitor—Is your clock right? Tired Hostess (at the end of her patience and politeness)—Oh, no! That's the one we call the visitor. Visitor—What a quaint name! Why? Hostess—Because it doesn't go.

At the real estate and household fair held at Horticultural hall, which closed on Saturday last, there was, perhaps, nothing that interested the housekeeper more than the McCray refrigerators. Among them were glass, tile, enamel and wood lined refrigerators. In an interview with Mr. W. G. Bell, he states that the fair was a great success so far as their line, McCray refrigerators, was concerned; and that parties investigating all appeared deeply interested in the general construction and make up of the refrigerators.

Many a man who is calling loudly for justice would be in the county jail if he got it.

On reports of committees sewers were ordered constructed in Homer st. Cemetery ave., and Greenough st., hearings assigned for May 1 on taking land for sewer in Brae Burn road, and on laying concrete sidewalks under the betterment act on Watertown road and Pearl st., M. L. Pratt's sewer assessment on Oakland ave. was extended to 1921, leave to withdraw was given the claim petitions of Thos. Garrity, Grace J. Dunham and Fannie W. Fogg, the Edison Co. for poles on Newell road, and on license petitions of R. V. Early, S. A. Piper, common victuallers, W. C. McIntosh, wagon license, liquor permit and hackney carriage, Thos. G. Franey and A. Goodman, liquor permits.

An order for city expenses to May 15 was adopted and an order for an additional police officer referred to the Finance committee.

After a lengthy recess, nominally called for ten minutes, the board considered the matter of street sprinkling and the assessment on the abutments. The Public Works committee recommended an assessment of 3 cents while a majority of the Finance Committee favored the present rate of 2 cents. A motion to refer to a special committee was proposed by Alderman Cox and City Solicitor Slocum also asked that the order be passed before the work was actually begun. The reference was defeated. Alderman Calkins stated that the increased benefits derived from the use of oil over that of water justified the rate of 3 cents. Alderman Towle said that the figures showed it cost about 18 cents per running foot on the regular 40 feet streets, and that the method lasted for about 3 years, making an average yearly cost of 6 cents. This would make the abutment, on the 3 cent rate pay the entire cost of the work. He felt that as the entire city had the use of the oil-streets that 2 cents was enough for the abutment to pay, beyond that sum, it should be charged to street maintenance. Alderman Gray said that the method did not last for three years absolutely as something needed to be done each year and he believed that the abutment received the greatest benefit from the dust laying. The 3 cent amendment was adopted without division and the order was then adopted 12 to 5. Aldermen Chadbourne, Cox, Miller, Moore and Towle voting No.

Alderman Cox wanted to know what had become of the order of last October calling for action on the telephone situation in West Newton. Alderman Gray made a brief report of progress which did not satisfy Alderman Cox who thought it was high time something was done. Alderman Moore said that the committee was making arrangements to reach the desired result.

The petition of Lucy Bentley for an apportionment of street betterment assessments was taken from the table and granted. Orders were passed granting the Telephone Co. attachments on Kenrick st.

Pulsifer st., and Derby st., and E. E. Chick a license to move building from Clyde st. to Commonwealth ave.

The board adjourned at 11:10 after Alderman Gray had made a motion to reconsider the vote granting the sixth class liquor licenses and then had the motion to reconsider laid on the table.

ENTERTAINMENT CLUB.

The last performance of the Entertainment Club for the season was held Monday evening in the parlors of Channing church. There was a good attendance and the program consisted of an artistic reading of Maeterlinck's fairy play entitled "The Bluebird" by Mrs. Alice Harrington Parke. Later there was a reception given to Mrs. Parke at which she was assisted by Mrs. Edward M. Moore, president of the Club, and Miss Helen Clark, chairman of the committee for the evening. Refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. Howard M. North and a number of young ladies of the club. A nominating committee was appointed consisting of Mrs. Prescott Warren, Mr. Howard M. North and Mrs. William F. Garcelon with instructions to submit a list of officers to serve the coming year at the annual meeting to be held in the church parlors Monday evening, May 8th.

SMART SET DANCE.

The Smart Set dance will take place at Whitney Hall, Coolidge Corner, Brookline, on Monday April 24th. Great preparations have been made to keep up the record of its former successes. The largest hall and annexing reception rooms have been engaged. Arrangements have been made with the Boston Elevated Railway for cars in various directions at close of party. Bartholomew the caterer with assistants will have charge of the refreshments. The members of the club are highly gratified at the great number of acceptances already received and the matrons, ushers, members and friends are looking forward to having the most enjoyable party of the season.

ORGAN PROGRAM.

The following program will be played next Monday evening in First Baptist Church, Newton Centre, by Mr. John Hermann Lund in memory of Mons. Alexandre Guilman. The program consists of M. Guilman's compositions only:

- I. Fifth Sonata in C minor.
- a. Allegro Appassionato.
- b. Adagio.
- c. Scherzo.
- d. Recitativo.
- e. Choral and Fugue.
- II. Priere et Berceuse in A flat.
- III. Marche Funebre et Chant Seraphique.
- IV. Caprice in B flat.
- V. Lamentation.
- VI. Great Fugue in D.

ROSS—ALLES.

Miss Jeanette Alles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Alles of Mt. Auburn st., Watertown, and Thomas Jefferson Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Ross of Adams av., Watertown, were married Monday evening at the Grace church by the Rev. Samuel G. Babcock, archdeacon of Massachusetts, assisted by Rev. Laurens MacLure, pastor of Grace church.

A large gathering witnessed the ceremony. Many members of the class of '09 Harvard university, the groom's class were present.

The bride was gowned in a heavy ivory satin princess gown, trimmed with lace and silk embroidery and her veil was fastened with orange blossoms and lilies of the valley. She carried a large bouquet of bridal roses and lilies, and was attended by her sister, Mrs. Ruth Alles, who was becomingly gowned in pink silk with overdress of pink chiffon.

Mr. George McLaughlin of Boston was best man and George Ross, Robert Ross, John Alles, G. Frederick Frost, Morton F. Frost and William B. Richards were the ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held. The church was profusely decorated with palms, easter lilies and southern smilax.

Immediately after the reception the couple left on an extended wedding trip to New York, Washington and Old Point Comfort. On their return they will make their home in Watertown.

PATON—HILL.

The wedding of Miss Marjorie Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick William Hill of New York city, and John Archibald Paton of Newtonville, took place Monday evening at St. John's Episcopal church, Rev. Richard T. Loring, the pastor, performing the ceremony.

The matron of honor was Mrs. H. B. Sprague, a sister of the bride, and the best man was Raymond Paton, a brother of the groom. The ushers were Roland F. Gammons 2nd, Delos Gardner, Henry Bancroft Sprague and Louis Webster, all of West Newton.

The bride was gowned in a dress of white crepe meteor, and carried a large bouquet of bridal roses. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Newton club, after which the couple left on their honeymoon.

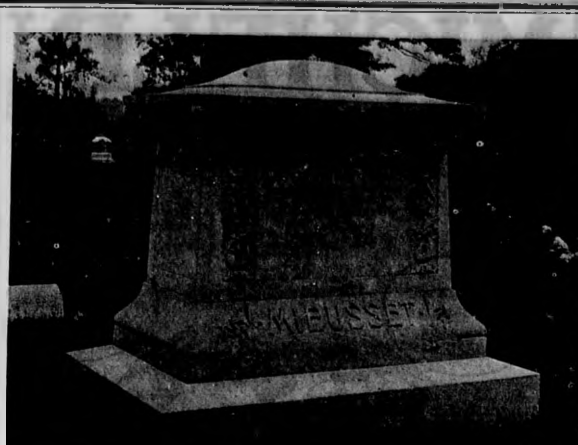

MR. MAYNARD DEAD.

Mr. Henry E. Maynard, a resident of this city for 18 years, died Friday morning at the Newton hospital after an illness lasting all winter. Mr. Maynard was born in Northboro in August, 1841, and received his early education in his home town. He removed to Boston when a young man and became employed for grocery concerns in Providence, Fitchburg and Boston until 10 years ago. After leaving that business he became a member of the firm of N. C. Whitaker & Co.

Mr. Maynard was married twice. His second wife was Miss Edith Searle of Northboro, who with two children, Mabelle E., and Edward survive him.

The funeral was held at the Mt. Auburn cemetery chapel Monday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. John Maynard, a relative of the deceased and the Mendelssohn quartet rendered several vocal selections. The body was cremated.

Witness, Charles J. McIntire, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this twelfth day of April, in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven.

W. E. ROGERS, Register.

VALUE OF PUBLICITY

Mr. Louis D. Gibbs of Oakleigh road Newton, Superintendent of Advertising of the Edison Electric Co. gave an interesting address at Springfield last week on publicity.

Mr. Gibbs described the awakening of public service corporations to the value of publicity and how this awakening has resulted in twofold advantage. First, in the way of direct returns to the corporations, and second, in the actual benefit the public has gained from the change of policy. Like the schemes for "efficiency of human effort," "efficiency of labor as related to wages and output," publicity has been practiced in isolated cases for many years. It had to wait, however, for a sort of spectacular or unusually important application before its real advantages began to be widely appreciated. The famous coal strike and famine of 1902 was the occasion, John Mitchell made the most of his opportunity at that time to secure the fullest publicity for his side of the controversy while the coal magnates were secretive in the extreme. Mitchell got the best end of the game. In 1905, when the controversy became acute and a strike was again threatened, an enterprising firm of advertising men forcibly reminded the coal operators of how things went four years before and they adopted Mitchell's tactics with approval. The result was that both sides secured full presentation and the threatened strike was avoided.

The big corporations were quick to see the advantages that the coal operators had gained. The result was that publicity departments headed by the best men that could be obtained were installed by the Standard Oil company, the American sugar refining company, all the big railroads and public service corporations in general. The field is quite covered now. The methods include advertising in daily papers, magazines, weekly papers, through the medium of house organs, follow-up letters, illustrated lectures, etc. The method or practice, that has resulted in the most good, however, has been the adoption of a general spirit of open-mindedness, a capacity for receiving impressions not only from customers but from the general public. This open-mindedness has resulted generally in an improvement of business management, operating conditions, attitude toward labor and the practice of economies that have been highly profitable. Of course, the purchasers of the commodities handled by these corporations have profited to a considerable degree.

Public opinion to the contrary notwithstanding, prices in many instances have been reduced. This is certainly so in the electric lighting industry, where the rates for electric power, both for light and power, have steadily dropped. No customer of a public service corporation need fear now that he will receive any but the most courteous treatment and his complaint the most careful and fair consideration. If any one finds that such is not the case, the hope of the management in every instance is that the affected applicant may not lose his courage, but will carry his case to the top, where it will receive quick attention and the employee who has failed to carry out this policy will find his position most insecure.

Of course the impressions that through years of ill-advised practices have become convictions in the public mind that public service corporations are grasping, that they pursue dishonest practices and that they have no interest in or sympathy with the customer except to get his money cannot be wiped out in a day or two. It may be five years, but the practice of publicity has produced a very general wholesome result, that is increasing steadily. People everywhere are coming to realize the advantages of dealing with a corporation that adopts the open-minded policy. They are more comfortable, and certainly the corporations with their thousands of stockholders and millions of dollars of invested capital are profiting largely, and are more comfortable.

HOW TIRES SHOULD BE WASHED.

Washing tires and washing a car are two different propositions. Water alone should be used to wash tires and as little of it as necessary. After every run the envelope should be wiped clean with a damp sponge or well-wring cloth.

A common mistake made by motorists is to mix kerosene with the water. This may be a wise idea when washing the body of a car to remove mud and dust from the varnish, but it should never be done when washing tires because kerosene eats rubber. This fact can be readily proved by immersing a small piece of rubber in kerosene and allowing it to soak. The rubber will soon swell and lose its elasticity. The reason for this is apparent. Kerosene is rich in fatty evaporities which remain after the evaporation of the gas. Every time a tire is washed with a kerosene mixture the rubber is deprived of more of its strength.

When washing tires it is best to simply dampen a sponge with clean water, care being taken that the sponge is not soaked and dripping. Then wipe the tire dry with a cloth or handful of waste.

This, and many other phases of the tire question are intelligently covered in the "Book of Bismund" sent free to motorists upon request by the Michelin Tire Company of Milltown, N. J.

FATHER O'TOOLE'S WILL.

The will of Rev. Laurence J. O'Toole pastor for twenty-five years of St. Bernard's Roman Catholic Church, West Newton is dated June 15, 1909, and contains public bequests to church institutions. Rev. Charles J. Galligan, assistant pastor of St. Bernard's Church, is named executor.

By the will the following named beneficiaries receive $5000 each: J. C. Whitty, superior general of the Irish Christian Brothers, the income to be used for the support of one Christian Brother; Home for Destitute Catholic Children; and St. John's Seminary, Brighton, the income to be spent in providing education for students who are providing education for parish. The residue is given to Archbishop O'Connell, due to the provision that it shall be distributed to such charitable institutions as the archbishop may elect.

The wind often travels eighty miles an hour, and that too without a ticket.

—Mrs. Alvin R. Bailey of Richardson street is in Memphis, Tenn., where she is attending the council of the general federation of Women's Clubs as vice president from New England. The general federation will meet next year in San Francisco.

—Mr. Everett E. Truette gave an organ recital in Symphony hall last evening which was largely attended by lovers of good music. The artistic program was taken from the compositions of Bach, Handel, Widor, Guilmant, Fote, Hollins, Wolstenholme and Thiele.

—The mid-week meeting at Eliot church this evening will be in the interest of the Sunday School. The superintendent, Mr. Franklin W. Gause, will be in charge and will speak on "What the Sunday School Means and Should Mean to the Church." Suggestions and friendly criticism will follow.

—Prof. Vivian of Wellesley College gave an interesting address on "Mohammedan Children" at the Easter service at Eliot church last Sunday. Several members of the school were dressed in the costumes of Foreign Missionary lands. The coming "World in Boston" was considered and selections from the Pageant given.

—In the exhibition of works of Boston artists now being held at the Museum of Fine Arts a picture entitled "Breakfast" by William M. Paxton is among those noted. It is one of his best interiors and the young couple are well presented as well as the table with its fruit and other appropriate articles. Mrs. Paxton has a picture entitled "The Breakfast Tray" which is receiving favorable comment.

—There was a large attendance at the Union Good Friday service at Eliot church notwithstanding the rain. Rev. Dr. Laurens MacLure of Grace church gave the invocation; Rev. Harry Lutz of Middlesex, deceased, intestate and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

Shoe Aristocracy Banished

The "Goodyear Welt" System of shoemaking machines—sixty of them—which reproduce the handcraft of the old-time shoemaker—has banished shoe aristocracy from the land—driven it out forever.

They have leveled to a common plane the footwear of an entire nation.
These marvelous machines—intricate and sensitive—utilize the intelligence of skilled operators in the production of shoes that are durable and comfortable as if hand-sewed, but at only one-third the cost.

This economy permits every man, woman and child to enjoy the wonderful benefits distributed by the "Goodyear Welt" shoemaking machines.
The foremost shoe manufacturers of the world employ this method in their plants.

GOODYEAR WELT

shoes for men, women, boys, girls and children are made of solid leather—they must be—for only substantial leather can be worked on these fast operating machines. Five hundred lock-stitches a minute are inserted, close, rapid and strong. Obviously cheap leather or inferior leather cannot withstand the speed of such swift flying needles. Thus "Goodyear Welt" is always a guarantee of solid, real leather. It is your insurance of wearing quality. Even the War Department recognizes it as a feature when it specifies the rapid Goodyear stitching as its standard in shoe contracts for the soldiers.

The feet of the Army are clad in Goodyear Welts. Shoes made by this method can withstand the severest marches. And they afford the greatest comfort. For these wonderful machines stitch the welt inner-sole and upper together in a seam that doesn't penetrate the inside of the shoe. Even the heavy outsole is lock-stitched to this welt with the seam entirely around the outer edge. The shoe is left smooth inside. Comfort is assured the soldier on his longest march.

Get this comfort for yourself. Just send us your name and address.
Do it today. It brings you a list of all five hundred different names of Goodyear Welts, the shoes that are real leather and smooth inside.
Some are sure to be sold right in your town. Get this list before you buy another pair of shoes. Two booklets will also be sent you free, one graphically describing the sixty machines, the other—"The Secret of The Shoe."

UNDER THE GILDED DOME.

Written for the issue of April 14.

The principal event of the week has been the unanimous report by the committee on Election laws of the direct nomination bill, which covers all offices to be filled at the state election, except presidential electors every four years.
The committee has had 18 separate bills
before it hearing on these propositions and reports a sweeping measure in place of them all. The passage of bill would radically change our method of choosing party nominees, abolishing all conventions save one for the state, to draft a platform, and give the individual voter a direct vote in selecting candidates. There is one important provision which will not suit the so called independent voter, however, as the bill distinctly and most properly provides for a party enrolment. Every reasonable man should admit that voters who habitually train with one party ought not to participate in the selection of candidates of the opposition, and it is also neither just nor right for the voter who fluctuates from one party to another to endeavor to force one party to name a certain candidate, and therefore if defeated in that endeavor, vote for the opposition at the election which follows. The bill is a long step towards meeting the wishes of many progressive people and will probably become a law.

There have been two surprising votes this week in the House. One was the substitution of a resolve in favor of biennial elections and sessions in the face of an adverse committee report,
and on which all three Newton men voted in favor of the resolve. The other was the passage of a bill changing the city charter of Boston also against a committee report. Mr. Bothfield spoke and voted against this substitution and Mr. Ellis voted with him. Mr. White, however, became Lomasneyized, and favored the bill. It is rather strange to see Mr. Bothfield, who has been a friend of civil service for years, voting against a bill to extend its provisions to certain state institutions, but as Mr. Ellis and Mr. White voted with him and as Mr. Lomasney, whose views towards civil service cannot be mistaken, voted for the bill, it is possible that the bill did not really conform to its title. In the Senate this week, the woman's suffrage bill was overwhelmed with defeat, albeit Senator Mulligan from this district was one of the 6 who voted in favor.

Representative White voted against the bill to allow Kosher meat to be sold on Sunday, although Mr. Bothfield and Mr. Ellis were in favor. Mr. Ellis and Mr. White were also opposed to the bill to require prison made goods to be marked. Both gentlemen voted in favor of the constitutional amendment to disqualify from voting persons convicted of election crimes.

All three representatives voted against the bill to allow speedy trials to persons dependent upon their own ability to support their families. On the face of it this looks like a reasonable measure, but as considerable legislation depends upon its sponsor, it is possible that the bill was "in wrong."

The House has voted to suspend the rules and admit Mayor Hatfield's petition to allow some provision to be made for payment of the assessment on account of the Charles river improvement.

Mr. Bothfield's committee on Metropolitan Affairs has reported leave to withdraw on the Real Boston bill, by a vote of 9 to 6.

Edited by Miss Grace M. Burt.

It is not necessary for the Club Editor to bespeak the interest of the club women in the Historical Pageant of Newton, which is being planned by the Newton Federation, for already they are at work most enthusiastically. But the Club Editor does ask the loyal support of all citizens of the city in its success. It has now been decided to hold the pageant on June 10, 12 and 13 on the grounds adjoining the Woodland Park Hotel. There will be accommodations for 2000 seats and 100 automobile stands. Advance circulars will be sent out quite soon to the Newton people with opportunities for securing tickets and later to the surrounding towns. If Newton people want the tickets they will have to engage them early or they may run the risk of losing their chance.
As has already been announced the proceeds will go into the general treasury of the Newton Federation and will be used for philanthropic purposes in this city.

CIVIC CONFERENCE.

By invitation of the Waltham Woman's Club the Civics Committee of the State Federation held a conference in the Universalist church, Waltham, on Tuesday, April 11, Mrs. Christina Fulton, the president of the hostess club gave a cordial greeting, after which Mrs. Jennie Stone Dame, Chairman of the Civics Committee, took the chair and introduced as the first speaker of the afternoon Miss Elizabeth A. Pincock.
She explained the merits of the Junior Civic League and urged the importance of teaching the youth of our land civic pride, civic virtue, and civic patriotism.
The work can be done in the schools or out of them, but in some way the children should be reached and taught to love their city and try to make it beautiful, clean and healthful.

Mrs. Mabel J. Smith, President of the Forthian Club, spoke of the interest in the subject among the six federated clubs of Somerville, and stated that through the co-operation of the School Board they hoped to introduce the League into the Somerville Schools. The speaker stated that they had gained help and inspiration from Miss Mabel Hill of Lowell who has introduced the subject of Civics into the Bartlett School of Lowell and has written a little book entitled "Lessons for Junior Citizens."

The subject of Juvenile Court and Probation Work was presented by Mrs.
J. W. McDonald of Marlboro, who urged the women to investigate the condition in their own towns and to secure volunteer probation officers from among their club members.

Mrs. Julius Andrews, President of the Boston Council of Jewish Women, stated that for several years the Council of Jewish Women had provided a woman probation officer for the Juvenile Court of Boston, who during the past year had charge of five hundred children, investigating their homes and school life and as other ways trying to be a big sister to them. She urged the necessity of a medical department in connection with the Juvenile Court and the advantage of having one central district court
taking in Boston and surrounding towns.
In the discussion that followed Mrs.
Austin Smith of Springfield reported that they had tried to get a woman probation officer and had found that they must get authority from the legislature.

The next subject taken up was the movement in behalf of sister Fourth and International Peace, Mrs. Henrietta Lake of the Cantabrigia Club gave an account of the Fourth of July celebration in Cambridge last year. She was followed by Mrs. Anna Sturges Duryea of Boston, who gave an eloquent plea for "Universal Peace." Through modern invention the whole world has become neighbors. We are one great family and universal peace, which has seemed a sentimental dream of the future, is becoming a practical problem of the present.
She gave as one great cause of the high cost of living the fact that two-thirds of our national revenue is spent on war and only one-third on constructive work.

Stamp and Bank Savings was discussed by Mrs. Helen Howard Buck of Wilmington and Mrs. Mary Bolster of Worcester, and great interest was shown as always in this popular department of civic work.

The subject of playgrounds was ably presented by Miss Maude Folts of Worcester. She stated that after securing a playground the next important thing was to secure a competent director, as wise and sympathetic supervision was more essential than elaborate equipment.
She emphasized the value of outdoor life for girls as well as boys, and showed how a properly supervised playground would develop a child morally as well as physically. Mrs. H. A. Wheeler told of the practical work done in Winchester
in connection with playgrounds.

The attendance was large, the discussion animated, and the social hour with the hostess club was much enjoyed.

On April 7 a meeting to consider the formation of a class in Civil Service Reform was held at the rooms of the New England Women's Club, 585 Boylston street, Boston, under the auspices of the Civil Service Reform Department of the State Federation, the chairman,
Mrs. Mabel Rogers Tabor, presiding.
After discussion and explanation it was voted to form such a study class, the first meeting to be held at the Public Library, Boston, on Saturday, April 29, at 10 A. M. The Library authorities will do all their power in having books ready for reference to assist the women in their study.

Following this action, Dr. Charles W.
Elliot gave a convincing address on the importance of Civil Service Reform to Women. He told of the bad appointments made in the past through the influence of political pull, but felt that matters are improving as people are coming to understand the value of civil service rules. He dwelt upon the importance of women informing themselves in these matters and felt that the proposed class would be productive of good results.

There was much enthusiasm shown by those present and many questions were asked, the meeting resolving itself into an informal conference. Some thirty or more will comprise the class and the outline of study to be used is one that

WILL TAKE COURSE IN FORESTRY.

Courses in scientific gardening and practical forestry are soon to be added to the curriculum of the Newton Technical High School, under the direction of Irving O. Palmer, head-master.
City Forester Charles I. Bucknam will also lend assistance, and his force of men is now at work preparing the land. Near the tennis courts in the rear of the school building the gardens will be located, and all of the product will be used in the cooking classes and served to the gardeners. The nursery will be located at the southerly end of the school, between Walnut street and the athletic field. Arrangements will be made for planting six hundred native trees.
The first consignment will consist of two hundred white ash trees. Pupils will be given instruction in planting, grafting, pruning and spraying methods and will be shown the growth of the trees by periods. A number of plants will also be set out and studied.

Pupils of the elementary grades will also take up school gardening on a larger scale than ever this spring and already land is being prepared at eleven schools, as follows: Bigelow School, Park street, Newton; Underwood
School, Vernon street, Newton; Adams
School, Crafts and Watertown streets, Newtonville; Horace Mann School, Watertown and Walker streets, Newtonville; Claffin School, Washington Park and Walnut street, Newtonville;
Franklin School, River Street, West

POLICE PRAISED

Chief F. M. Mitchell of the Newton Police force has received the following letter from Mr. Geo. B. Billings, chairman of the Athletic committee of the Boston Athletic Association.

"Dear Sir:
On behalf of the Athletic committee of the Boston Athletic Association, I wish to thank you and your officers for the good work which you did in keeping the course clear for the Marathon runners, while the race was passing through your city on Wednesday last. I assure you this is appreciated by both the Committee and the members of the Association.
Very truly yours,
Geo. B. Billings.

INSANE MAN.

Manuel T. Ferris, 30, of 10 Fayal st., Gloucester, entered the home of George S. Smith, 233 Grant av., Friday evening, suffering from a bad attack of delirium tremens. Ferris is believed by the police to have been an inmate of the Massachusetts General hospital. How he came to this city is not known. He was walking slowly on Grant av. when he was noticed to walk into the home of Mr. Smith through the front door, which was left unlocked. His sudden appearance into the home in that condition frightened a woman, whose cries caused somebody to send a hurlyup call to police headquarters. Officers Butler and Leehan were sent in an automobile to the house, and after much difficulty succeeded in placing Ferris in the auto, where he was driven to headquarters and examined by Drs. Utley and Lowe, as to his sanity. The doctors judged him insane and he was committed to Worcester.

Y. M. C. A.

A cake, candy, fancy and useful articles sale was held at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday afternoon under the auspices of the Ladies' auxiliary. This was the last sale in the old building given by the women, and they planned to make it the most successful. The proceeds will go toward their pledge for the work of the boys' department and also for the furnishing of the new building.

NEW MAGAZINE.

Believing that the future prosperity of New England lies in securing intelligent co-operation between employers and employees, J. Eveleth Griffith, a Boston publisher, has issued "New England Character," a monthly magazine to promote commercial efficiency and advance the standard of "New England Quality."

The motive of the magazine is entirely altruistic. The publisher's view being expressed by the exclusion of advertisements; his idea being that the effectiveness of a magazine of such close personal contact between employer and employee may be lost by making the magazine an advertising medium.

Articles by New England men and women and writers of National and International repute are scheduled for future numbers.

The publisher is confident that if the public obtains a right perspective of the magazine its success as a medium for the advancement of "New England Quality" standards is assured.

LODGERS.

Clan MacGillivray No. 176 O. S. C. announces that their Scottish Concert and ball takes place on Wednesday evening, May 17 in Pequossette hall, Watertown. The committee in charge extends a cordial invitation to Newton, Watertown and Waltham lovers of Scottish entertainment to patronize us of this occasion.

DONATION PARTY

A reception and donation party will be given by the directors of the Newton Hospital Aid Association at the Newton Hospital, Monday, May 1, 1911, from 3.30 to 6 P. M. There will be a special table for donations from children. Guides will conduct visitors about the hospital. Tea will be served in the dining room. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to be present.

MRS. SHAW DEAD.

Mrs. Angelina D. Shaw died Monday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edward F. Hamlin, at 58 Pelham street, Newton Centre. She was ninety-one years old and was born in Worthington, in 1820. Mrs. Shaw was twice married. Her first husband, Franklin Church, died soon after their marriage, leaving her with a son, Henry M. Church now a resident of Boston. In 1866 she married Henry W. Shaw of New York City. He died in 1890. Mrs. Shaw is also survived by a brother, who is in Minneapolis.

THE PLAYERS.

The Players will present the third series of performances on the evenings of May 8, 9, 10, when the club will present "In Honor Bound", by Sidney Grandy; "Sunset", by Jerome K. Jerome; "The Changeling", by W. W. Jacobs. The cast will include Mrs. Wakefield, Misses Macomber, Stinson, Talbot and Tapley, Messrs Carter, Condit, Crain, Glidden, Pulsifer, Stinson and Wakefield.

MR. STAFFORD DEAD.

Mr. Henry H. Stafford, a resident of Newton since 1900, died Wednesday afternoon at his home on Richardson street, after a brief illness of two weeks. Mr. Stafford was born in Boston in 1833 and spent the early years of his life in that city and in Provincetown, Mass. He was trained as a draughtsman under the late Joseph Kidder and later married Miss Catherine L. Kidder, the daughter of his employer. In 1855, on account of ill health, he went to Detroit, Mich., and later was one of the early settlers of Marquette, Mich., of which he was the first mayor. Mr. Stafford was register and receiver of the U. S. land office under Presidents Lincoln and Grant and held other political offices, including that of representative in the Michigan Legislature. He was subsequently interested in the china and glass business with his sons in Milwaukee, and retired in 1895. Mr. Stafford was a 32nd mason and a member of Lake Superior Commandery K. T. of Marquette, Mich. He is survived by five sons, Walter K. and Morgan H., of Newton, Edward O. of Marquette, Charles M. of Minneapolis and Henry L. Stafford of Duluth. Funeral services will be held from his late residence 32 Richardson street, Saturday at 2.00 P. M. and the interment will be at Marquette, Mich.

HIGHLAND HEATHER.

Here is a bunch of Highland Heather Far away from its native Moor— Far from the Land of Misty Weather— Torn from a sterile soil, and poor.

Beauty and fragrance still are clinging Round these poor blossoms—far from home— To loyal hearts a message bringing Whither-so'er the feet may roam:

So may a friendship bloom forever— Live, and endure through storm and stress; So may it grow, and wither never— Ever to comfort and to bless! Elizabeth Jacobi, April 11th, 1911.

THE NEWTON CLUB

Saturday, April 29th, 8 p. m. Bowling. Finals Individual Championship. Saturday, May 6th. Men's "Round up." Monologs, Music, Supper and Crazy Contests on Bowling Alleys.

Our Bowling Committee continued to bring out features of interest. The J. H. H. Contests of Saturday last were novel and well contested. They were one ball matches, strikes counting 10 only. Alderman Geo. M. Cox captured first prize and Dr. R. F. Hayden second.

The Individual Championship of the Club has reached the finals. Messrs. Geo. M. Cox and J. Mervin Allen survive and will roll off on the 29th at 8 P. M. There should be a large number of spectators as interest has been well maintained in these contests.

The Ladies' Tournament closed with Mrs. Blair's team, including Mrs. H. J. Nichols, Mrs. W. H. Emerson and Miss M. McGill, the winners by 23 points out of a possible 28.

In roll off of tie for second place between Mrs. J. H. Eddy's and Mrs. H. A. Young's teams the latter won. These teams had each won 19 points.

The tournament of eight teams was one of the best held by the ladies, and all look forward to another in the fall when it is expected the wives and daughters of the new members may also participate.

A "Round Up" for men on Saturday, May 6th, will add another enjoyable evening to the list of attractions.

PUBLIC MEETING.

A meeting of the Newton Improvement Association will be held on Wednesday evening, May 3, at eight P. M. at the Hunnewell Club, Newton. Mayor Hatfield will give a short talk on Newton city improvements, illustrated by lantern slides. The Street and Forest Commissioners as well as representatives of the City Government will be present. Mr. Matt B. Jones, President of the Board of Aldermen, has been asked to represent the Newton Center Improvement Association. A general invitation is extended not only to members of the Association but to all persons interested in public improvements in Wards 1 and 7 to be present at the meeting.

RECEPTION.

At the reception tendered President and Mrs. Marian L. Burton of Smith college at the Newton Club on Walnut street, Newtonville, on Monday afternoon, about 70 of the Newton alumnae were present. The Smith graduates living in Newton number about one hundred, and there are besides about fifty who did not complete the full course.

President Burton addressed the alumnae, and in the course of his remarks alluded to the work which is being undertaken at Northampton, and of his efforts towards raising a larger endowment fund.

Steps were taken towards organizing a Newton Smith Alumnae association and Mrs. John N. Eaton, Mrs. Henry O. Macy and Mrs. M. Marsden Griswold Jr. were appointed a committee to draw up a constitution and report at a meeting to be held in the fall.

The reception committee included Miss Lucy E. Allen, Miss Carol Anderson, Mrs. J. Weston Allen, Miss Mary W. Calkins, Miss Martha S. Dutton, Mrs. John N. Eaton, Miss Ethel H. Freeman, Mrs. M. Marsden Griswold Jr., Miss Sarah B. Hackett, Miss Mabel E. Jones, Mrs. Everett E. Kent, Mrs. Henry O. Macy, Miss Alice Myers, Miss Grace Weston.

MR. SYLVESTER RESIGNS

Mr. Carl A. Sylvester, general manager of the Middlesex and Boston and Lexington and Boston Street Railway Companies, subsidiary roads of the Boston Suburban Electric Companies, has resigned to become associated with the Pearson properties at Rio Janeiro, Brazil. His resignation takes effect the last of May.

CAMP FIRE.

Charles Ward Post 62 G. A. R. will hold a public Camp Fire in Temple Hall, on the evening of May 5th, at which will be given personal experiences by members of the Post, interspersed with music and war songs. To this the public are cordially invited. Seats will be reserved for the pupils of the High and Technical Schools and other specially invited guests.

MEMORIAL DAY.

At the last meeting of Charles Ward Post 62 G. A. R., Mayor Charles E. Hatfield was chosen chief marshal for the usual Memorial Day parade. The procession will form this year at Newton and the veterans will be entertained at lunch before the parade is formed. The annual supper of the Post will be held on May 9 in G. A. R. headquarters, Masonic Building, Newtonville.

NEW HAVEN CONTROLS

The New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad is to assume one-half of the annual deficit of the Boston & Albany Railroad and that as a result traffic arrangements mutually agreeable and profitable to both roads will be perfected. Under this arrangement, which is the result of conferences between the Mellen and Vanderbilt interests, the latter controlling the Albany through the New York Central lease, it is said that the plan will become effective on July 1. The New Haven will share the deficit until such time as the Albany is able to earn more than eight per cent. its guaranteed dividend, when the Mellen interests are to participate in the surplus. It is hoped that the plan will work out so well that both roads soon will be reaping a profit and that still closer relations will be established all around.

The arrangement also is said to cover a Boston management for the Albany, with the road's governing officials located in Boston, excepting that W. C. Brown, president of the New York Central, will remain the financial head with offices in New York City, as at present. Boston representatives are to replace the other officials now connected with the management of the Albany system.

Mr. James H. Hustis of Newton, as-

A STRONG PROTEST

To the Editor,
Dear Sir:

When the question of joining the Boston postal district was being agitated it was intimated that great advantages would result to the people of Newton in the way of increased service therefrom. This seems not to have been the case, for now it is proposed to deprive us of the Sunday mail. Other places however are to continue to have it, why not then Newton? Is she less deserving? Waltham is to have only the lobby—that box owners can get their mail, but the general delivery window, and the stamp window will also be open. The same is true of Boston. Is Newton less deserving? It is announced that on May 7th a Sunday mail will be run Boston to Provincetown, presumably so that the tax-dodger and the vacationist can get their Sunday mail. Why then are we who prefer, or are compelled to remain at home and attend to business, denied? If it is a question of economy, that would be one thing, but it is a question of convenience, involving one or two hours work, whereas most branches of public service are operating throughout the entire day. If the lobby is opened, one or two—at most a few clerks would be on duty for a few hours on one Sunday, to be compensated for by a corresponding number of hours off during the week, when they can attend the ball game, other men being on duty the next Sunday. It is said that many, perhaps a majority of those who come for Sunday mail, do so on their way to church. Are churchgoers less deserving of consideration than non churchgoers? A clergyman said in Boston that running of street cars on Sunday was begun to accommodate people going to church. Shall then the street cars also be dispensed with? Is it not quite possible that some of the men who now attend church would not do so regularly if they did not wish to get the mail also? There is no reason why the lobby at least should not be open on Sunday morning. Let us demand it carrying the matter to Washington if need be.

Very truly,
Business Man and Church Member.

N. H. S.

Boston English high may be dropped from Newton's schedule because of the mixup Saturday regarding the game scheduled. Manager Thornton C. Pray of Newton high says he arranged the game in November and believed that everything was all right until the day prior to the date of the contest, as he understood it.

There was apparently some misunderstanding, as the teacher manager at English high notified him that no game with Newton was scheduled. Newton was unable at the 11th hour to arrange another game. When the Newton high schedule was announced March 15 it contained a game with English high for April 22. The Boston school management, however, appears to have no record of the date named.

Newton high has made rapid strides the past two weeks under coach Alfred W. Dickinson and will be a strong contender for the Preparatory league championship. When it met Volkmann April 11 it looked like a third-rater, but Dickinson has worked wonders with the team.

A game has been arranged with Wendell Academy of Cambridge for this afternoon.

Southerly by Rowe St. sixty-two and 51-100 (62.51) feet; easterly by lot one (1) on said plan one hundred and sixteen (116) feet; northerly by land of Gulesian twenty-one and 4-10 (21.4) feet; and westerly by lot one (1) on said plan ninety-four and 5-10 (94.5) feet.

Containing according to said plan 4620 sq. feet of land.

Being a part of the same premises conveyed to said Corporation by deed of Moses H. Gulesian.

These premises are to be sold subject to all unpaid taxes or assessments if any.

Six hundred dollars will be required to be paid in cash at the time and place of sale.

Other terms announced at sale.

THEATRES

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE.—By all odds the most popular single entertainer in this country today is Nat Willis, the comedian, who has just returned from a trip to Europe, and the stories of his experiences there are far and away the most amusing he has ever offered. One great feature will be Charles Lovenberg's splendid Operatic Festival, with a full company of soloists and beautiful scenery. Howard & North, then whom there have never been any greater favorites on the vaudeville stage, will be seen in their homely and amusing country classic, "Back to Wellington." Fanny Rice, another popular favorite, will make her first appearance here in years, after a long tour of the Pacific Coast, and a new feature will be Homer Miles & Co. in a most realistic comedy of New York life called "On a Side Street." Other features will be Lane & O'Donnell, knockabout comedians; Marenga, Navarro, and Marenga in comedy acrobatics, and Leeds & LeMarr in a dancing act.

CHARLES T. NOBLE

1157 Walnut St., Newton Highlands, and the Noble Building, Galen St., Watertown, Phone 554-L. N. S. 206 N. N.

Mr. George H. Elder for 45 years a resident of West Newton died at his home on Davis street Wednesday noon, after a long period of ill health. Mr. Elder was a native of Portland, Me., and was 75 years of age. He learned the trade of a carpenter and for many years was associated with his father as a builder in Boston. He was a charter member of the Master Builders Association of Boston and was prominently identified with the building interests of that city. In 1893 he was appointed inspector of buildings for Newton by Mayor Fenno when that office was first established, and under the present city charter was appointed Public Buildings Commissioner, an office he held until his resignation on April 1st of this year. During his term of office he has had charge of construction of practically all the modern school buildings of the city. Mr. Elder built the house on Davis street in which he has lived for the past 45 years. He was a member of Dalhousie lodge of Masons and of Newton Royal Arch Chapter and was an attendant at the West Newton Unitarian church. He is survived by one son, Mr. A. Harry Elder of Newton Highlands.

Auburndale

—Mr. and Mrs. Barker are moving here from Weston and will reside on Auburn street.

—Mr. J. Franklin Rider and family will move soon from Grove street to the Goodrich house on Central street.

—Mr. Merton E. Hall of Newell road has returned from Maine. Mrs. Hall is detained there by the illness of a relative.

—Mr. Harold Cole has one of the prominent parts in the production of the comedy "Tommy's Wife" given this week by students at the technical high school, Newtonville.

—At the last meeting of the Traveler's Club held in Newton Centre Mrs. May Sleeper Ruggles, director of the Liederkreis School of Vocal training, assisted by her brother Rev. W. W. Sleeper, contributed a musical program.

—Mrs. Mary P. Davis of Central street has sent out invitations for the marriage of her daughter, Madeline, to Mr. Bernard H. Dow of Spokane, Wash., for Saturday evening, April 29 at 7.30 o'clock. A reception will follow the ceremony.

—Miss Mary Isabella McNear, the daughter of the late Capt. George W. McNear died at her home on Auburn street on Wednesday at the age of 50 years. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Church of the Messiah.

—Mr. William Gilliland, died yesterday at the home of Dr. C. P. Hutchinson at the age of 84 years. He was a native of Ryegate, Vt., and after funeral services, held last evening at his late home, the body was taken to Barnet Centre, Vt., for interment.

Waban

—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Usher of Beacon street moved on Thursday to West Dennis.

—Batter boards have been placed for Mr. C. C. Blaney's new residence on Windsor road, and work on it will be begun shortly.

—Mr. Donald M. Hill, Pine Ridge road has been confined to his home for several days with a severe case of swollen glands.

—Miss Dorothy Winchester of Pine Ridge road returned on Thursday from the Newton Hospital having recovered rapidly from an operation for appendicitis.

—A class of 5 candidates were confirmed on Monday evening at the Church of the Good Shepherd by the Rt. Rev. Mr. Parker, Bishop Coadjutor of New Hampshire.

—The Blakemore family who have been occupying the Woodbury house on Beacon street have moved to Essex and the house has been taken by Mr. Nichol and family of Roxbury.

—The various clubs and organizations of Waban are to join in issuing a call for a mass meeting in Waban hall on Friday, May 5, for the purpose of taking some definite action on the playground question.

—Mrs. J. M. T. McCarroll of Windsor road was the hostess at this week's meeting of the Waban Woman's Club on Monday. Miss Martha Shannon of Newton Centre was the speaker giving a most interesting talk on Lace and the History of Lace-making illustrated by samples and photographs.

—It is expected that the Waban Tennis Courts will be ready to commence their season on Saturday as the re-surfacing is now finished. The location of the courts makes them retain the most and moisture very late in the Spring and it is impossible to put them into condition as early as is desired.

—The Beacon Club held a meeting at the residence of Mr. Francis W. Davis on Windsor road, Wednesday evening the topic of discussion being "Greater Boston, Pro and Con." Mr. Hugh Bancroft was to have been the speaker in the affirmative but he was unable to be present and the other speaker Mr. A. W. Blakemore presented both sides. Mr. C. A. Andrews, Mr. H. R. Lane and others joined in the discussion and for a time the debate was lively. The club voted finally against both of the present plans of confederation or annexation almost unanimously.

Queered His Grandfather.

Peter Augustus had a foolish, fond old grandfather. The grandfather was boasting to a visitor one day, as grandfathers will, about the family he had raised.

"My daughter Martha is a fine young woman," he said, "and her little boy, Peter Augustus, is a fine lad. But the finest thing about that pair is the affection that exists between them. They never exchange a cross word. They're more like two young lovers than mother and son. It's beautiful to see them together. Hold on a minute, and I'll call Peter Augustus in. Then his mother will come down, and you can see their relations for yourself."

The old man rose and ambled heavily to the door. There was a beaming smile on his old face. Little Peter Augustus was playing with the cat in the garden.

"Peter Augustus!" he shouted. "Peter Augustus! Your mother wants you."

The little boy dropped the cat and fixed a searching glance on his grandfather.

"Your mother wants you, Peter Augustus!"

"Does she want to warm me?" Peter Augustus cautiously demanded.

Really Worth While.

Eben Pratt of Marshby had sent two sons to Boston and knew he had reason to be proud of them. One day a summer visitor lingering in Mr. Pratt's grocery, provision and dry goods establishment mentioned some of the shining lights who had made themselves remembered in and near Boston and others still to be found there.

"We've had a good many smart men and women in and around our city," said the visitor, "and there are a number of them left. We've got scientific men and writers and artists and musicians and"—

Mr. Pratt's dry voice broke in on the list. "If ye call those folks smart," he said, "ye want to go down near the water to an address I'll give ye and see the way my boys, Ed and Sam, can open oysters! I guess that'll give ye something to go by when ye're talking of smartness."—Exchange.

Willing to Be Honest.

Phil May, the great English artist, earned his first fame in Australia. One day a broken down minister applied to him for charity, and May engaged him as a model. As a joke he also demanded that his eighty-year-old pensioner agree to leave him his skeleton when he died. When May left Australia he called his model in. "You've played me a dirty trick," said May, "by swindling me out of that skeleton. I could have bought one in sound order and condition for half the money you're cost me." The old fellow, conscious of his base ingratitude to his best and most patient friend, answered: "Don't be angry with me, Mr. May. It's not my fault. I meant to keep my word. Stay in Sydney a few months longer and give me another chance to show you that I am a man of honor."

Redhot Plays.

"It is a tremendous undertaking to get a new play accepted and produced," once said the late Clyde Fitch to a friend. "So many are written, and so few ever see the light of day. An English playwright with a gift of humorous exaggeration illustrated this fact to me once. He told me how he submitted a play to a celebrated actor and how in the course of the conversation the actor remarked: 'Don't you think it is growing chilly in this room?' 'Yes; it is rather,' the young playwright admitted. 'Then the actor rang a bell, and a servant forthwith appeared. 'James,' said the actor, 'this room is rather cold. You may put three more manuscripts on the fire.'—Lippincott's.

A Competent Critic.

A famous actor at an elaborate entertainment at a Fifth avenue millionaire's palace in New York rose to recite Mrs. Browning's "Dead Pan." As he announced his subject and prepared to begin he heard a lady near him say distinctly: "What is the next piece? Something funny, I hope. Oh, yes—'The Dead Pan.' Dear me, how odd! Of course it must be funny—something about bad cooking, I suppose."

Playing Her Cards.

Tommy—May I stay up a little longer? Ethel—What do you want to stay up for? Tommy—I want to see you and Mr. Green playing cards. Mr. Green—But we are not going to play cards. Tommy—Oh, yes, you are, for I heard mamma saying to Ethel that everything depended on the way in which she played her cards tonight.

Cautious.

The young housekeeper was looking at some soft shell crabs squirming and wriggling in their bed of seaweed. "They're very nice," said the dealer. "Shall I send you a dozen?" "Yes," answered the innocent, "if you are sure they are fresh."—New York Journal.

25TH ANNIVERSARY.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the Lowry Young People's Christian Endeavor Society of the North Congregational church was observed Tuesday evening.

The members sat down at seven o'clock to a supper prepared by the social committee of the society of which Mrs. Willard H. Frye is chairman. About sixty members were present together with the guests of the evening. The following young ladies of the church served at the supper under the direction of Mrs. William B. Weldon, Misses Gretta Needham, Marion Blue, Jennie Wilcox, Eva Wilcox and Flora Weldon.

After supper remarks were made as follows: "The Past" by Mr. Reuben Fornkall, the first president of the society who told of the experiences, the successes and failures of the early days; "The Present" by Deacon William E. Lowry, the son of the founder of the church who commented on the opportunities which confront the young people of the parish today; "The Future" by the Rev. Charles L. Merriam pastor of the North church who gave a forward look. Rev. George S. Butters pastor of the Newton Methodist church gave the address of the evening urging the young folks to rise to their privilege in service for others.

Vocal selections were rendered by Mrs. Mabel F. Davis who was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Leslie A. Burgess.

A matter of much interest to the ladies is the fact that they can now obtain materials for window curtains and furniture coverings that will permanently retain their colors; being absolutely non-fadable. W. D. Messinger, Interior Decorator, 394 Boylston street, Boston, is making a special feature of this line of fabrics, which are shown in a great variety of colors and designs, etc.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME.

It is a rare day indeed when Governor Foss does not send in a special message or two to one branch of the General Court or the other. Former Governor Drapeau only wrote five during his two years of service, while Governor Foss has sent in over twenty to date, with more in prospect. Mr. Harvey S. Chase, of West Newton, the governor's expert, is credited with the suggestion for a state finance commission, which the governor urged in a special message the past week. Republican leaders will have but little use for a Finance Commission, although it is an open secret that Republican leaders have but little influence at Boston Hill.

The efforts of the Newton committee in opposing the Chamber of Commerce project for a "Real Boston" were successful, as stated last week, the Metropolitan Affairs Committee giving leave to withdraw. This week the committee reports a bill authorizing the Bureau of Statistics to renovate figures for a metropolitan Boston, which shall include the various cities and towns in all the metropolitan districts. The bill is entirely innocuous. The defeat of the advisory council plan is highly creditable to the Newton members, and especially to Mayor Hatfield, Alderman Franklin T. Miller, and Alderman Arthur W. Blakemore, who have put a large amount of time and work into the matter.

The special committee, of which Mayor Edward A. Walker of Waltham is chairman, sent out the following statement regarding the measure:

"The Metropolitan Affairs Committee yesterday reported to the Legislature a new 'real Boston' bill. This is the result of a compromise between the 'real Boston' committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce and the special committee representing the cities and towns in opposition."

"The Chamber of Commerce has abandoned the metropolitan council idea entirely, and the communities in opposition for their part have assented to the application of the title 'metropolitan Boston' to the cities and towns in the district for statistical purposes."

"The new bill provides that the State bureau of statistics shall tabulate the statistics of the district once in five years. It is understood that the Federal Census Bureau at Washington will note this new condition in its census tabulations. There is no provision for any governmental function of any sort, all of which brings harmony among all parties at interest."

Mayor Hatfield's bill to allow the municipalities affected by the assessment for the Charles River improvement to meet the accumulated assessment for the past five years, by the issue of bonds, has been admitted by the Legislature, and a hearing will be given this morning. There is but little question as to its passage.

The Supreme Court has given its opinion that the law of last year requiring the governor to investigate estimates of departmental appropriation, is constitutional. This Legislature is also remarkable for the number of questions which it has put up to the Supreme Court, some of them being on apparently trivial matters.

Representative White is the sole dissenter from the Ways and Means Committee on the bill to increase to $1000 the salaries of the members of the General Court. All three Newton men were against this matter when it was substituted by the House, a week or so ago.

All our representatives voted against the bill to establish a branch of the Concord Reformatory in Fall River, and to sustain the governor in his veto of the bill concerning firemen in Marlboro. Mr. Ellis voted against suspension of the rules to admit the Berkshire trolley bill, and Mr. White voted in favor.

Mr. Bothfeld has succeeded in obtaining a favorable report from the Metropolitan Affairs Committee on the matter of $25,000 for dredging the Charles river in Waltham and Newton, and it now goes to the Ways and Means Committee, of which Mr. White is a member.

Representative Albert P. Langtry of Springfield, was elected secretary of the commonwealth yesterday, to succeed the late Col. Olin. Mr. Langtry was chosen by a strict party vote. He is editor of the Springfield Union, where he has been most successful, and is extremely well qualified for the office to which he has been chosen.

J. C. BRIMBLECOM.

POINTERS FOR THE MOTORIST.

The average motorist has learned by experience to take proper care of the mechanism of his car, but he too often neglects his tires. Ordinary care accorded spare envelopes and tubes is good insurance, and will save the motorist much trouble and money.

A few suggestions at this time regarding the proper care of tires may benefit the reader:

Never carry spare tubes unprotected in the tool box—they will inevitably come in contact with sharp tools and greasy substances, resulting in their serious injury. It is a well known fact that oils and grease are deadly enemies to rubber.

Exposure to strong light and varying degrees of temperature is also very injurious to rubber, robbing it of its elasticity, and making it brittle. All of these dangers are overcome by the use of waterproof cloth bags made especially for carrying spare inner tubes. These are supplied by all accessory dealers.

Motorists sometimes carry spare tubes in the original cardboard boxes. The jolting of the car in motion causes the tubes to chafe against the sides of the boxes, eventually weakening or even wearing away the rubber. Unless the tubes are to be stored in the garage they should always be taken from the original boxes and placed in tube bags.

Most of the above hints may also be adapted to spare envelopes—exposure to strong light and dampness being particularly injurious. An envelope should never be carried unprotected on the roof of a car, or left uncovered in the garage. Waterproof wrappers or cases are made especially for the protection of spare envelopes, and their use will mean a big saving to the automobile owner.

In this connection the Michelin Tire Company of Milltown, N. J., is publishing two instruction books which contain much tire information of value to the motorist. By writing direct to the above company, both volumes will be sent free.

Quaker Church Ornamentation.

The chancellor of the diocese who refused to sanction the design for a memorial window in a Quaker church on the ground that an angel is depicted wearing the coat of arms of the dean and chapter of Carlisle would assuredly make short work of the Lincoln cathedral "Imp," which finds a place among the angels forming the angel choir in that building. Up and down England are to be found hundreds of examples of the humor of ecclesiastical architects of a past age, from the snarling griffins worked into the stonework of Henry VII.'s chapel, Westminster abbey, to the dun cow and milkmaids in Durham cathedral. A cat playing a violin can be seen in Wells cathedral, and in Hereford cathedral two cats, apparently performing a violin duet. Boston "Stump" is crowded with fantastic carvings, among which may be mentioned a wife chastising her husband, a teacher caning a pupil and an orchestra composed of bears playing an organ, a bagpipe and a drum.—Westminster Gazette.

Bread and Dyspepsia.

The conclusion that wheat bread is unfit for dyspeptics, sometimes jumped at because ill effects are noticed to follow its use, is erroneous. On the contrary, it has been pointed out by Bouchard and others that farinaceous food is peculiarly adapted to some dyspeptic patients. It is the microbes in the starch which are capable of producing irritating acids that cause the trouble. To avoid this Bouchard recommends that only the crust or toasted crumbs of the bread be used by dyspeptics, particularly those whose stomachs are dilated. The reason of this is explained by the fact that baking temporarily, though not permanently, arrests the fermentation of dough. When it is again heated by the warmth of the stomach the fermentation is renewed. In cases where the bread is toasted brown through the fermentation is stopped permanently.—Family Doctor.

She Wanted Both.

The matinee performance was about half over when a distracted looking woman with a curly haired youngster of six sought out the man in the box office.

"There are boxes on your chairs in there," she began, "and they say drop a nickel in and get a box of candy."

"Yes, I see," asserted the man in the box office.

"Well," she continued indignantly, "I dropped a nickel in for my little girl."

"And couldn't you get the candy?" queried the box office man. "Wait; I'll see if we can get it out."

"Oh, yes," answered the woman; "I got the candy all right, but I couldn't get the nickel out."

And to the ticket man at least this remark furnished a more dramatic moment than any in the play.—Louisville Times.

Dean Swift and the Cook.

"Moderation in all things" is the best precept for everyday life. There is a good story about Dean Swift apropos of the value of never overdoing anything.

The dean's cook one day overroasted the leg of mutton for dinner, and in consequence she was summoned to the dining room. "Cook," said the dean in a pleasant voice, "this leg of mutton is overdone; take it back and do it less."

"Impossible, your reverence," exclaimed the cook.

"Well," replied her master, "supposing it had been underdone, you could easily have done it more."

"Certainly, your reverence," "Then," said the dean, "let this be a lesson to you. If you commit a fault always take care that it is a fault which will admit of a remedy."

The Duration of a Dream.

One evening Victor Hugo was dictating letters to his secretary. Overcome by fatigue, the great man dropped into a slumber. A few moments afterward he awoke, haunted by a dream which, as he thought, had extended over several hours, and he blamed his secretary for sitting there waiting for him instead of awakening him or else going away. What was his surprise when the bewildered secretary told him that he had only just finished writing the last sentence dictated to him.

Goodness.

Whatever mitigates the woes or increases the happiness of others is a just criterion of goodness, and whatever injures society at large or any individual in it is a criterion of iniquity. One should not quarrel with a dog without a reason sufficient to vindicate one through all the courts of morality.—Goldsmit.

Good Proof.

"Guess I must have been born unlucky."

"What makes you say that?"

"Well, for instance, I went to a ball game once. There were eighteen players on the diamond, fifteen or twenty on the benches, 10,000 people in the grand stand, 20,000 on the bleachers, and—the ball hit me!"—Toledo Blade.

A Proof.

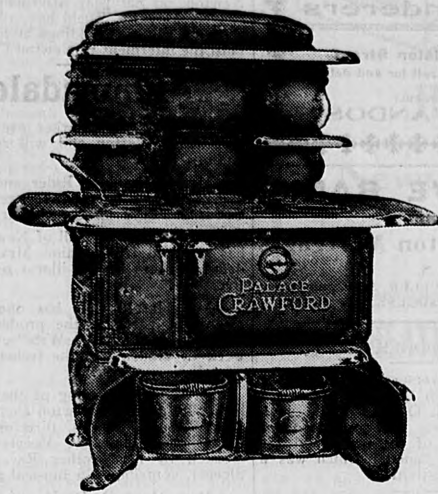

"That girl is trying to make a fool of me."

"Oh, no! She never tries anything ready made."—Baltimore American.

A Woman's Mind.

Silliness—A woman never seems able to make up her mind. Cynics—Why should she? She would only change it again.—Philadelphia Record.

Who bravely dares must sometimes risk a fall.—Smollett.

If All Housekeepers Knew the Advantages of theCrawford Ranges*few others would be soldIn the saving of time, trouble and labor and in superior cooking ability, no other range can compare with them.

The Single Damper (patented) is the only perfect fire and oven control; one motion—slide the knob to "kindle," "bake" or "check," and the range does the rest.

The Two Hods in the base (patented) is a wonderful trouble-saving feature. One Hod for ashes, instead of the old, clumsy ash pan; the other Hod for coal.

The Oven with its cup-joint flues is heated all over alike; no "cold corners," no "scorching spots."

The Patented Grates save trouble and money.

Origin of Plum Duff.

This is the origin of plum duff, according to the captain of an Atlantic liner:

"One Christmas day, hundreds of years ago at sea, a ship in a storm was swept by a conker that carried off her cook, her crate of chickens, her turkeys—in a word, the whole raw material of her Christmas dinner.

"But the sailors were determined to have at least some sort of Christmas pudding. They knew nothing about cooking, and they drew lots for their new cook. The lot fell to the boat-swall's mate.

"This chap fished up a cookbook from the bottom of his sea chest. He ran over the pudding recipes and chose one that began:

"Make a stiff dough."

"He made a pudding after this recipe. It was stuffed with Malaga raisins and covered with a rich sauce. The men were delighted.

"Put a name to it," they said. "Put a name to it."

"And the boat-swall's mate, knowing that 'o-n-g-h' was pronounced 'rough' and thinking 'd-o-n-g-h' followed the same rule, answered readily:

"It's called duff, mates."

Battled the Sacristan.

A matter of fact sacristan of the Cathedral of Berlin once wrote the king of Prussia this brief note:

Sire—I acquaint your majesty, first, that there are wanting books of psalms for the royal family. I acquaint your majesty, second, that there wants wood to warm the royal seats. I acquaint your majesty, third, that the balustrade next the river, behind the church, is become ruinous.

SCHMIDT.

The reply of the king was not that of a "gracious majesty." Its stiff formality in imitating the style of the sacristan probably was not taken by the receiver as complimentary to him:

I acquaint you, Herr Sacrist Schmidt, first, that those who want to sing may buy books. Second, I acquaint Herr Sacrist Schmidt that those who want to be warm must buy wood. Third, I acquaint Herr Sacrist Schmidt that I shall not trust any longer to the balustrade next the river. And I acquaint Herr Sacrist Schmidt, fourth, that I will not have any more correspondence with him.

FREDERICK.

The shillalah is no raw limb of a tree. It is almost as much a work of art as a well balanced cricket bat. The old shillalahs were as carefully looked after by their loving owners as is a rifle in the wilds. Cut from the sturdiest of young blackthorns and showing as little taper as an ebony ruler, it was weighed with lead or iron at the end nearest the grip so that its center of gravity was about four-fifths of the way from the hitting end. When properly seasoned by being kept in the neighborhood of the farm oven for a few months it became a thing of supple steel. And the proper pronunciation of the name of this fearsome weapon is the melodious one of "shill-ally," with the accent on the "all."—London Chronicle.

Her Queer Question.

The rector of a country parish in England having sent blankets, gowns, coats and some of the good things usual at Christmas to an old parishioner a lady expatiated warmly to him on the reverend gentleman's kindness.

"Don't you think," she asked the old villager, "that it is very good of the rector to look after you like this and send you all these nice things?"

"Good of him!" exclaimed the old man in blank amazement. "Why, what's he for?"—Pearson's Weekly.

A Slip at Whistler.

A young San Franciscan, the owner of a large and valuable collection of autographs, once wrote to James McNeill Whistler, politely requesting his signature. The letter was sent in care of the London Royal academy, with which the famous American painter was at outs. After four months the letter was returned to the San Francisco address from the dead letter office in Washington. Covering the envelope was the word, repeated numberless times, "Unknown."

Boston Could Stand It.

Ralph Waldo Emerson once made a crushing reply to a man who asked him whether the people in Boston did not feel alarmed. Said Emerson, "What about?" Said the man, "Why, the world is coming to an end next Monday." Emerson replied: "I'm glad of it. We can get along a great deal better without it."

Pleasant.

The Host's Youngest—Don't your shoes feel very uncomfortable when you walk, Mrs. Nuryche? Mrs. Nuryche—Dear me! What an extraordinary question! Why do you ask, child? The Host's Youngest—Oh, only cos pa said the other day since you'd come into your money you'd got far too big for your boots.

Good Reason.

"I wouldn't be in Brown's shoes just now."

"Why not?"

"He left them in the cellar, and they dumped four tons of coal on them before Brown was up."

A Long Swallow.

"And you give the giraffe only one lump of sugar?" asked the little boy at the zoo.

"Oh, yes!" replied the keeper. "One lump goes a long way with him."—Yonkers Statesman.

"I have been spending the week training a waitress."

"What for?"

"For the family she is now working for."—Life.

THE POPS.

Spring in Boston without the pop concerts would seem to be hardly natural. For twenty-five years these concerts, first in the Old Music Hall and for the last ten years in Symphony Hall, have occupied a most important place in the amusements of Boston during the months of May and June. They are in a sense unique because no other city in the United States has succeeded in maintaining such a series of concerts for so many years. Only less well known than the Boston Symphony Orchestra itself are the famous pop concerts which it gives after the close of its regular season.

concerts will open in Symphony hall, corner of Huntington and Massachusetts avenues, on next Monday evening, May 1st, and will continue for nine weeks, concerts being given every evening except Sundays. The conductor of the first half of the season will be Gustav Strube. The last half of the season will be in charge of Mr. Andre Maquarre, whose third season it will be as conductor. As heretofore, there will be a grand orchestra of fifty-five musicians from the ranks of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. The programs will include not merely the more tuneful of the lighter works of the classics but all the popular operettas and comic operas will be represented. The work of making these programs has got down almost to a science and conductors know to a nicety how to balance things so as to maintain the interest of the audience.

The programs will include not merely the more tuneful of the lighter works of the classics but all the popular operettas and comic operas will be represented. The work of making these programs has got down almost to a science and conductors know to a nicety how to balance things so as to maintain the interest of the audience.

concerns will open in Symphony hall, corner of Huntington and Massachusetts avenues, on next Monday evening, May 1st, and will continue for nine weeks, concerts being given every evening except Sundays. The conductor of the first half of the season will be Gustav Strube. The last half of the season will be in charge of Mr. Andre Maquarre, whose third season it will be as conductor. As heretofore, there will be a grand orchestra of fifty-five musicians from the ranks of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. There is much to be said on both sides of the question of raising the assessment for laying street dust from two to three cents for each front foot of land. This assessment had its origin in the old custom of citizens making voluntary contributions towards watering the streets in front of their residences during the summer months.
Later the state authorized the city to do this work and to levy an assessment against the property so benefitted.
This assessment of 1-1-2 cents per foot was subsequently increased to two cents when the eight hour law went into effect.

The present change from water to oil as a dust layer has brought about a much better condition, as the watering was always unsatisfactory, being either muddy or dusty, and was uneconomical as it drew heavily on our water supply at the time when it needed to be conserved. The oil and tar preparations are more expensive, and that is the principal reason for increasing the rate to three cents. The tax bears heavily on owners of vacant land and those who have long front-ages, and with a large portion of our people who have summer homes in the country or shore, it is of but little benefit. On the other hand it only applies to about three-sevenths of our streets, and is usually a small item on the tax bill. In only one respect does it seem unfair and that is where the street department practically does a dust-laying job on streets not liable for assessments and thereby give certain abutters the same benefit without price. The dust laying problem is most vexatious and our city fathers will have their troubles before them when the bills are presented for payment.

Alderman Gray gave some pertinent facts concerning the liquor traffic in this city at the last aldermanic meeting and his figures are worthy of study. In one way it goes to show that a large majority of our citizens are rank hypocrites when it comes to voting on the license question each fall, and that it would be a different story if Newton was a greater distance from Boston. The solution suggested by the committee of the appointment of a special liquor officer is worth a trial and the results will be awaited with interest.

In the death of former Public Buildings Commissioner George H. Elder, the city loses an official who for 17 years rendered faithful and consistent service, during a period in which hundreds of thousands of dollars were expended under his direction for a modern equipment of school buildings. Brusque in manner and direct in speech he was not a popular official, but his personal mannerisms were but a cover to a warm heart, and he was a faithful and loyal friend to his intimate acquaintances.

RECEPTION.

The Ladies Aid Society tendered a reception last Wednesday evening, April 26th, to Rev. Dr. Butters and family. It was largely attended by members of the church and congregation who were present to welcome him back for another year as their pastor.

In the receiving line were Dr. Butters and family, Mrs. E. A. Hubbard, president of the Ladies Aid, Mrs. Webster, vice president, Mrs. Putnam, secretary and Mrs. Bliss, treasurer.

Mr. Frederick D. Fuller gave the address of welcome. Mrs. Dorothy Sprague the organist furnished the musical part of the program.

The vestry was prettily decorated with cut flowers and potted plants.

Following the reception light refreshments were served. Mrs. V. B. Sweet and Miss Winona Webster poured. Under the careful management of Mr.
Vernon B. Sweet the affair was a brilliant success.

Spider Racing.

Lord Devon's property was greatly improved by the twelfth earl, who squandered nearly all his fortune and terribly embarrassed the entailed property. He was addicted to a most peculiar form of gambling, namely, spider racing, which he played with the last Marquis of Hastings and the eighth Duke of Bedford. Each player selected a spider, which was placed on the table, and then the latter was gently beaten from underneath. The warmth caused the insects to run, and the spider which got to the edge first won. But spiders are curious creatures, and it would frequently happen that a spider which was near the edge and looked like winning would suddenly back, traverse the table in all directions and lose its backer the thousands of pounds so nearly won. Lord Devon, Lord Hastings and the Duke of Bedford each of them squandered enormous sums on this game, which contributed in no small degree to the ruin of the two former.—New York Tribune.

Inn Names in Germany.

Germany probably holds the record for out of the way signs and fantastic inn names. The most absurd results are usually obtained by the name of some animal with a more or less unsuitable object. The Comfortable Chicken and the Cold Frog, both of them in Berlin, are certainly left in the shade by the Angry Ant (Ant in Westphalia) and the Stiff Dog (Berlin).
The Lame Louse is an inn in a suburb of Berlin, and not far from it is the Thirsty Pelican, the Dirty Parlor, the Bloody Bones, the Musical Cats, the Fourhundredweight Man, and the Boxers' Den are all in Berlin or the neighborhood, and the Old Straw Bag in Leipzig. The Open Banquet is in Stuttgart, in the Palatinate, and the Shoulder Blade in Jerichow. The Last Tear is a landlord's notion for the name of his inn, situated near a graveyard, visited by returning mourners, and is of frequent occurrence throughout the fatherland.

A Strange Colony.

The Colonia Cosme, on the Paraguay above Asuncion, is one of the most curious in the world. The members of the colony make or grow everything they want and import nothing. The workmen have seven hours' work a day and earn, not money, but time.
Their wages are hours and half hours.
These they sometimes save up till they have a week in hand and then go off on an excursion. If a man wants a chair or table he pays for it in hours of work, which are deducted from the balance to his credit. Three men went off up the river in a canoe for a three weeks' holiday. They sold their canoe at Asuncion for a pound and came home overland in ten days, lodged in the best houses in the villages on the way and yet had some money in hand at the end.—London Spectator.

Dogs in Ecclesiastical Decorations.

The stained glass representation of the "Peddler and His Dog" was removed from Lambeth church a quarter of a century ago owing to the alleged incongruity of introducing the figure of a dog in a church window. Quite recently Chancellor Prescott of Carlisle refused a faculty for a stained glass window in a Westmorland church because the design included a dog, and perhaps the only existing examples of dogs used for ecclesiastical decorations are to be found in Lord Brownlow's private chapel at Ashridge. In this church one stained glass window depicts Tobias and Sam in bed and a dog sleeping on the quilt, while in another window Job is shown being mocked by three men, one of whom is holding a dog by a chain.—Westminster Gazette.

The Giant's Staircase.

One of the most widely known geological curiosities in the vicinity of Cork is a series of knobs or knots projecting from the face of a cliff. There are sixteen of these huge projections all together, all regularly set in the face of the cliff, one above the other,
forming a series of steps uniformly as to give it the general appearance of a stairway. Since time out of memory this queer ascent and its projecting "steps" have been known as the Giant's Staircase.

How He Won.

A rich old man was asked how he made his money. "Simplest thing in the world," he said. "I always did the reverse of what everybody else was doing. If everybody bought, I sold—prices were high. If everybody sold,
I bought—prices were low."

Husband—Goodby, my dear. A pleasant voyage. I have taken every precaution in case of accident. Wife—

Her Dear Friend.

"I have declined marriage proposals from five men," said the fair widow.
"Have you?" her friend asked. "I didn't suppose your husband had been as heavily insured as that."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Jiffy.

"Tommy (who has been told to go to bed)—P'n, how long is 'a jiffy'?"
Father—It's just about the length of time you've got to go to bed without a kicking.—Boston Transcript.

The Last Dance.

He—May I ask you for a dance?
She—Certainly, the last one on the list.
He—But I'll not be here then.
She—Neither will I.

Edited by Miss Grace M. Burt.

This has been a week of annual meetings. Those clubs which have not already held them will do so within another ten days, and this will practically end the club season of 1910-1911. It is strange that many members do not seem to care for these business meetings and frequently it is heard said, "Oh, we never get a large number out for our annual meeting." More and more the clubs are combining the business with a social occasion, and this has been found to work very well and makes a pleasant finishing off of the season.
But why members, who are really interested in the club to which they belong, do not care to know what has been accomplished during the year and see it in its entirety, is a fact which has greatly puzzled the Club Editor. To be conversant with what the clubs of the city are doing, no club officer can afford not to attend
the annual meeting of the Newton Federation for at that time, not only the work of the Federation for the year is summed up in the reports of the officers and committees, but also each club makes its own report, thus giving opportunity for comparing notes. It must be an especially valuable meeting for the newly elected presidents. A recent article upon women's clubs charged them with not being business-like and employing methods somewhat questionable in securing their money for philanthropic work. Come to that annual meeting and see if this is true. The Club Editor maintains that on the whole it is not.

Work for the Pageant is going merrily on. As the scenes have been arranged they will give an authentic portrayal of the history of Newton in such an attractive manner that they will be well worth while seeing, and especially for the young people. Keep in mind the dates, June 10, June 12, and June 13.

The annual meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs will be held at the Central Congregational church, Newtonville, on Tuesday, May 2, at 10 a. m. Reports of officers and chairmen of committees, election of officers and the business of the annual meeting will occupy the morning. Luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock. Tickets must be secured from club presidents, or from Mrs. Luther Woodward, 139 Mt. Vernon street, Newtonville, chairman, on or before April 29th. Following the luncheon
there will be a toast.

The afternoon session will begin at 2.30. Judge Kennedy will speak upon the need of a probation officer and of a detention home in Newton, where women and children brought before the Police court can be held, rather than turning them over to Boston societies.

Mr. C. C. Arstens of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children, will speak upon need of organizations for the carrying on of social and philanthropic work.

Information concerning the Pageant will be given and the five portraits prepared by the art department of the high schools will be exhibited and the successful competitor announced.

Complete announcements concerning the annual meeting of the State Federation to be held at New Bedford May 24, 25 and 26, have now been sent out. Besides the usual reports it is expected that Mrs. Philip N.
Moore, president of the General Federation, will be present as guest of honor and Miss Alice Lakey of the National Consumers' League, will make an address. There will also be attractive social and musical features.
For hotel accommodations apply to Mrs. Thomas H. Fairchild, 53 Fifth street, New Bedford. Luncheon will be served at fifty cents, both on Thursday and on Friday. Tickets for which can be secured from Mrs.
Horace K. Nye, 84 Green street, New Bedford, in the usual way. Special rates are offered on the railroad.

On Monday afternoon, May 1st,
the Newton Mothers' club will hold its annual meeting with Mrs. C. S.
Cook of Valentine street, West Newton.

The Newton Highlands C. L. S. C., will meet with Miss Ella M. Bacon of Forest street, on May 1st, at three o'clock.

A social meeting of the Social Science club will be held next Wednesday afternoon, May 3d, from 3.30 to 5.30, at the home of Mrs. W. R.
Dewey, of Franklin street.

The next meeting of the Ladies'
Home Circle will be held at G. A. R.
hall, Newtonville, on Thursday, May 4, at 2 p. m. The home talent entertainments have proved conclusively that the members offer much pleasure on what will be held with Mrs.
William H. Brown, Islington Road,
Auburndale, on May 10th, at 2 p. m.

INDUSTRIAL CONDITIONS CON-FERENCE.

By invitation of the Worcester Woman's club, the Committee on Industrial and Social Conditions will hold an all-day conference at the Woman's club building, Salisbury and Tuckerman streets, Worcester, on Friday,
May 5, opening at eleven o'clock.

An interesting program with speakers has been arranged, and ample time will be allowed for discussion.
Box luncheon. All club members cordially invited to attend.

Over one hundred members of the Newton Centre Woman's club sat down to luncheon at the Newton club last week, Thursday afternoon, on the occasion of the annual meeting. The tables were artistically decorated with spring flowers and seldom are more attractive ones seen. A ladies' orchestra provided music during the luncheon. Following the luncheon came the business of the annual meeting. In addition to the regular reports of officers and committees, Mrs.
W. E. Shedd gave an admirable account of the work of the Social Service and Playground Association.

Mrs. H. B. Taylor aroused much enthusiasm among the members in the Pageant of Newton, which is to be given in June, by her description of the plans as formulated by the committee in charge. Mrs. H. H. Kendall, the retiring president, gave a most graceful welcome to the incoming president, Mrs. W. E. Shedd, to which Mrs. Shedd responded appropriately.
These are the officers for next year:
President, Mrs. W. E. Shedd; vice-presidents, Mrs. N. A. Hallett, Mrs.
Matt B. Jones; recording secretary, Mrs. George C. Ewing; corresponding secretary, Miss Helen Fellows; treasurer, Mrs. C. L. Smith; auditor, Mrs.
B. P. Gray.

Miss Martha A. S. Shannon, who lectured before the Waban Woman's club on Monday afternoon, April 24th, at the home of Mrs. McCall of Windsor Road, took for her subject, "Artists in Thread, Lace, Ancient and Modern."

Miss Shannon introduced the subject by saying, "The function of art is not essentially to minister, but to produce delight and pleasure." Lace was commercially developed in the early 17th century and was derived from netting and embroidery. It became shortly the principal industry of the convents. Continuing, Miss Shannon described all lace as having two distinct parts, the ground and its em-bellishments. Venice is proudly the home of needle point, and Flanders
the home of the bobbin lace. In mentioning the lace of Brussels, it was interesting to note that in process of construction
the lace passes through many hands,
one group of women make the ground work, another the sprays and still another the border.

In closing, we were reminded of what Ruskin once said, "The value of owning lace consists in the value we personally put on it, and the sense
we have not to wear it upon all occasions."

At the annual meeting on May 8th, which will be the closing meeting of the season, Mrs. Andrews, club president, will be the hostess.

On the afternoon of April 24th the Newton Highlands Monday club closed its season with the annual business meeting at the home of Mrs.
Eagles at Newton Centre. The club has departed somewhat this year from its usual custom of papers by members, and has had more speakers from outside. This feature as a change has been enjoyed. A gift was made to the North Bennett Street Industrial school in Boston and through the instrumentality of the club a piano was secured for the Newton Home, in which the club has had a peculiar interest. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs.
Charles T. Bartlett; vice-presidents,
Mrs. Charlton D. Miller, Mrs. Heber
Durgin; recording secretary, Mrs. C.
S. Luitweiler; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Florence L. B. Robbins;
treasurer, Mrs. F. A. MacCallum; rectors for two years, Mrs. Griswold and Mrs. Turnbull.

At the meeting of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C., which was held with Mrs. Rogers of Auburndale, on Monday afternoon, Dr. Caroline Wentworth was in charge of the program. The subject for the afternoon was "America in the Light of Foreign Criticism; Outlook for the future." Selections were read from Bryce's "American Commonwealth," and from E. G. Wells' writings.

The Social Science club completed its twenty-fifth year with the annual meeting on Wednesday morning. The reports of the various committees showed much good work accomplished along different lines. The Stamp Savings committee reported that the children have deposited $237.57. More than four hundred dollars has been raised by subscription for philanthropic work and the club has given during the year, $275 to the Nonantum Day Nursery Association, $100 to the Newton Hospital, $25 for the tuberculosis work of the Newton Federation, $35 for the School Garden and $70 for the annual Hampton Scholarship. The committee carrying on the school garden this year has raised about $150, including the gift of the club and will need in all some $225 to meet the expenses. The treasurer stated that in the twenty-five years all money raised by the club through membership fees, gifts and entertainments, amounted to over $19,000.

The following named officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Miss Grace Weston; vice-presidents, Mrs. H. H. Powers, Mrs. Walcott Collins, Mrs. F. H. Tucker, Mrs.
F. E. Stanley, Mrs. J. L. Colby, Mrs.
Everett E. Kent; recording secretary,
Mrs. L. S. Drake; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. F. Bothfield; treasurer, Mrs. H. C. Hobart; auditor, Mrs. J. W.
McIntyre; directors, Mrs. J. W. Mc-Intyre; chairman, Mrs. George Ander, Mrs. Vernon B. Sweet, Mrs. H. I.
Harriman, Mrs. W. F. Garcelon.

CONCERT AND DANCE.

Palestine Chapter, Order Eastern Star held an enjoyable concert and dance last evening in Temple hall with a large attendance. "The Bachelor's Revue" was given for the first part of the evening with a local cast, and this was followed with light refreshment and music by Atwood's orchestra. Dancing followed until 11.30. The affair was under the management of a committee of which Mrs. Lawrence A. Sprague was chairman.

The Price Consideration

Some people have the impression that they cannot afford to make purchases at this store, which is nearly always a mistaken idea. MACULLAR PARKER COMPANY make a forty-dollar ready-to-wear suit. But they make a twenty-five dollar suit as well, which has just as careful attention in the making as the higher-priced one, and is, by all odds, a suit impossible to duplicate anywhere else for twenty-five dollars.

From an economical standpoint, and taking into consideration the various points of style, materials, workmanship and fit, the various departments of this house offer a line of goods of such superior quality and worth, that the buying of them is extremely profitable.

Public Auction

To settle an estate situated at 18 Hovey St., Newton, the substantial 12-room house and stable, together with 9,132 sq. ft. land. Also the Household Furniture.

THURSDAY, MAY 4, 1911

Sale of Furniture at 1 o'clock P. M.
Sale of Estate at 3.30 P. M.

Mr. W. L. Wedger of Madison Avenue is now connected with the Newton Garage and Automobile Co., 4 Brook St., Newton.

This company is engaged in the erection of Sheet Steel Garages for private suburban use. The sheet steel is stamped in imitation of shingles, clapboards, brick, stone and cement work and can hardly be distinguished from the above at a short distance.

This class of construction is approved by the Fire Inspection Dept. of the Mass. Dist. Police as a slow burning inexpensive garage for one of two automobiles. The company have several contracts ahead now.

This house was built on honor, and is now in first class condition in every respect, having mortised frame with heavy timbers, excellent foundation, granolithic walks, combination hot water and hot air heating apparatus, first-class, several new hardwood floors, open fire-places, set bowls with hot and cold water in all chambers; 4 rooms on the first floor with good laundry besides, 5 rooms on the second floor and bath room, 3 good chambers on the third floor and store-room.

Stable with two stalls and fine carriage room and loft, would make excellent private garage, or for investment would make an attractive cottage.

Land with the estate are over 9000 square feet of land with fine lawn, trees and shrubs, granolithic strip around the house to prevent water in the cellar.

Furnishings: consists of parlor, dining room, kitchen and chamber furniture.

For a desirable house or unexcelled investment this opportunity to buy is an unusual one. Is situated within five minutes of a 5c fare to Boston.

Electricity (several lines) and two minutes to the Newton station (excellent service). At a small outlay this house could be arranged for two families and demand a good rental.

Terms: $200 at time and place of sale; furniture, cash at sale; goods removed following morning. For further particulars

TAKING CARE OF CUSTOMERS

This bank always takes care of its customers in the way of loan accommodation when their wants are entirely consistent with safe banking.

That is one of the chief advantages of maintaining a regular bank account—you are then always in a position to get the help of the bank when you need it.

You may never need this kind of assistance, but when you keep a bank account you have the use of all the facilities of the institution, the benefit of the advice and suggestions of the officers of the bank, and then if you do need loan accommodation it is yours for the asking.

The Bird Table.

In the old countries of Europe the bird table may still be seen in the rural districts. A bird table is made by driving a short stake into the ground and firmly nailing a shallow wooden box on top of it. The box generally measures two by three feet and has a number of holes in the bottom to drain it of rain or snow water. It is always high enough to be beyond reach of any cat that might try to leap to it from the ground. Care also is taken to select a spot far enough from fences, trees or buildings to prevent cats from pouncing down on it when the birds are feeding. Into the bird table go scraps from the house table and kitchen, pieces of stale bread and cake, strips of fat meat, potato parings, carrot ends, bits of any kind of table greens, apple skins and cores and cabbage leaves. All kinds of non-migratory birds come to feed at the bird table, and many a song bird has been saved by it from starvation when a deep snow has covered the ground and seed grasses. An English naturalist counted twenty-seven species of birds at the bird table in his garden in a single morning after a heavy fall of snow.

Cellini's Quick Cure.

Benevento Cellini when about to cast his famous statue of Perseus, now in the Loggia dei Lanzi at Florence, was taken with a sudden fever. In the midst of his suffering one of his workmen rushed into his sick chamber and exclaimed: "Oh, Benevento! Your statue is spoiled, and there is no hope whatever of saving it!" Cellini said that when he heard this he gave a howl and leaped from his bed. Dressing hastily, he rushed to his furnace and found his metal "cooked." He ordered dry oak wood and fired the furnace fiercely, working in a pain that was falling, stirred the channels and saved his metal. He continues the story thus: "After all was over I turned to a place of sand on a beach there and ate with a hearty appetite and drank together with my bed, healthy and happy. For it was two hours before morning, and slept as sweetly as if I had never felt a touch of illness."

Fantastic Headgear.

The fantastic headgear of Korea is not only picturesque; it marks the social position of the wearer. The national popular hat is high in form, has a tube of half the caliber of ours and is slightly conical, built in color, supported by wide brims. The material is of horsehair, very finely woven. When the Korean gentleman's hat is of straw color it denotes that he is a happy fiancé. Le chapeau de riz, elegant in its conical form with angular brim, denotes a bonza. Another hat of enormous size is that of the Ping Yang sect, who must hide their faces. It descends at the back almost to the shoulders, the brim being festooned. And if the proprietor is of superstitious turn he adds some black figures to ward off evil spirits. Married men after a certain age add stories to their hats.

An Apology to Amanda.

This is to apologize to a colored lady whom we admire and respect. We printed a little anecdote about her not long ago, and in it we tried the impossible—attempted to imitate her inimitable Mississippi accent. Then we showed her the story. She wasn't as tickled to find herself in print as we expected her to be. While acknowledging the truth of the story, there was still a cloud on her ebony brow.

"What's the matter, Amanda?" we asked. "Didn't you want to get into the paper?"

"Gittin' inter de papeh's all right," she hesitated. "But, mist', y'll didn't ought to put it down dat Ah talked dat away. Ah dun' never use none o' dat African talk!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Hogarth Used to Forget.

William Hogarth, the famous English artist, was so absentminded he caused his friends much entertainment. When he was prosperous enough to have his own carriage he first used it to make a call upon the lord mayor. When he came out of the Mansion House it was raining hard, and the artist trumped the entire way home, wet to the skin. When asked why he had not come in the carriage he said he forgot all about it, and a messenger had to be dispatched to the coachman to tell him to return.

Why He Stopped.

He had kissed her fully forty times that evening. When he stopped the tears came into her eyes, and she said: "Dearest, you have ceased to love me."

"No, I haven't," he replied, "but I must breathe."—Ladies' Home Journal.

Cunning.

Cunning signifies especially a habit or gift of overreaching, accompanied with enjoyment and a sense of superiority. It is associated with small and dull conceit and with an absolute want of sympathy or affection. It is the intensest rendering of vulgarity, absolute and utter.—Ruskin.

Equal to the Cat.

Semple-Johnson has trained his cat to climb a brick wall. Nistor—Oh, that's no stunt! I've trained my ivy to do that.—Detroit News.

Dreary Waiting.

The chap who lives on the strength of what he used to be has to wait a long time for the second table.—Chicago Journal.

All skill ought to be exerted for universal good.—Johnson.

Shoe Aristocracy Banished

The "Goodyear Welt" System of shoemaking machines—sixty of them—which reproduce the handicraft of the old-time shoemaker—has banished shoe aristocracy from the land—driven it out forever.

They have leveled to a common plane the footwear of an entire nation. These marvelous machines—intricate and sensitive—utilize the intelligence of skilled operators in the production of shoes that are durable and comfortable as if hand-sewed, but at only one-third the cost.

The foremost shoe manufacturers of the world employ this method in their plants.

shoes for men, women, boys, girls and children are made of solid leather—they must be—for only substantial leather can be worked on these fast operating machines. Five hundred lock-stitches a minute are inserted, close, rapid and strong. Obviously cheap leather or inferior leather cannot withstand the speed of such swift flying needles. Thus "Goodyear Welt" is always a guarantee of solid, real leather. It is your insurance of wearing quality. Even the War Department recognizes this feature when it specifies the rapid Goodyear stitching as its standard in shoe contracts for the soldiers.

The feet of the Army are clad in Goodyear Welts. Shoes made by this method can withstand the severest marches. And they afford the greatest comfort. For these wonderful machines stitch the welt inner-sole and upper together in a seam that doesn't penetrate the inside of the shoe. Even the heavy outsole is lock-stitched to this welt with the seam entirely around the outer edge. The shoe is left smooth inside. Comfort is assured the soldier on his longest march.

Get this comfort for yourself. Just send us your name and address. Do it today. It brings you a list of all five hundred different names of Goodyear Welts, the shoes that are real leather and smooth inside. Some are sure to be sold right in your town. Get this list before you buy another pair of shoes. Two booklets will also be sent you free, one graphically describing the sixty machines, the other—"The Secret of The Shoe."

STORIES OF THE WAR AS TOLD BY MEMBERS OF CHAS. WARD POST

In the United States are more than 7,000 Grand Army of the Republic posts, with a membership of nearly 400,000 comrades made up entirely of those who, as soldiers and sailors, responded to President Lincoln's call, offered their lives that this nation might live. Half a century has passed away since the beginning of that terrible Civil War which lasted four long years, and the time is opportune for backward glances over some of the mighty happenings of a fratricidal struggle that ended at Appomattox. Recognizing this fact, the members of our own Charles Ward Post No. 62 are giving a series of war talks in which their own personal reminiscences and experiences are related, too briefly perhaps, yet graphically, and with the sign mark of truthfulness in every important detail. It is the intention of the post to continue these war talks for an entire year, if not longer, and it is believed that this is the first systematized series of such reminiscences to be inaugurated in this country. The Graphic will print the leading features of these camp fire experiences from time to time commencing the series with our present issue.

On the whole the first year of the great conflict between the North and the South was about as dark for the Union as it could have been. Nor was the second year much better so far as our fortune in battles went with but few exceptions. The Federal armies did not seem to be able to gain victories, but the fault lay with incompetent leaders, not with the men themselves. The great need was one commanding spirit who could organize into effective unity the entire forces of the Union arms. The man was being made ready, although the country did not know it, nor did the man himself suspect or dream that he was the one chosen by God, or destiny, to the supreme purpose.

On the 16th of February, 1862, the entire country was astounded by a most remarkable communication made by the commanding officer of a Union force to the commander of a Confederate stronghold, such as had not been heard of before since the beginning of the war. That day a brigadier general almost wholly unknown outside the narrow region of his command in the middle west, where the waters of the rivers Cumberland, Tennessee, Ohio, and Mississippi come together, wrote to the Confederate general confronting him, "No terms except unconditional surrender can be accepted." That morning of a little more than 49 years ago a great victory was gained by U. S. Grant, at Fort Donelson, supposed to be an impregnable position on the Cumberland river, and in the severe battle the Union loss was—killed, 500; wounded, 2,108; missing, 224; to the Confederates a total loss of 20,000 killed and wounded and over 14,000 men, 40 or 50 cannon, 3,000 horses and nearly 20,000 stand of small arms captured by Gen. Grant. Precisely three years, one month and 21 days later another unconditional surrender was made to that determined soldier. Around the ceiling of the beautiful hall of Charles Ward Post at Newtonville are painted the names of ten or a dozen great battles of the war, and among these may be seen that of Donelson. And a past post commander, comrade William T. Shepherd, who faithfully and bravely served his government and flag as a private in Company D, 1st Illinois artillery, better known perhaps as the Chicago Board of Trade battery, played his gallant part in that famous engagement.

Speaking on the general subject, "From clerk in a small store to commanding-in-chief of mighty armies," Comrade Shepherd held his comrades enthralled with some few of his own experiences at the battle of Fort Donelson. He told of how the small army he was with marched from Fort Henry, after its surrender, or evacuation, on the Tennessee river to Donelson, a distance of 12 or 14 miles, over a rough and dangerous country, on the 12th of February, of the arrival of the Union force and the sharp shooting on both sides all around the lines; of the artillery dueling, and of how his own cannon was partially disabled, while solid hot and bursting shells were frequently coming within arms length of the battery boys, on the 13th of that month, and at 3 p. m. he said, an attempt was made by the enemy to capture his battery, but were stubbornly and successfully resisted. Then he spoke of the assault made by the 11th Illinois regiment, the 48th, under Col. I. N. Haynie, and the 49th, under Col. Billy Morrison, on the outer works of the grim fort, protected by the Board of Trade battery and other guns, but were repulsed. Then toward dusk a certain Johnny Reel sharp-shooter "chalked off" the speaker, but failed to hit that gallant young soldier. And he spoke of how that night the army, groined in drizzling sleet and snow, lying in mud and water without shelter of any kind. Next he referred briefly to their anxiously waiting to hear the guns of Fort's flotilla, and of their also waiting for reinforcements from Fort Henry and the lower river; then the gun-boats arrived and about half past two in the afternoon the attack was heard, while continuous firing by his own and other batteries on the hills increased the sound of the bombardment. On the morning of the 15th a lot of early light from the rebel batteries hustled Shepherd and his comrades out from under a cover of snow and slush at daylight, and about 8 o'clock a sortie on the right, to open a way to escape, was made by the rebel garrison, but though the Union forces were obliged to fall back half a mile or so the fight was so stubborn that the enemy could no longer hope to retreat or escape. At noon reinforcements arrived under Wallace, and with cannonier the Union batteries commenced to drive the rebels back to their fortifications, but those three or four hours were lurid and hot, as the speaker expressed it, and he continued, "Battery in former position, we kept pounding away all the afternoon. A storming of the outer works on the left by Gen. Smith's division gained a commanding position making further advance possible in good time; and then Grant prepared for a combined and general assault on all sides. That night the Confederate generals, Floyd and Pillow, taking about 7,000 men, escaped from the fort on steamers. Disheartened by the desertion of these soldiers, Gen. Buckner sent a flag of truce out about 9 o'clock next morning, proposing an armistice, but he received in reply Grant's famous message. While these preliminaries were in process I found time to write to my dear parents, and here is the original letter. In it I said: "I write a few lines to relieve you of any anxiety you may have. We have had hard fighting for four days, and still we are outside the fort. This moment orders have come for us to take our old position in battery on the hill, so I close in haste."

The result has already been told, and as Comrade Shepherd said in his closing remarks, "the capture of Fort Donelson, deemed impregnable by the confederacy, broke the line of defence in the West, compelled the evacuation of Columbus (which we had failed to subdue at Belmont.) Bowling Green, Ky. then the rebel headquarters, compelled the surrender of Nashville, Tenn., the workshop and capital of the Southwest with the abandonment of Tennessee to the national authority, while transferring the seat of war operations from the Ohio and Missouri rivers to the gulf states, and forever set aside that arrogance of southern promises which years of assumption had made a conviction and which the battles of Bull Run and Balls Bluff had exaggerated immensely."

Grant's success at Fort Donelson was hailed throughout the North with extraordinary demonstrations of satisfaction and he was at once promoted to be a major general. At the end of March, 1862, he had his army of 30,000 men at Pittsburg Landing, with 45,000 Confederate soldiers under Johnston and Beauregard confronting him, and Buell rushing nearly 30,000 troops to his support. On the 6th of April the battle of Pittsburg Landing, or Shiloh, as it is also called, began, and as the rebel attack came as a complete surprise soon blood and confusion reigned with the Union side that Sunday morning. At sunset the Federals retained but one position among those held by them in the morning, but they would budge no further, and Grant was not whipped by any way of thinking. During that day's ordeal of suspense and suffering troops near by were rushing to Grant's assistance, and among these was the 40th Indiana Infantry, a regiment in which comrade James W. Bessley served honorably as a soldier, and here is how he told the rest of the 40th's forced march to Shiloh:

"Our objective point was Savannah, 12 or 14 miles distant when, about the middle of Sunday afternoon the 6th of April, we received orders to march, and that quickly, to Grant's help. Most of the hurried march lay through dense woods and underbrush covering a low river bottom. When night came on it was blackness itself, the darkest night I ever saw, with a continuous rain pouring down. There was no road to speak of, and we had to pick our way across the bushes and deep mud, consequently could make very little headway. We also had to ford two or three streams, one of these at least four feet deep, and did not reach Savannah until daylight. Soon after a steamboat came down from the battlefield with wounded soldiers; as soon as these were taken off and laid in rows in the mud on the bank of the river, we marched on board and the boat returned to Pittsburg Landing with us, ready for the field of action."

"Arrived there, we left the steamer as speedily as possible and marched across the river bottom, where numerous teamsters kept up the cheerful cry, 'You'll catch it when you get over the hill.' Now we were double-quickened to the front, passing over the battle ground of the day before, where the hardest fighting had taken place, and where Gen. Albert Sidney Johnson, the Confederate commander was killed. The ground was covered with the dead and dying; they were so thick, I ever saw on any battlefield. We could almost step from one body to another. It was a gruesome sight and showed us what terrific fighting had been going on thereabouts. As we neared the front we were formed in line of battle and ordered to charge the enemy. This we did, driving the Johnnies back some distance, where they made another stand, however. Here we remained the rest of the day, keeping up more or less firing. A cold rain kept falling which froze our clothing, and the only rest we could possibly secure was by lying down in the cold mud and water. Later on it began to sleet, thus adding still more to our discomforts. We had now been 36 hours without anything to eat except hard-tack and raw meat, and all the water we had to drink came from mud puddles. We supposed of course that we would be relieved in the evening and sent to the rear, but instead we were ordered to remain in the same position, on pitiful duty all the next morning. We were without overcoats, our clothes had been worn out since that sudden start, and we had had no coffee in all that time. There were some things to endure in war times that were pretty tough on all of us, but I don't remember that we ever faltered on that account. At daylight we were relieved and sent to the rear where we could build fires, and then we got our good old coffee."

"It was a terrible ordeal for raw soldiers to go through, although it is true the my regiment suffered very little in the way of killed and wounded on the fighting line. However inside of ten days three-fourths of ours were on the sick list, the result of that awful exposure. I had an attack of typhoid fever that kept me off duty for about three months and from which I have never fully recovered. I may state further that the first of Buell's reinforcements to arrive were commanded by an uncle of the oldest Gen. Jacob Ammen, a graduate of West Point, and later a professor there. Gen. Ammen told me a few days after the battle of Pittsburg Landing that he had had no fear of the ultimate result, as he knew the stuff Grant was made of, and that so long as he had a man left he would keep on fighting and never surrender. The success of that first day's fighting certainly belonged with the Confederates, but the Union troops were only checked, not check-mated. Then Grant developed his generalship, and the result was a substantial victory for the Union arms, and gave us control of the Mississippi river from Cairo, Ill., to Memphis. Another result was the development of William T. Sherman, who was second to none save Grant. The subject of the next article in the series is "Virginia's Battlefields."
